The Practice of Psychotherapy (Psychology Revivals) Lewis R. Wolberg,2014-08-01 Freud once humorously remarked that Anyone who wants to make a living from the treatment of nervous patients must clearly be able to do something to help them It is amazing how frequently this simple precept is ignored and when a patient does not get well how often the failure is attributed to lack of proper motivation diminutive ego strength latent schizophrenia and a multitude of assorted resistances Difficulties that arise during therapy are not due to a deliberate conspiracy of neglect on the part of the therapist They usually come about because of obstructive situations that develop in work with patients with which the therapist is unprepared to cope During his psychiatric career the author who spent time both teaching and supervising collected and collated questions from students and graduate therapists who had raised concerns about psychotherapy that related to such obstructive situations Originally published in 1982 this volume contains both those questions and his answers

Hypnosis Sean F. Kelly, Reid J. Kelly, 2000 The Practice of Psychotherapy (Psychology Revivals) Lewis R. contains both those questions and his answers Century of Insight Derry Macdiarmid, 2018-03-08 Century of Insight is the story of the discovery of the unconscious mind based on the author's teaching of psychotherapy throughout his career. Beginning with the ideas of Freud and Jung it is a journey that describes through case histories, explanation and humour how successive ideas have created a body of knowledge that the author calls the Psychodynamic Enlightenment of the 20th century. Whilst essentially it is a story of the 20th century it includes a backdrop from tribal societies and also ideas from 19th century Europe including existentialism. In Part I the ideas of Freud, Jung and Adler are explained, their points of difference and then how they disagreed so violently that they had to break with each other. Their individual theories and their personal conflict are understood from the story of their personalities and background. Why could Freud not tolerate the expansive Jung and why did Jung clash so badly with his father?
