Touchpoints Birth To Three:

Touchpoints-Birth to Three T. Berry Brazelton, Joshua D. Sparrow, 2006-09-26 From America's most beloved pediatrician comes the classic guide to a child's physical, emotional, and behavioral development. All over the U.S. and in over twenty countries around the world, Touchpoints has become required reading for anxious parents of babies and small children. T. Berry Brazelton's great empathy for the universal concerns of parenthood and honesty about the complex feelings it engenders, as well as his uncanny insight into the predictable leaps and regressions of early childhood, have comforted and supported families since its publication in 1992. In this completely revised edition, Dr. Brazelton introduces new information on physical, emotional, and behavioral development. He also addresses the new stresses on families and fears of children with a fresh focus on the role of fathers and other caregivers. This updated volume also offers new insights on prematurity, sleep patterns, early communication, toilet training, co-sleeping, play, and learning, SIDS, cognitive development, and signs of developmental delay, childcare, asthma, a child's immune system, and safety. Dr. Sparrow, Brazelton's co-author on several other books, brings a child psychiatrist's insights into the many perennial childhood issues covered in this comprehensive book. No parent should be without the reassurance and wisdom Touchpoints provides.

Technology Touchpoints Loretta L. C. Brady, PhD, MAC, 2022-11-11 Analyzes the influence of technology and social media on human development with parents and families in mind. This is a story about a family coming of age at the same time as smartphones and social media, a multiracial family coming into its own as windows into social injustice opened up before our very screens, and a multi-parent, multi-professional family with children living differently depending on which house and which combination of family members happen to be home. While it is a story about a family, it is really the story of technological and global changes unfolding on our doorsteps. While many revile the ascendancy of smartphones and social media and the way they suck us into the vortex of cyberspace, there are cultural touchpoints that reflect deeper human and technology development patterns, patterns which we would all do well to understand, no matter whether or how we choose to engage in the ever-innovating digital frontiers. Informed by research and interviews with leaders in policy, human development, ethics, and technology, Loretta Brady helps readers understand the complex systemic challenges and findings related to technology and human development. We do not have to hate or fear technology. It is neither friend nor foe. But understanding its impact on our daily lives is paramount to cultivating a healthier relationship both with our digital lives and our real lived ones.

Maternal-Child Nursing Care: Optimizing Outcomes for Mothers, Children, & Families Susan Ward, Shelton Hisley, 2015-06-03 It offers the perfect balance of maternal and child nursing care with the right depth and breadth of coverage for students in today's maternity/pediatric courses. A unique emphasis on optimizing outcomes, evidence-based practice, and research supports the goal of caring for women, families, and children not only in traditional hospital settings but also wherever they live, work, study, or play. Clear, concise, and easy to follow, the content is organized around four major themes: holistic care, critical thinking, validating practice and tools for care that help students to learn and apply the material

At A Loss For Words Betty Bardige,2011-02-07

Drawing on the latest research on development among toddlers and preschoolers

At a Loss for Words lays out the importance of getting parents policy makers and child care providers to recognize the role of early literacy skills in reducing the achievement gap that begins before three years of age

Readers are guided through home and classroom settings that promote language contrasting them with the merely mediocre child care settings in which more and more young children spend increasing amounts of time

Too many of our young children are not receiving the level of input and practice that will enable them to acquire language skills the key to success in school and life

Bardige explains how to build better community support systems for children and better public education in order to ensure that toddlers learn the power of language from their families and teachers
