The innovations create value food jobs and new sources of income while improving the wellbeing and quality of life of their users. The book features many outcomes of the CGIAR Research Program in Roots Tubers and Banana (RTB) which operated from 2012-21 encompassing many tropical countries academic and industry partners multiple crops and major initiatives. It describes the successful innovation model developed by RTB that brings together diverse partners and organizations to create value for the end users and to generate positive economic and social outcomes. The book will be useful for decision makers designing policies to scale up agricultural solutions for researchers and extension specialists seeking practical ideas and for scholars of innovation.
