Encountering the City Jonathan Darling, Helen F. Wilson, 2016-07-15 Encountering the City provides a new and sustained engagement with the concept of encounter Drawing on cutting edge theoretical work classic writings on the city and rich empirical examples this volume demonstrates why encounters are significant to urban studies politically philosophically and analytically Bringing together a range of interests from urban multiculture systems of economic regulation security and suspicion to more than human geographies soundscapes and spiritual experience Encountering the City argues for a more nuanced understanding of how the concept of encounter is used This interdisciplinary collection thus provides an insight into how scholars writing on and in the city mobilise theorise and challenge the concept of encounter through empirical cases taken from Africa Asia Australia Europe North America and South America These cases go beyond conventional accounts of urban conviviality to demonstrate how encounters destabilise rework and produce difference fold together complex temporalities materialise power and transform political relations In doing so the collection retains a critical eye on the forms of regulation containment and inequality that shape the taking place of urban encounter Encountering the City is a valuable resource for students and researchers alike

Placemaking with Children and Youth Victoria Derr, Louise Chawla, Mara Mintzer, 2018-09-18 An illustrated essential guide to engaging children and youth in the process of urban design From a history of children's rights to case studies discussing international initiatives that aim to create child friendly cities Placemaking with Children and Youth offers comprehensive guidance in how to engage children and youth in the planning and design of local environments It explains the importance of children's active participation in their societies and presents ways to bring all generations together to plan cities with a high quality of life for people of all ages Not only does it delineate best practices in establishing programs and partnerships it also provides principles for working ethically with children youth and families paying particular attention to the inclusion of marginalized populations Drawing on case studies from around the world in Australia New Zealand Canada India Puerto Rico the Netherlands South Africa and the United States Placemaking with Children and Youth showcases children's global participation in community design and illustrates how a variety of methods can be combined in initiatives to achieve meaningful change The book features more than 200 visuals and detailed thoughtful guidelines for facilitating a multiplicity of participatory processes that include drawing photography interviews surveys discussion groups role playing mapping murals model making city tours and much more Whether seeking information on individual methods and project planning interpreting and analyzing results or establishing and evaluating a sustained program readers can find practical ideas and inspiration from six continents to connect learning to the realities of students lives and to create better cities for all ages

The Cities We Need Gabrielle Bendiner-Viani, 2024-08-27 An expressive book of prose and photographs that reveals the powerful ways our everyday places support our shared belonging Where would you take someone on a guided tour of your neighborhood In The Cities We Need photographer and urbanist Gabrielle Bendiner Viani introduces us to the complex political and eminently personable stories of residents who answered this question in Brooklyn New York and Oakland California Their universal stories and Bendiner Viani s evocative images illuminate what s at stake in our everyday places from diners to churches to donut shops In this culmination of two decades of research and art practice Bendiner Viani intertwines the personal historical and photographic to present us with placework the way that unassuming places foster a sense of belonging and in fact do the essential work of helping us become communities In this unique book Bendiner Viani makes visible how seemingly unimportant places can lay the foundation for a functional interconnected society so necessary for both public health and social justice The Cities We Need explores both what we gain in these spaces and what we risk losing as they are threatened by gentrification large scale development and most recently the COVID 19 pandemic Ultimately Bendiner Viani shows us how to understand ourselves as part of a shared society with a shared fate she shows us that everyday places can be the spaces of liberation in which we can build the cities we need

Urban Landscapes in High-Density Cities Bianca Maria Rinaldi, Puay Yok Tan, 2019-06-04 The positive effects of urban green spaces are well known ranging from the promotion of health support of biodiversity to climate regulation However the practical implementation of urban landscapes is less discussed How can we make these spaces functional economically feasible and inclusive especially as cities become more diverse The publication explores strategies to reconcile the various demands such as food production resilience and nature conservation Indeed urban landscapes have to be restorative ecological and aesthetically pleasing at the same time This is a particular challenge in high density cities like Singapore Seoul or New York where space is a scarce commodity The continuing growth of the worldwide urban population imbues the topic with a special urgency

