Wallensteen: A Pioneer in Making Peace Researchable Peter Wallensteen, 2021-05-28 This book provides a broad overview of what peace research is all about by an author who has been involved in the field for more than half a century Among other things it gives a unique review of how peace research emerged in Sweden as the author was a key actor in the most crucial events during this formative period The book also portrays how the discipline has grown from an initial focus on alternatives to war to the comprehensive study of the many dimensions of a lasting and positive peace The author's own work covers causes of war sanctions conflict resolution conflict data mediation and quality peace They demonstrate the range of topics that have to be understood for a peace with quality This is exemplified by some of the author's writings specifically selected for this volume plus a few ones original to it Some accounts of the author's involvements in actual peace processes in the 1990s are also included This publication offers a substantial contribution to understanding the evolution of peace research as a field and is an important reading for scholars policy makers journalists students and any aspiring peace researcher as well as for the public at large Peter Wallensteen is a global pioneer of peace research due to his involvement in the creation of the Department of Peace and Conflict Research at Uppsala University a major center in the field He served as Head of Department from 1972 to 1999 Peter Wallensteen set up and directed the well known Uppsala Conflict Data Program UCDP the global resource for the study of armed conflicts and peace negotiations 1978 2015 Peter Wallensteen was the first holder of the Dag Hammarskjöld Chair in Peace and Conflict Research at Uppsala University 1985 2012 He was also the first holder of the position as the Richard G Starmann Sr Research Professor of Peace Studies at the Kroc Institute for

International Peace Studies University of Notre Dame USA 2006 2018 Legitimacy in Peacebuilding Franzisca Zanker, 2017-09-13 The book offers a critical analysis of legitimacy in peacebuilding with a focus on peace negotiations and civil society participation in particular The aim of this book is to unpack the meaning of legitimacy for the population in peacebuilding processes and the relationship this has with civil society involvement There is a growing consensus for addressing local concerns in peacebuilding with the aim of ensuring local ownership Moreover scholars have noted a relationship between civil society inclusion in peace negotiations and legitimacy Yet the very idea of legitimacy remains a black box Using data from original empirical fieldwork including over 100 semi structured interviews and 12 focus group discussions the book focuses on two case studies of negotiations that respectively ended a long civil war in Liberia in 2003 and ended the post election violence in Kenya in 2008 It argues that civil society involvement is conceptually insufficient to show a multidimensional understanding of legitimacy Instead the book shows a complex picture of legitimate peace negotiations based on outcome and participation based characteristics with the involvement of both guarantors of legitimacy and a more general civic agency which includes the general population Through forms of participative communication the passive audience become active stakeholders in the construction of legitimacy This has repercussions for how we think about civil society and peacebuilding more generally This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and IR in general The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology Christof Wolf, Dominique Joye, Tom W Smith, Yang-chih Fu, 2016-07-11 Survey Methodology is becoming a more structured field of research deserving of more and more academic attention The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology explores both the increasingly scientific endeavour of surveys and their growing complexity as different data collection modes and information sources are combined The handbook takes a global approach with a team of international experts looking at local and national specificities as well as problems of cross national comparative survey research The chapters are organized into seven major sections each of which represents a stage in the survey life cycle Surveys and Societies Planning a Survey Measurement Sampling Data Collection Preparing Data for Use Assessing and Improving Data Quality The SAGE Handbook of Survey Methodology is a landmark and essential tool for any scholar within the social sciences A Research Agenda for Peace and Tourism Anna Farmaki, 2024-01-18 This highly prescient Research Agenda critically examines the delicate intersection of peace and tourism and proposes further research in order to explore how tourism may contribute to peace or conversely hinder the peacebuilding efforts of destinations in conflict Chapters discuss tourism as a peace builder the acceptance of dark tourism a gender approach to peace through tourism and corporate social responsibility as a contributor to peace in conflict ridden situations Experiences in Researching Conflict and Violence Rivas, Althea-Maria, Browne, Brendan Ciarán, 2019-08-07 This international edited collection brings together personal accounts from researchers working in and on conflict and explores the roles of emotion violence uncertainty identity and positionality within the process of doing research as well as the complexity of methodological choices It highlights the researchers own subjectivity and presents a nuanced view of conflict research that goes beyond the messiness inherent in the process of research in and on violence It addresses the uncomfortable spaces of conflict research the potential for violence of research itself and the need for deeper reflection on these issues This powerful book opens up spaces for new conversations about the realities of conflict research These critical self reflections and honest accounts provide important insights for any scholar or practitioner working in similar environments

Fighting Over Peace Andrew G. Reiter, 2016-09-19 This book presents post peace agreement violence as a serious yet predictable and manageable political phenomenon Negotiating an end to a civil war is extremely difficult and many signed peace agreements subsequently unravel ushering in renewed conflict In response important international actors have become increasingly involved in conflict mediation peacekeeping and post conflict reconstruction around the globe Policymakers and scholars alike have identified spoilers violent actors who often rise up and attempt to challenge or derail the peace process as one of the greatest threats to peace Using a mixed method approach combining quantitative and qualitative analyses of a newly created global dataset of spoiling Reiter demonstrates that this type of violence occurs in predictable circumstances and only represents a threat to peace under specific conditions The book also shows that spoiling often serves to bring agreement flaws and implementation failures to light and in turn forces actors to recommit to an accord thereby strengthening peace in the long term

Finding Peace in Iraq: Joint Field Research on New Approaches to Peacebuilding in the Kurdistan Region Thomas Hill, Talia Hagerty, 2013 Scholars at the University of Duhok in the Kurdistan Region of Iraq have spent the past decade exploring peace and conflict studies and have established the field s only degree granting program in Iraq In 2012 2013 students and professors from the University of Duhok and New York University met to design and conduct peace research in the KRI Finding Peace in Iraq is one result of their work These collaborative studies offer valuable knowledge related to peacebuilding in different dimensions economics resource management minority and gender inclusion education and religion This research represents an important step in reframing relationships between a generation of Americans and Iraqis who have known nothing but isolation and separation from each other
