Marriage Sexuality and Gender examines contemporary debates about the meaning and value of marriage The book analyzes arguments for traditional marriage including those of neonaturalists utilitarians and communitarians or virtue theorists The volume also considers a range of feminist welfarist and liberationist arguments for ending the institution altogether It evaluates two major reform movements one focused on expanding marriage to include same sex couples and the other focused on the use of law to render marriage more internally just The book concludes with a plea to activists to redirect marriage equality movements toward the creation of an entirely secular civil union law that would respect a broader range of private life long commitments including but not limited to same and opposite sex couples without threatening the role of religious marriage in the lives of those who embrace it and without penalizing nonparticipants Crisis Intervention Ethics Casebook Rick A. Ellickson, 2022-10-18 This book examines local zoning policies and suggests reforms that states and the federal government might adopt to counter the negative effects of exclusionary zoning In this book Robert Ellickson asserts that local zoning policies are the most consequential regulatory program in the United States Many localities have created barriers to the development of less costly forms of housing Numerous economists have found that current zoning practices inflict major damage on the national economy Using Silicon Valley the Greater New Haven area and the northwestern portion of Greater Austin as case studies Ellickson shows in unprecedented detail how the zoning system works and recommends steps for its reform Zoning regulations Ellickson demonstrates are hard to dislodge once localities have enacted them He develops metrics to measure the existence and costs of exclusionary zoning and suggests reforms that states and the federal government could undertake to counter the detrimental effects of local policies These include the cartelization of housing markets and the aggravation of racial and class segregation