Chinatown Unbound , Kay Anderson, Ien Ang, Andrea Del Bono, Donald McNeill,, Alexandra Wong, 2019-01-25 Chinatowns are familiar places in almost all major cities in the world In popular Western wisdom the restaurants pagodas and red lanterns are intrinsically equated with a self contained immigrant Chinese district an alien enclave of the East in the West By the 1980s when these Western societies had largely given up their racially discriminatory immigration policies and opened up to Asian immigration the dominant conception of Chinatown was no longer that of an abject ethnic ghetto rather Chinatown was now seen as a positive expression of multicultural heritage and difference By the early 21st century however these spatial and cultural constructions of Chinatown as an other space whether negative or positive have been thoroughly destabilised by the impacts of accelerating globalisation and transnational migration This book provides a timely and much needed paradigm shift in this regard through an in depth case study of Sydney s Chinatown It speaks to the growing multilateral connections that link Australia and Asia and especially China together not just economically but also socially and culturally as a consequence of increasing transnational flows of people money ideas and things Further the book elicits a particular sense of a place in Sydney s Chinatown that of an interconnected world in which Western and Asian realms inhabit each other and in which the orientalist legacy is being reconfigured in new deployments and more complex delimitations As such Chinatown Unbound engages with and contributes to making sense of the epochal shift in the global balance of power towards Asia especially China

Trade, Globalization, and Dutch Art and Architecture Marsely Kehoe, 2025-10-01 We all look to our past to define our present but we don't always realize that our view of the past is shaped by subsequent events It's easy to forget that the Dutch dominated the world's oceans and trade in the seventeenth century when it's cultural imagination conjures up tulips and wooden shoes instead of spices and slavery This book examines the Dutch so called Golden Age through its artistic and architectural legacy recapturing the global dimensions of this period by looking beyond familiar artworks to consider exotic collectibles and trade goods and the ways in which far flung colonial cities were made to look and feel like home Using the tools of art history to approach questions about memory history and how cultures define themselves this book demonstrates the centrality of material and visual culture to understanding history and cultural identity

Orum, 2019-04-15 Provides comprehensive coverage of major topics in urban and regional studies Under the guidance of Editor in Chief Anthony Orum this definitive reference work covers central and emergent topics in the field through an examination of urban and regional conditions and variation across the world It also provides authoritative entries on the main conceptual tools used by anthropologists sociologists geographers and political scientists in the study of cities and regions Among such concepts are those of place and space geographical regions the nature of power and politics in cities urban culture and many others The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies captures the character of complex urban and regional dynamics across the globe including timely entries on Latin America Africa India and China At the same time it contains illuminating entries on some of the current concepts that seek to grasp the essence of the global world today such as those of Friedmann and Sassen on global cities It also includes discussions of recent economic writings on cities and regions such as those of Richard Florida Comprised of over 450 entries on the most important topics and from a range of theoretical perspectives Features authoritative entries on topics ranging from gender and the city to biographical profiles of figures like Frank Lloyd Wright Takes a global perspective with entries providing coverage of Latin America and Africa India and China and the US and Europe Includes biographies of central figures in urban and regional studies such as Doreen Massey Peter Hall Neil Smith and Henri Lefebvre The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies is an indispensable reference for students and researchers in urban and regional studies urban sociology urban geography and urban anthropology

Placemaking Sandbox Iderlina Mateo-Babiano, Kelum Palipane, 2020-06-19 Placemaking Sandbox offers a valuable collection of placemaking case studies designed for teachers and students to build expertise in shaping and creating thriving public places Each chapter outlines the latest research and practice underpinning placemaking pedagogical approaches with specialist authors developing and interrogating methodological techniques and reflecting on current teaching and research By taking a hands on and experimental look at emergent practices pedagogies and methods in placemaking across different contexts this book will help deepen understandings on how to wrestle with complex conditions generated by place In Placemaking Sandbox contributors skillfully tackle a little researched topic on the pedagogy of place and placemaking and in the process offer a distinctive bridge between academia and practice Advancing U.S. Latino Entrepreneurship Marlene Orozco,Alfonso Morales,Michael J. Pisani,Jerry I. Porras,2020-04-15 Advancing U S Latino Entrepreneurship examines business formation and success among Latinos by identifying arrangements that enhance entrepreneurship and by understanding the sociopolitical contexts that shape entrepreneurial trajectories While it is well known that Latinos make up one of the largest and fastest growing populations in the U S Latino owned businesses are now outpacing this population growth and the startup business growth of all other demographic groups in the country The institutional arrangements shaping business formation are no level playing field Minority entrepreneurs face racism and sexism but structural barriers are not the only obstacles that matter there are agentic barriers and coethnics present challenges as well as support to each other Yet minorities engage in business formation and in doing so change institutional arrangements by transforming the attitudes of society and the practices of policymakers The economic future of the country is tied to the prospects of Latinos forming and growing business The diversity of Latino experience constitutes an economic resource for those interested in forming businesses that appeal to native born citizens and fellow immigrants alike ranging from local to national to international markets This book makes a substantial contribution to the literature on entrepreneurship and wealth creation by focusing on Latinos a population vastly understudied on these topics by describing processes and outcomes for Latino entrepreneurs Unfairly the dominant story of Latinos especially Mexican Americans is that of dispossession and its consequences Advancing U S Latino Entrepreneurship makes clear the undiminished ambitions of Latinos as well as the transformative relationships among people their practices and the political context in which they operate The reality of Latino entrepreneurs demands new attention and focus Public Space Design and Social

