HC 111-II House of Commons - Children, Schools and Families Committee: Looked-after Children, Volume II Barry Sheerman,Great Britain. Parliament House of Commons. Children, Schools and Families Committee,2009 Effective Communication and Engagement with Children and Young People, their Families and Carers Ally Dunhill,Barbara Elliott,Angela Shaw,2009-07-06 This book focuses on providing information and guidance for professionals involved in the newly emerging multi agency interdisciplinary children s workforce It does so by helping them to understand the theory behind the issues relating to communication and engagement in multi agency settings for children and families The book is of use to both students and those already working in the sector who are undertaking professional development to enhance understanding and skills in the new children s workforce environment Social work in XXI Century St. Challenges for academic and professional training. Concepción Nieto-Morales,2018-08-03 The book that you hold in your hands or on the screen of any technological device is the result of the effort made by a group of professors with the collaboration of professionals in different universities and study centres in twenty five countries It is title is already revealing Social Work in the 21st Century It is remarkable the coordination of professors Concepción Nieto Morales and Monica Solange De Martino Berm dez for readers to know not only the curriculum of Social Work in each of the countries that appear but also the profile of the student body and the identification and reflection on the challenges that the 21st century poses to the teaching of the profession among other elements Being a social worker in these times requires a previous awareness before starting the long road that begins with academic training and ends with the daily work linked to people who need help they need us to help them to conquer their rights There is something else Social problems over the years seem not to change their name homeless drug addicts minors but we must know that the internal dynamics of these marginalized groups evolve over time We must act according to today s situation with today s schemes otherwise the essence of social work will disappear Social Work and Research in Advanced Welfare States Kjeld Hogsbro,Ian F Shaw,2017-06-14 The aim of this book is to exemplify the ways in which social work and research develop in advanced welfare states countries where public spending is relatively high as a proportion of GNP While such countries have traditionally been associated with Scandinavian countries in particular and North Western Europe more generally there are other countries where the public spend on welfare is relatively high The various contributors in this book explore and exemplify ways in which social work and research are distinctive for advanced welfare states This involves exploring their connection to professional identities histories and welfare systems their associations with academic theoretical and cultural traditions of collaboration between academic and social work practice and the distinctive links with community national policy governmentality and agency with respect to forms of knowledge discourses and conception of social problems Written by contributors who have experience of living and working in Belgium Denmark Ireland Italy Singapore and the UK this book speaks throughout about problems methods systems and ideas in language that is readily transferable and transcends national boundaries of thought and social work practice It will be read and understood by social work students across Europe

Support and aspiration Great Britain: Department for Education, 2011-03-09 This report unveils proposals for the biggest programme of reform in the education and health support for children with special educational needs SEN and disabilities in 30 years The Government wants to fundamentally reform the SEN system to address problems including parents having to battle to get the support their child needs SEN statements not joining up education health and care support children falling between the gaps in services or having to undergo multiple assessments multiple layers of paperwork and bureaucracy adding delays to getting support therapy and vital equipment confusing and adversarial assessment process with the perceived conflict of interest where the local authority must provide SEN support as well as assess children s needs too many children are being over identified as SEN preventing them from achieving their potential because teachers have lower expectations of them The Government proposes to include parents in the assessment process and introduce a legal right by 2014 to give them control of funding for the support their child needs replace statements with a single assessment process and a combined education health and care plan so that health and social services is included in the package of support ensure assessment and plans run from birth to 25 years old replace the existing complicated School Action and School Action Plus system with a simpler new school based category to help teachers focus on raising attainment overhaul teacher training and professional development inject greater independence from local authorities in assessments give parents a greater choice of school and the power to set up special free schools

The Government response to the Family Justice Review Great Britain: Ministry of Justice, Great Britain Department for Education, 2012-02-06 The Government accepts the overwhelming majority of the recommendations made in the final report of the Family Justice Review 2011 ISBN 9780108511158 and proposes a system with children s and families needs at its heart The proposed reforms will put practical measures in place to ensure children s voices are heard before and during the court process A new Family Justice Board will be established in April 2012 and will take the detail of the recommendations forward All measures will comply with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child Changes to public law are designed to tackle delay and put more focus on the child Changes to private law will support families to reach their own agreements without needing to bring their issues to the courts Mediation and other support services will again be child centred and with a presumption of shared parenting where separation occurs A new web and telephony service providing a single gateway to advice and guidance for separating parents will be commissioned in 2012 and operational in 2013 Divorce proceedings will be streamlined Cafcass will move under the sponsorship of the Ministry of Justice Those working in the family justice system need to change culture and practices if these reforms are to succeed and judicial leadership is critical Family courts must be as child friendly as possible Annexes cover detailed responses to the Review's recommendations an update on developing the evidence base for family justice impact assessments and key references and supporting documents

