Trauma And The Memory Of Politics:

Trauma and the Memory of Politics Jenny Edkins, 2003-07-31 In this interesting study Jenny Edkins explores how we remember traumatic events such as wars famines genocides and terrorism and questions the assumed role of commemorations as simply reinforcing state and nationhood Taking examples from the World Wars Vietnam the Holocaust Kosovo and September 11th Edkins offers a thorough discussion of practices of memory such as memorials museums remembrance ceremonies the diagnosis of post traumatic stress and the act of bearing witness She examines the implications of these commemorations in terms of language political power sovereignty and nationalism She argues that some forms of remembering do not ignore the horror of what happened but rather use memory to promote change and to challenge the political systems that produced the violence of wars and genocides in the first place This wide ranging study embraces literature history politics and international relations and makes a significant contribution to the study of memory

Memory, Trauma and World Politics D. Bell, 2006-10-20 Memory Trauma and World Politics focuses on the effect that the memory of traumatic episodes especially war and genocide has on shaping contemporary political identities Theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich this book is an incisive treatment of the ways in which the study of social memory can inform global politics analysis Shadows of Trauma Aleida Assmann, 2016 The book traces the process of creating of a new German memory of the Holocaust after the fall of the Wall Combining theoretical analysis with historical case studies the book revisits crucial debates and controversial issues out of which Germany's new memory culture emerged as a collective project and work in progress Handbook on the Politics of Memory Maria Mälksoo, 2023-01-20 Providing a novel multi disciplinary theorization of memory politics this insightful Handbook brings varied literatures into a focused dialogue on the ways in which the past is remembered and how these influence transnational interstate and global politics in the present

The Politics of Haunting and Memory in International Relations Jessica Auchter, 2014-03-21 International Relations has traditionally focused on conflict and war but the effects of violence including dead bodies and memorialization practices have largely been considered beyond the purview of the field Drawing on Jacques Derrida's notion of hauntology to consider the politics of life and death Auchter traces the story of how life and death and a clear division between the two is summoned in the project of statecraft She argues that by letting ourselves be haunted or looking for ghosts it is possible to trace how statecraft relies on the construction of such a dichotomy Three empirical cases offer fertile ground for complicating the picture often painted of memorialization Rwandan genocide memorials the underexplored case of undocumented immigrants who die crossing the US Mexico border and the body ruins nexus in 9 11 memorialization Focusing on the role of dead bodies and the construction of particular spaces as the appropriate sites for memory to be situated it offers an alternative take on the new materialisms movement in international relations by asking after the questions that arise from an ethnographic approach to the subject viewing things from the perspective of dead bodies who occupy the shadowy world of post conflict

Memory, Politics and Identity C. McGrattan, 2012-10-10 The question of how to move beyond contentious pasts exercises societies across the globe Focusing on Northern Ireland this book examines how historical injustices continue to haunt contemporary lives and how institutional and juridical approaches to dealing with the past often give way to a silencing consensus or re marginalising victims

Memory Politics, Identity and Conflict Zheng Wang, 2017-10-10 This book focuses on the methodology of research on historical memory and contributes to theoretical discussions concerning the use of historical memory as a variable to explain political action and social movement The chapters of the book conceptualize the relationship between historical memory and national identity formation perceptions and policy making The author particularly analyses how contested memory and the related social discourse can lead to nationalism and international conflict Based on theories and research from multiple fields of studies this book proposes a series of analytic frameworks for the purpose of conceptualizing the functions of historical memory These analytic frameworks can help categorize measure and subsequently demonstrate the effects of historical memory This book also discusses how to use public opinion polls textbooks important texts and documents monuments and memory sites for conducting research to examine the functions of historical memory

Peace and the politics of memory Johanna Mannergren, Annika Björkdahl, Susanne Buckley-Zistel, Stefanie Kappler, Timothy Williams, 2024-07-09 This important book provides new understandings of how the politics of memory impacts peace in societies transitioning from a violent past It does so by developing a theoretical approach focusing on the intersection of sites agency narratives and events in memory making Drawing on rich empirical studies of mnemonic formations in Cyprus Bosnia and Herzegovina Rwanda South Africa and Cambodia the book speaks to a broad audience The in depth cross case analysis shows that inclusivity pluralism and dignity in memory politics are key to the construction of a just peace The book contributes crucial and timely knowledge about societies that grapple with the painful legacies of the past and advances the study of memory and peace An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence

Agency in Transnational Memory Politics Jenny Wüstenberg, Aline Sierp, 2020-07-01 The dynamics of transnational memory play a central role in modern politics from postsocialist efforts at transitional justice to the global legacies of colonialism Yet the relatively young subfield of transnational memory studies remains underdeveloped and fractured across numerous disciplines even as nascent boundary crossing theories on topics such as multi vocal traveling or entangled remembrance suggest new ways of negotiating difficult political questions This volume brings together theoretical and practical considerations to provide transnational memory scholars with an interdisciplinary investigation into agency the who and the how of cross border commemoration that motivates activists and fascinates observers

The Politics of Memory in Postwar Europe Richard Ned Lebow, Wulf Kansteiner, Claudio Fogu, 2006-09-20 Comparative case studies of how memories of World War II have been constructed and revised in France Germany Austria Switzerland Poland Italy and the USSR Russia

Europeanisation and Memory Politics in the Western Balkans Ana Milošević, Tamara Trošt, 2020-10-15 This volume explores how the process of European integration has influenced collective memory in the countries of the Western Balkans In the region there is still no shared understanding of the causes and consequences of the Yugoslav wars The conflicts of the 1990s but also of WWII and its aftermath have created ethnically confined memory cultures As such divergent interpretations of history continue to trigger confrontations between neighboring countries and hinder the creation of a joint EU perspective In this volume the authors examine how these memory wars impact the European dimension by becoming a tool to either support or oppose Europeanisation The contributors focus on how and why memory is renegotiated exhibited adjusted or ignored in the Europeanisation process