Cohesion Patricia Aelbrecht,Quentin Stevens,2019-01-22 Social cohesion is often perceived as being under threat from the increasing cultural and economic differences in contemporary cities and the increasing intensity of urban life Public space in its role as the main stage for social interactions between strangers clearly plays a role in facilitating or limiting opportunities for social cohesion But what exactly is social cohesion how is it experienced in the public realm and what role can the design of city spaces have in supporting or promoting it There are significant knowledge gaps between the social sciences and design disciplines and between academia and practice and thus a dispersed knowledge base that currently lacks nuanced insight into how urban design contributes to social integration or segregation This book brings together scholarly knowledge at the intersection of public space design and social cohesion It is based on original scholarly research and a depth of urban design practice and analyses case studies from a variety of cities and cultures across the Global North and Global South Its interdisciplinary cross cultural analysis will be of interest to academics students policymakers and practitioners engaged with a range of subject areas including urban design urban planning architecture landscape cultural studies human geography social policy sociology and anthropology It will also have significant appeal to a wider non academic readership given its topical subject matter The Routledge Handbook of Urban Cultural Planning Rana Amirtahmasebi,Jason Schupbach,2024-12-30 This book provides a manual for planning for arts and culture in cities featuring chapters and case studies from Africa the Americas Australasia the Middle East South and East Asia and more The handbook is organized around seven themes arts and planning for equity and social development incorporating culture in urban planning the intersection of creative and cultural industries and tourism planning financing public buildings public space and public art cultural heritage planning and culture and the climate crisis Urban planners are often tasked with preserving and attracting new art and culture to a city but there are no common rules on how practitioners accomplish this work This handbook will be an invaluable resource for city planners and designers cultural workers elected officials artists and social justice workers and advocates seeking to integrate creativity and culture into urban planning Suburban Urbanities Laura Vaughan,2015-11-12 Suburban space has traditionally been understood as a formless remnant of physical city expansion without a dynamic or logic of its own Suburban Urbanities challenges this view by defining the suburb as a temporally evolving feature of urban growth Anchored in the architectural research discipline of space syntax this book offers a comprehensive understanding of urban change touching on the history of the suburb as well as its current development challenges with a particular focus on suburban centres Studies of the high street as a centre for social economic and cultural exchange provide evidence for its critical role in sustaining local centres over time Contributors from the architecture urban design geography history and anthropology disciplines examine cases spanning Europe and around the Mediterranean By linking large scale city mapping urban design scale expositions of high street activity and local scale ethnographies the book underscores the need to consider suburban space on its own terms as a specific and complex field of social practice

