Wondrous Difference 1st Printing Edition By Griffiths Alison 2001 Paperback:

Choice, 2002 Native Americans on Film M. Elise Marubbio, Eric L. Buffalohead, 2013-02-22 An essential book for courses on Native film indigenous media not to mention more general courses A very impressive and useful collection Randolph Lewis author of Navajo Talking Picture The film industry and mainstream popular culture are notorious for promoting stereotypical images of Native Americans the noble and ignoble savage the pronoun challenged sidekick the ruthless warrior the female drudge the princess the sexualized maiden the drunk and others Over the years Indigenous filmmakers have both challenged these representations and moved past them offering their own distinct forms of cinematic expression Native Americans on Film draws inspiration from the Indigenous film movement bringing filmmakers into an intertextual conversation with academics from a variety of disciplines The resulting dialogue opens a myriad of possibilities for engaging students with ongoing debates What is Indigenous film Who is an Indigenous filmmaker What are Native filmmakers saying about Indigenous film and their own work This thought provoking text offers theoretical approaches to understanding Native cinema includes pedagogical strategies for teaching particular films and validates the different voices approaches and worldviews that emerge across the movement Accomplished scholars in the emerging field of Native film studies Marubbio and Buffalohead focus clearly on the needs of this field They do scholars and students of Native film a great service by reprinting four seminal and provocative essays James Ruppert author of Meditation in Contemporary Native American Literature Succeed s in depicting the complexities in study teaching and creating Native film Regardless of an individual s level of knowledge and expertise in Native film Native Americans on Film is a valuable read for anyone interested in this topic Studies in American Indian Literatures New History of Anthropology Henrika Kuklick, 2009-02-09 A New History of Anthropology collects original writings from pre eminent scholars to create a sophisticated but accessible guide to the development of the field Re examines the history of anthropology through the lens of the new globalized world Provides a comprehensive history of the discipline from its prehistory in the age of exploration through to anthropology s current condition and its relationship with other disciplines Places ideas and practices within the context of their time and place of origin Looks at anthropology s role in colonization early traditions in the field and topical issues from various periods in the field s history and examines its relationship to other disciplines Education in the School of Dreams Jennifer Lynn Peterson, 2013-05-22 In the earliest years of cinema travelogues were a staple of variety film programs in commercial motion picture theaters These short films also known as scenics depicted tourist destinations and exotic landscapes otherwise inaccessible to most viewers Scenics were so popular that they were briefly touted as the future of film But despite their pervasiveness during the early twentieth century travelogues have been overlooked by film historians and critics In Education in the School of Dreams Jennifer Lynn Peterson recovers this lost archive Through innovative readings of travelogues and other nonfiction films exhibited in the United States between 1907 and 1915 she offers fresh insights into the aesthetic and commercial history of early cinema and provides a new perspective on the intersection of American culture imperialism and modernity in the nickelodeon era Peterson describes the travelogue's characteristic form and style and demonstrates how imperialist ideologies were realized and reshaped through the moving image She argues that although educational films were intended to legitimate filmgoing for middle class audiences travelogues were not simply vehicles for elite ideology As a form of instructive entertainment these technological moving landscapes were both formulaic and also wondrous and dreamlike Considering issues of spectatorship and affect Peterson argues that scenics produced and disrupted viewers complacency about their own place in the world