Child-Centred Practice Tracey Race, Rebecca O'Keefe, 2017-05-30 Since the Munro report 2011 a greater emphasis has been placed on the value of child centred practice in social work with children young people and families It has come to be recognised that social workers cannot make an assessment or intervene to safeguard children and promote positive outcomes without engaging with the children themselves This involves recognising the rights of the child getting to know who they are what they need how they feel about their situation and what they want for their future Split into two distinct sections this authoritative text focuses on the foundational knowledge required for child centred work unpacking the ethical and theoretical principles that form the basis of the approach and exploring current debates around working with children and families Benefitting from the authors extensive experience in academia and practice settings each chapter Provides insightful practitioner testimonials and case study examples to help the reader apply what they have learned to everyday practice Highlights important research studies that give voice to children and young people providing the reader with background knowledge of the evidence base for child centred approaches Includes engaging questions and activities to enable the reader to reflect on what they have learned and make links to their own practice values and beliefs With a strong focus on developing the reader's practice skills particularly in engaging and communicating with children Child Centred Practice is an essential handbook for students and professionals involved in this complex yet rewarding area of social work practice

Sense and Sensibility in Social Work with Families and Children Sara Serbati, Edgar Marthinsen, Brid

Featherstone, 2025-05-07 Practitioners and managers in child protection often struggle to focus on the needs of children and families in the face of ever expanding bureaucracy This book brings together authors from across Europe to explore the strategies and solutions that promote doing things right by those in need rather than to the letter of procedure It argues that more flexible community relationship partnership based approaches are required to meet the needs of parents and children experiencing difficulties and risk of harm Essential reading for academics practitioners managers and policy makers in social work and child welfare it contributes to the development of reflective thinking and spotlights the potential of co production and co creation Social Work with Children and Families Penelope Welbourne, 2012-06-14 There is an increasing emphasis on post qualifying training for social workers especially in the complex and demanding area of working with children and families This essential textbook is especially designed for practitioners studying at this level Accessible and thorough the text focuses on a mixture of conceptual and organisational topics skills law policy and key practice issues It includes chapters on Social work values and ethics Risk uncertainty and accountability Direct work with children and young people Promoting security and stability Working with reluctant service users Assessment of parenting Working with poverty drugs and alcohol Going to court and the legal framework Children and young people going home Supporting others in their professional development Using case studies and activities to link research theory and practice Social Work with Children and Families takes a wider look at the role and tasks of an experienced social work practitioner and the skills and knowledge needed to develop professionally from this point Social Work with Children and Families Maureen O'Loughlin, Steve

O'Loughlin, 2012-09-18 Social work with children and families is a challenging complex but ultimately rewarding pathway for the student social worker This fully revised new edition aims to guide the student through the legislation policy and law that surrounds social work with children and families while providing a solid foundation for critical thinking Vital skills and methods such as communication observation and assessments are explored in detail while the ethical and value base of social work practice underpins the text Recommendations from the Munro Review into Child Protection are referred to throughout

Public Health Practice and the School-Age Population Diane DeBell, 2007-06-29 The importance of the issues surrounding public health can never be underestimated and the significance of child health within the overall public health framework is of particular note Professionals working with the school age population are faced with a multitude of challenges particular to that age group making the effective planning and imple

The SAGE Handbook of Social Work Research Ian Shaw, Katharine Briar-Lawson, Joan Orme, Roy Ruckdeschel, 2009-11-27 This is an ambitious book It aims at nothing less than a comprehensive account of the state of the art of social work research internationally and an intellectually original statement that will help to define and shape social work research Those with a serious interest in social work research will agree that this is a major undertaking and one that should put social work research on the map Ian Sinclair University of York UK This terrific Handbook provides an essential map for navigating the complex currents of social work research today It resists polemical and simplistic binaries to chart a course that emphasizes diversity pluralism and sensitivity to political contexts in many featured exemplars As key chapters note inherent tensions at the heart of social work itself are mirrored in current debates about the purposes and methods of social work research Rather than patch over differences the volume invites us to understand historical roots of unresolvable tensions and live with them The international scope of the volume is unique scholars from more than a dozen different countries were involved and its broad scope counters the tendency toward parochialism of much North American literature The Handbook should be essential reading for students and academics Catherine Riessman Boston University USA The SAGE Handbook of Social Work Research provides a comprehensive internationally focused account of leading social work research offering an original and defining statement on contemporary theory and practice within the field The groundbreaking Handbook engages critically with the nature and role of social work research and evaluation in contemporary societies around the globe and asks four key questions What is the role and purpose of social work research What contexts shape the practice and purpose of social work research How can we maximise the quality of the practice of social work research How can the aims of social work in its varied domains be met through social work research Ranging over local national and international issues and exploring questions of theory and practice this is a diverse and constructively organized overview of the field It will quickly be recognized as a benchmark in the expanding field of social work research setting the agenda for future work in the arena