Promoting Urban Social Justice through Engaged Communication Scholarship George Villanueva,2021-09-20 Winner of the 2023 Jane Jacobs Urban Communication Book Award awarded by the Urban Communication Foundation Based on the author s scholar activist interventions to promote social justice in cities this book highlights the role engaged communication scholarship can play in fostering a more equitable future Through three innovative case studies situated in South Los Angeles the book illustrates engaged communication scholarship projects grounded in design criteria that are social justice oriented place based collaborative and public It models university community partnerships that promote positive social change in marginalized communities that stand to benefit the most from university resources guiding readers in how these partnerships can be incorporated into social justice oriented curriculum and engaged learning projects It provides strategic recommendations for how in community communication research and media practices can be used to build local power in marginalized urban neighborhoods and calls for communication s research pedagogy epistemologies practices ethics politics and community engagement to purposefully serve the concerns of marginalized groups in society The book will be of interest to researchers and social change practitioners interested in solution oriented work in cities within the fields of research methods organizational communication urban planning public policy sociology and social work Intercultural Urbanism Dean Saitta,2020-07-23 Cities today are paradoxical They are engines of innovation and opportunity but they are also plagued by significant income inequality and segregation by ethnicity race and class These inequalities and segregations are often reinforced by the urban built environment the planning of space and the design of architecture This condition threatens attainment of wider social and economic prosperity In this innovative new study Dean Saitta explores questions of urban sustainability by taking an intercultural trans historical approach to city planning Saitta uses a largely untapped body of knowledge the archaeology of cities in the ancient world to generate ideas about how public space housing and civic architecture might be better designed to promote inclusion and community while also making our cities more environmentally sustainable By integrating this knowledge with knowledge generated by evolutionary studies and urban ethnography including a detailed look at Denver Colorado one of America s most desirable and fastest growing destination cities but one that is also experiencing significant spatial segregation and gentrification Saitta s book offers an invaluable new perspective for urban studies scholars and urban planning professionals Tensions in Diversity Felicity Hwee-Hwa Chan,2022-11-01 Urban landscapes are complex spaces of sociocultural diversity characterized by narratives of both conviviality and conflict As people with multiple ethnicities and nationalities find their common destinies in thriving globalizing cities social cohesiveness becomes more precarious as different beliefs practices ambitions values and affiliations intersect in close proximity producing social tensions Tensions in Diversity presents a multi method comparative study that draws on the experiences of 140 residents of native and immigrant origin community organizers and municipal officers in three culturally diverse neighbourhoods of varying income levels in Los Angeles County Using cognitive mapping analysis combined with data from interviews surveys and participant observation this book explores how exactly coexistence is socio spatially experienced and negotiated in daily life Tensions in Diversity identifies the planning and design considerations that enable intercultural learning in the public places within diverse cities In doing so this book foregrounds urban space as an active force in shaping coexistence and convivial public environments Key Methods in Geography Nicholas Clifford,Meghan Cope,Thomas Gillespie,Shaun French,2016-05-21 Practical accessible careful and interesting this revised volume brings the subject up to date and explains in bite sized chunks the how s and why s of modern day geographical study It brings together physical and human approaches again in a new synthesis Danny Dorling Professor of Geography University of Oxford Key Methods in Geography is the perfect introductory companion providing an overview of qualitative and quantitative methods for human and physical geography This Third Edition Features 12 new chapters representing emerging themes including online virtual and digital geographical methods Real life case study examples Summaries and exercises for each chapter Free online access to full text of Progress in Human Geography and Progress in Physical Geography Progress Reports The teaching of research methods is integral to all geography courses Key Methods in Geography Third Edition explains all of the key methods with which geography undergraduates must be conversant Messy Urbanism Manish Chalana, Jeffrey Hou, 2016-06-01 Seemingly messy and chaotic the landscapes and urban life of cities in Asia possess an order and hierarchy that often challenges understanding and appreciation With contributions by a cross disciplinary group of authors Messy Urbanism Understanding the Other Cities of Asia examines a range of cases in Asia to explore the social and institutional politics of urban informality and the contexts in which this messiness emerges or is constructed The book brings a distinct perspective to the broader patterns of informal urban orders and processes as well as their interplay with formalized systems and mechanisms It also raises questions about the production of cities cityscapes and citizenship Messy Urbanism will appeal to professionals students and scholars in the fields of urban studies architecture landscape architecture planning and policy as well as Asian studies The rubric of messy urbanism is a productive antidote to the binaries that have limited a productive discussion about urbanism in Asia This book is a significant contribution in understanding the inherent nature of the built environments in aspiring democracies an emergent urbanism that seamlessly embraces the incremental temporal and ephemeral as given conditions in the formation of Asian cities Rahul Mehrotra Architect Professor of Urban Design and Planning Harvard University This book is of a high quality with multiple examples from Hong Kong and China The authors have covered the topic admirably and I expect the book to attract a wide readership Vinit Mukhija Associate Professor and Vice Chair of Urban Planning UCLA The Routledge Handbook of People and Place in the 21st-Century City Kate Bishop, Nancy Marshall, 2019-08-13 Increasing urbanization and increasing urban density put enormous pressure on the relationships between people and place in cities Built environment professionals must pay attention to the impact of people place relationships in small to large scale urban initiatives A small playground in a neighborhood pocket park is an example of a small scale urban development a national environmental policy that influences energy sources is an example of a large scale initiative All scales of decision making have implications for the people place relationships present in cities This book presents new research in contemporary interdisciplinary urban challenges and opportunities and aims to keep the people place relationship debate in focus in the policies and practices of built environment professionals and city managers Most urban planning and design decisions even those on a small scale will remain in the urban built form for many decades conditioning people s experience of their city It is important that these decisions are made using the best available knowledge This book contains an interdisciplinary discussion of contemporary urban movements and issues influencing the relationship between people and place in urban environments around the world which have major implications for both the processes and products of urban planning design and management The main purpose of the book is to consolidate contemporary thinking among experts from a range of disciplines including anthropology environmental psychology cultural geography urban design and planning architecture and landscape architecture and the arts on how to conceptualize and promote healthy people and place relationships in the 21st century city Within each of the chapters the authors focus on their specific areas of expertise which enable readers to understand key issues for urban environments urban populations and the links between them
