Mom Rebecca Jo Plant,2010-03-15 In the early twentieth century Americans often waxed lyrical about Mother Love signaling a conception of motherhood as an all encompassing identity rooted in self sacrifice and infused with social and political meaning By the 1940s the idealization of motherhood had waned and the nation s mothers found themselves blamed for a host of societal and psychological ills In Mom Rebecca Jo Plant traces this important shift by exploring the evolution of maternalist politics changing perceptions of the mother child bond and the rise of new approaches to childbirth pain and suffering Plant argues that the assault on sentimental motherhood came from numerous quarters Male critics who railed against female moral authority psychological experts who hoped to expand their influence and women who strove to be more than wives and mothers all for their own distinct reasons sought to discredit the longstanding maternal ideal By showing how motherhood ultimately came to be redefined as a more private and partial component of female identity Plant illuminates a major reorientation in American civic social and familial life that still reverberates today

Religious Crisis and Civic Transformation Kimba Allie Tichenor,2016-05-03 This book offers a fresh interpretation of the connection between the West German Catholic Church and post 1950s political debates on women s reproductive rights and the protection of life in West Germany According to Tichenor Catholic women in West Germany influenced by the culture of consumption the sexual revolution Vatican II reforms and feminism sought to renegotiate their relationship with the Church They demanded a more active role in Church ministries and challenged the Church s hierarchical and gendered view of marriage and condemnation of artificial contraception When the Church refused to compromise women left en masse In response the Church slowly stitched together a new identity for a postsecular age employing an elaborate nuptial symbolism to justify its stance on celibacy women s ordination artificial contraception abortion and reproductive technologies Additionally the Church returned to a radical interventionist agenda that embraced issue specific alliances with political parties other than the Christian parties In her conclusion Tichenor notes more recent setbacks to the German Catholic Church including disappointment with the reactionary German Pope Benedict XVI and his failure in 2010 to address over 250 allegations of sexual abuse at twenty two of Germany s twenty seven dioceses How the Church will renew itself in the twenty first century remains unclear This closely observed case study which bridges religious political legal and women s history will interest scholars and students of twentieth century European religious history modern Germany and the intersection of Catholic Church practice and women s issues
