

The background of the cover is a painting of a vast, deep blue ocean under a bright blue sky with soft, white clouds. In the foreground, a person is seen from behind, wearing a light blue short-sleeved shirt and dark green overalls with black straps. They are holding a red, flat, rectangular object with a yellow ring in the center, which appears to be a traditional fishing net or a similar tool. In the middle ground, a small yellow boat is visible on the water. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

Water And African American Memory An Ecocritical Perspective:

Water and African American Memory Anissa J. Wardi, 2025-03-25 While there is no lack of scholarship on the trans Atlantic voyage and the Middle Passage as tropes in African diasporic writing to date there has not been a comprehensive analysis of bodies of water in African American literature and culture In Water and African American Memory Anissa Wardi offers the first sustained treatise on watercourses in the African American expressive tradition Her holistic approach especially highlights the ways that water acts not only as a metaphorical site of trauma memory and healing but also as a material site Using the trans Atlantic voyage as a starting point and ending with a discussion of Hurricane Katrina this pioneering ecocritical study delves deeply into the environmental dimension of African American writing Beyond proposing a new theoretical map for conceptualizing the African Diaspora Wardi offers a series of engaging and original close readings of major literary filmic and blues texts including the works of Toni Morrison Ntozake Shange Julie Dash Henry Dumas and Kasi Lemmons Bodies of Water in African American Literature, Music, and Film Sharon A. Lewis, Ama S.

Wattley, 2023-05-04 This is an edited volume of original essays which explore the meaning of bodies of water in creative narratives by African Americans The contributors explore the representations of still and moving waterbodies across several genres of literature film and music They also deploy socio historical and environmental theories in addition to close reading interpretive strategies all acknowledging and developing traditional ways of thinking about water in relation to African American experience and culture The writers gathered here showcase insightful and vigorous research in various art forms and together embody provocative innovative and refreshing ways to contemplate water in Black American artistic expressivity Performing Memories Gabriele Biotti, 2021-04-26 What is memory today How can it be approached Why does the contemporary world seem to be more and more haunted by different types of memories still asking for elaboration Which artistic experiences have explored and defined memory in meaningful ways How do technologies and the media have changed it These are just some of the questions developed in this collection of essays analysing memory and memory shapes which explores the different ways in which past time and its elaboration have been and still are elaborated discussed written or filmed and contested but also shared By gathering together scholars from different fields of investigation this book explores the cultural social and artistic tensions in representing the past and the present in understanding our legacies and in approaching historical time and experience Through the analysis of different representations of memory and the investigation of literature anthropology myth and storytelling a space of theories and discourses about the symbolic and cultural spaces of memory representation is developed Oceans as Archives Kristie Patricia Flannery, Renisa Mawani, Mikki Stelder, 2025-11-28 In Oceans as Archives the ocean forms a generative site to develop practices of reading writing thinking and imagining a long era of climate catastrophe Many scholars artists and activists have argued that climate catastrophe demands new methods of writing representation and critique that attend to the violences and erasures of the past and create new possibilities for a collective future Indigenous Black and formerly colonized peoples have centered oceans as sites of contest and connection spaces of subversion multispecies entanglement ancestral knowledge and as sources of life Including short and long essays poems and creative interventions this volume centers oceans as archives to expand engagements with ocean justice from non Eurocentric critical lineages characteristic of the racial capitalocene It speaks to questions of oceanic past present futures from an array of ocean regions inter disciplinary fields his her their stories surfaces and depths This scholarship in all its multiplicity forms a compass a guide a critical reminder that there have always been ways to think with the ocean beyond European cartography extraction capitalism and colonization Oceans as Archives will be essential reading for those interested in critical ocean studies environmental humanities Indigenous studies Black studies cultural studies sociolegal studies geography and oceanography

Memory as Colonial Capital Erica L. Johnson,Éloïse Brezault,2017-08-17 This volume examines the ways that writers from the Caribbean Africa and the U S theorize and employ postcolonial memory in ways that expose or challenge colonial narratives of the past and shows how memory assumes particular forms and values in post colonial contexts in twenty and twenty first century works The problem of contested memory and colonial history continues to be an urgent and timely issue as colonial history has served to crush erase and manipulate collective and individual memories Indeed the most powerful mechanism of colonial discourse is that which alters and silences local histories and even individuals memories in service to colonial authority Johnson and Brezault work to contextualize the politics of writing memory in the shadow of colonial history creating a collection that pioneers a postcolonial turn in cultural memory studies suitable for scholars interested in cultural memory postcolonial Francophone and ethnic studies Includes a foreword by Marianne Hirsch

Emotion, Race, and Space in Contemporary African American Literature Marijana Mikić,2025-05-13 This open access book examines how selected African American authors Colson Whitehead Edward P Jones Toni Morrison Brit Bennett Percival Everett Maurice Carlos Ruffin Sherri L Smith and N K Jemisin narrate relationships between emotion race and space On the one hand they bear witness to the structural production of Black emotional pain at the confluence of racial and spatial discrimination On the other hand they reveal meaningful and subversive interlinkages between Black emotional experiences and Black spatial practices Weaving together insights from psychology narrative theory African American studies affect theory and Black Geographies Marijana Miki interrogates fear hope shame guilt anger and grief in relation to the racial geographic projects of slavery Jim Crow segregation and their continued legacies Miki draws attention to the narrative strategies contemporary African American authors employ to prompt their readers engagement with both the pain and the possibility that continues to shape Black lives in the twenty first century

An Autoethnography of African American Motherhood Renata Harden Ferdinand,2021-11-29 This is the first full length explicitly identified autoethnographic text on African American motherhood It shows the lived experiences of Black motherhood when mothering is shaped by race gender and class and mothers must navigate not only their own but also their children's positions in society Ferdinand takes an intimate look at her mothering strategies spanning ten years from 2007 to 2017 preparing her daughter to traverse a racist and sexist society It is a multi generational text that blends the author's experience with that of her own mother grandmother and her daughter to engage in a larger discussion of African American Black mother womanhood It is grounded within Black Feminist Theory which centers the experiences of Black women within the domains of intersecting oppressions It is from a very personal position that Ferdinand provides a glimpse into the minutiae of mothering that reveal the everyday intricacies of Black women as mothers It highlights specific strategies Black mothers use to combat discrimination and oppression from teaching their children about the n word to choosing positive representations of Black identity in movies books dolls daycares elementary schools and even extra curricular activities It shows the impact that stereotypical manifestations of Black femininity have on Black women's experience of motherhood and how this affects Black women and girls understanding of themselves especially their skin color body shape and hair texture As an interdisciplinary text this book will be reading for academics and students in a broad range of fields including Education African American Studies Communication Studies Women Studies Psychology and Health Studies It is also a handbook of lived experience for Black mothers grandmothers and daughters and for all mothers grandmothers and daughters irrespective of color
