Materials, Methods, and Masterpieces of Medieval Art Janetta Rebold Benton, 2009-08-27 A comprehensive and informed analysis explores the startlingly diverse and sophisticated fine arts in the Middle Ages Materials Methods and Masterpieces of Medieval Art provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the work done by artists in western Europe during the Middle Ages Art historian Janetta Rebold Benton uses examples such as the Book of Kells Bury Saint Edmunds Cross and the Bayeux Tapestry and the work of artists such as Jan van Eyck and Giotto to explore the various media available to medieval artists and the ways in which those media were used to create a stunning array of masterworks Although the visual arts of the Middle Ages were extremely colorful today much of that color has diminished or disappeared the pigments and threads faded the gold abraded the silver tarnished Materials Methods and Masterpieces of Medieval Art allows these works to sparkle once more The Use of Hereford William Smith, 2017-05-15 The Use of Hereford a local variation of the Roman rite was one of the diocesan liturgies of medieval England before their abolition and replacement by the Book of Common Prayer in 1549 Unlike the widespread Use of Sarum the Use of Hereford was confined principally to its diocese which helped to maintain its individuality until the Reformation This study seeks to catalogue and evaluate all the known surviving sources of the Use of Hereford with particular reference to the missals and gradual which so far have received little attention In addition to these a variety of other material has been examined including a number of little known or unknown important fragments of early Hereford service books dismembered at the Reformation and now hidden away as binding or other scrap in libraries and record offices This is the fullest examination of Hereford liturgical sources ever undertaken and may stimulate similar and much needed studies of other diocesan uses in particular Sarum and York As well as describing in detail the various manuscript sources the rare single edition printed Hereford texts the missals and breviaries are also discussed Unlike books of the Sarum and York rites these one offs were never revised and reissued In addition to the examination of these sources William Smith discusses the possible origins of the rite and provides an analysis of the Hereford liturgical calendar of the festa including those of the cathedral s patron St Ethelbert and the no less famous St Thomas Cantilupe that helped to make Hereford use so distinctive

Medieval Disability Sourcebook Cameron Hunt
McNabb,2020 The field of disability studies significantly contributes to contemporary discussions of the marginalization of and social justice for individuals with disabilities However what of disability in the past The Medieval Disability Sourcebook Western Europe explores what medieval texts have to say about disability both in their own time and for the present This interdisciplinary volume on medieval Europe combines historical records medical texts and religious accounts of saints lives and miracles as well as poetry prose drama and manuscript images to demonstrate the varied and complicated attitudes medieval societies had about disability Far from recording any monolithic understanding of disability in the Middle Ages these contributions present a striking range of voices to from and about those with disabilities and such diversity only confirms how disability permeated and permeates every aspect of life The Medieval Disability Sourcebook is designed for use inside the undergraduate or graduate classroom or by scholars interested in learning more about medieval Europe as it intersects with the field of disability studies Most texts are presented in modern English though some are preserved in Middle English and many are given in side by side translations for greater study Each entry is prefaced with an academic introduction to disability within the text as well as a bibliography for further study This sourcebook is the first in a proposed series focusing on disability in a wide range of premodern cultures histories and geographies

From Codicology to Technology Stefanie Brinkmann,2009-01-01 Kongressakten Freiburg im Breisgau 2007
"Women, Manuscripts and Identity in Northern Europe, 1350?550 " JoniM. Hand,2017-07-05 Author Joni M Hand sheds light on the reasons women of the Valois courts from the mid fourteenth to the mid sixteenth century commissioned devotional manuscripts Visually interpreting the non text elements portraits coats of arms and marginalia as well as the texts Hand explores how the manuscripts were used to express the women s religious political and or genealogical concerns This study is arranged thematically according to the method in which the owner is represented Recognizing the considerable influence these women had on the appearance of their books Hand interrogates how the manuscripts became a means of self expression beyond the realm of devotional practice She reveals how noblewomen used their private devotional manuscripts as vehicles for self definition to reflect familial political and social concerns and to preserve the devotional and cultural traditions of their families Drawing on documentation of women s book collections that has been buried within the inventories of their fathers husbands or sons Hand explores how these women contributed to the cultural and spiritual character of the courts and played an integral role in the formation and evolution of the royal libraries in Northern Europe

New Approaches to the Archive in the Middle Ages Emily N. Savage, 2024-03-25 This volume brings together scholars of history manuscript studies and art and architectural history to examine in conversation the varieties of medieval archival acts the heterogeneity of collections and the motivations of collectors It is united by the historically flexible concept of the archive and contributors examine material from Seville to Prague from the early Christian period through the Reformation Premodern collections and archival practices are increasingly becoming the subject of academic inquiry Chapter authors investigate how institutional communal and familial identity accrued to material culture including illuminated manuscripts ecclesiastic vestments ancient sarcophagi and reliquaries Others examine the social impulses behind the documentation of such collections namely through the creation of inventories but also in the production management and use of parchment records including cartularies estate records and legal documents Finally contributors question how medieval people evaluated historical age and outmoded artistic styles shaped and promoted collective memory through preservation display and ritual and attached value both monetary and symbolic to their collections The volume is cross disciplinary and will appeal to a variety of readers both in and out of academia Curators librarians and archivists working with medieval collections will find it valuable as will heritage professionals and charities involved in the care of properties which presently or formerly contained medieval treasures libraries and archives

Re-using Manuscripts in Late Medieval England Hannah Ryley, 2022 A fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England examining the ways in which people sustained older books exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted mended protected marked gifted and shared During the long fifteenth century here 1375 1530 the demand for books in England flourished The fast developing book trade produced them in great quantity Fragments of manuscripts were often repurposed as flyleaves and other components such as palimpsests and alongside the creation of new books medieval manuscripts were also repaired recycled and re used This monograph examines the ways in which people sustained older books exploring the practices and processes by which manuscripts were crafted mended protected marked gifted and shared Drawing on the codicological evidence gathered from an extensive survey of extant manuscript collections in conjunction with historical accounts recipes and literary texts it presents detailed case studies exploring parchment production and recycling the re use of margins and second hand exchanges of books Its engagement with the evidence in and inscribed on surviving books enables a fresh appraisal of late medieval manuscript culture in England looking at how people went about re using books and arguing that over the course of this period books were made used and re used in a myriad of sustainable ways
