Curiosity and Wonder from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment R.J.W. Evans, 2017-03-02 Curiosity and wonder are topics of increasing interest and importance to Renaissance and Enlightenment historians Conspicuous in a host of disciplines from history of science and technology to history of art literature and society both have assumed a prominent place in studies of the Early Modern period This volume brings together an international group of scholars to investigate the various manifestations of and relationships between curiosity and wonder from the 16th to the 18th centuries Focused case studies on texts objects and individuals explore the multifaceted natures of these themes highlighting the intense fascination and continuing scrutiny to which each has been subjected over three centuries From instances of curiosity in New World exploration to the natural wonders of 18th century Italy Curiosity and Wonder from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment locates its subjects in a broad geographical and disciplinary terrain Taken together the essays presented here construct a detailed picture of two complex themes demonstrating the extent to which both have been transformed and reconstituted often with dramatic results World-Making Renaissance Women Pamela S. Hammons, Brandie R. Siegfried, 2021-12-02 This collection affirms the shaping authority of early modern women in literature and culture evident well beyond their own moment The Marvels of the World Rebecca Bushnell, 2021-03-12 Long before the Romantics embraced nature people in the West saw the human and nonhuman worlds as both intimately interdependent and violently antagonistic With its peerless selection of ninety eight original sources concerned with the natural world and humankind's place within it The Marvels of the World offers a corrective to the still prevalent tendency to dismiss premodern attitudes toward nature as simple or univocal Gathering together medical texts herbals and how to books as well as scientific religious philosophical and poetic works dating from antiquity to the dawn of the Enlightenment the anthology explores both mainstream and unconventional thinking about the natural world Its seven parts focus on philosophy and science plants animals weather and climate ways of inhabiting the land gardens and gardening and European encounters with the wider world Each section and each of the book's selections is prefaced with a helpful introduction by volume editor Rebecca Bushnell that weaves connections among these compelling pieces of the past The early writers collected here wrote with extraordinary openness about ways of coexisting with the nonhuman forces that shaped them Bushnell demonstrates even as they sought to control and exploit their environment Taken as a whole The Marvels of the World reveals how many of these early writers cared as much about the natural world as we do today

Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions in Latin America Jerónimo Arellano, 2015-05-21 Iconoclastic in spirit Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions in Latin America is the first study of affect and emotion in magical realist literature Against the grain of a vast body of scholarship it argues that magical realism is neither exotic commodity nor postcolonial resistance but an art form fueled by a search for spaces of wonder in a disenchanted world Linking the rise and fall of magical realism and kindred narrative forms to the shifting value of wonder as an emotional experience this thought provoking study proposes a radical new approach to canonical novels such as One Hundred Years of Solitude Received as one of the most convincing manifestations of the turn to affect in contemporary Latin American critical thought Magical Realism and the History of the Emotions draws on affect theory the history of emotions and new materialism to reframe key questions in Latin American literature and culture
