Cohen, 2006-03-31 Developmental Psychopathology Second Edition contains in three volumes the most complete and current research on every aspect of developmental psychopathology This seminal reference work features contributions from national and international expert researchers and clinicians who bring together an array of interdisciplinary work to ascertain how multiple levels of analysis may influence individual differences the continuity or discontinuity of patterns and the pathways by which the same developmental outcomes may be achieved This volume addresses theoretical perspectives and methodological Trauma, Experience and Narrative in Europe after World War II Ville Kivimäki, Peter Leese, 2021-12-03 This book promotes a historically and culturally sensitive understanding of trauma during and after World War II Focusing especially on Eastern and Central Europe its contributors take a fresh look at the experiences of violence and loss in 1939 45 and their long term effects in different cultures and societies The chapters analyze traumatic experiences among soldiers and civilians alike and expand the study of traumatic violence beyond psychiatric discourses and treatments While acknowledging the problems of applying a present day medical concept to the past this book makes a case for a cultural social and historical study of trauma Moving the focus of historical trauma studies from World War I to World War II and from Western Europe to the east it breaks new ground and helps to explain the troublesome politics of memory and trauma in post 1945 Europe all the way to the present day This book is an outcome of a workshop project Historical Trauma Studies funded by the Joint Committee for the Nordic Research Councils in the Humanities and Social Sciences NOS HS in 2018 20 Chapters 4 5 and 6 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com The Compassionate Mind Approach to Recovering from Trauma Deborah Lee, Sophie James, 2012-07-19 Terrible events are very hard to deal with and those who go through a trauma often feel permanently changed by it Grief numbness anger anxiety and shame are all very common emotional reactions to traumatic incidents such as an accident or death of a loved one and ongoing traumatic events such as domestic abuse How we deal with the aftermath of trauma and our own emotional response can determine how quickly we are able to move on and get back to normality once more An integral part of the recovery process is not only recognising and accepting how our lives may have been changed but also learning to deal with feelings of shame an extremely common reaction to trauma Recovering from Trauma uses the groundbreaking Compassion Focused Therapy to help the reader to not only develop a fuller understanding of how we react to trauma but also to deal with any feelings of shame and start to overcome any trauma related difficulties The Paradox of Trauma and Growth in Pastoral and Spiritual Care Mary Beth Werdel, 2023-10-24 The Paradox of Trauma and Growth in Pastoral and Spiritual Care Night Blooming introduces and bridges the gap between the psychological and spiritual perspectives and responses in trauma work illuminating the complexity of the human phenomenon of growth though suffering that is too easily misunderstood in the context of pastoral and spiritual care Through the hopeful metaphor of night bloomers rare plants that grow because of light but bloom in the darkness it is suggested that while psychological trauma is inherently negative and suffering creates a spiritual inner night moving through it may reveal a new complex reality of the human experience not previously understood We may see ourselves others or the world in a way that is stronger wiser deeper or more brilliant than we had known before The book presents the goal of pastoral and spiritual work is not to extinguish darkness Nor is it to solely focus on the light The work is to learn how to stay awake through the night without glorifying it Such a task is far easier when we believe there might be a rare and uniquely beautiful bloom to stay awake for and that witnessing such a bloom could have great consequences for living a meaningful life

The Experience of Atheism: Phenomenology, Metaphysics and Religion Claude Romano, Robyn

Horner, 2021-05-06 Religious and atheistic belief are presented anew in a volume of essays from leading phenomenologists in both France and the UK Atheism often presented as the negation of religious belief is here engaged with from a phenomenologically informed notion of experience The focus on experience sparks new debates in readings of belief faith and atheism as they relate to and complicate each other What unites the contributors is their relationship to phenomenology as it has developed in France in the wake of Heidegger and Husserl Leading French intellectuals from this context Jean Luc Nancy Quentin Meillassoux and Catherine Malabou amongst others contribute arresting ideas on atheistic faith the death of God and anarchic faith opening up new areas of understanding in a field whose parameters and core concepts are ever shifting Revealing the extent to which religious and atheistic belief must be seen to influence and on a fundamental level to co create one another the pluralistic society in which religious belief is counted as one option amongst many is given primacy The fact that religious faith has become not only optional but also in many contexts strangely alienated from society deeply modifies the experience of the believer as much as that of the non believer A focus on experience over and above belief moves us towards a mode of experiential knowledge which refuses to privilege the atheistic believer and deride the reality of religious belief

Creating a Comprehensive Trauma Center Mary Beth Williams, Lasse A. Nurmi, 2013-03-09 Early Thoughts on Creating Comprehensive Trauma Centers This volume has been many years in writing When Dr Donald Meichenbaum first suggested it and I approached my coauthor Lasse Nurmi it did not seem to be as formidable a task as it has become Interviewing the centers in this book has taken years to get responses to summarize those responses and to return the summaries for further comment Many centers have been created in that time others have suspended operation This volume does not claim to present even a majority of those centers However the ones contained herein are representative of what is out there The idea to create a comprehensive trauma center is not new The initial section of this forward examines thoughts I proposed as part of my comprehensive examination for my doctorate Many of the ideas proposed then 1989 seem to fit now It is my dream to put them into practice someday in the future

THE COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION QUESTION In 1989 one question on the written comprehensive examination questions for my doctorate was If you were to create a comprehensive trauma center in your suburban area making use of what you have learned in your doctoral experience describe the organization of that center the mission structure personnel funding objectives and services it would offer Some of the conclusions reached then now seem applicable to the task at hand designing comprehensive trauma centers CTCs for the 21st century

Intensive Psychotherapy for Persistent Dissociative Processes Richard A. Chefetz, 2015-04-06 Winner of the International Society for the Study of Trauma and Dissociation's ISSTD Pierre Janet Writing Award 2015 What really happens in dissociation Dissociative processes have long burdened trauma survivors with the dilemma of longing to feel real at the same time as they desperately want to avoid the pain that comes with that healing a dilemma that often presents particularly acute difficulties for healing professionals Recent clinical and neurobiological research sheds some light into the dark corners of a mind undergoing persistent dissociation but its integration into the practice of talking therapy has never until now been fully realized Intensive Psychotherapy for Persistent Dissociative Processes brings readers into the consultation room and into the minds of both patient and therapist like no other work on the treatment of trauma and dissociation Richard A Chefetz marries neuroscientific sophistication with a wealth of extended case histories following patients over several years and offering several verbatim session transcripts His unpacking of the emotionally impactful experience of psychodynamic talking therapy is masterfully written clearly accessible and singularly thorough From neurobiological foundations he builds a working understanding of dissociation and its clinical manifestations Drawing on theories of self states and their involvement in dissociative experiences he demonstrates how to identify persistent dissociation and its related psychodynamic processes including repetition compulsion and enactment He then guides readers through the beginning stages of a treatment with particular attention to the psychodynamics of emotion in both patient and therapist The second half of the book immerses readers in emotionally challenging clinical processes offering insight into the neurobiology of fear and depersonalization as well as case examples detailing struggles with histories of incest sexual addiction severe negativity negative therapeutic reactions enactment and object coercive doubting The narrative style of Chefetz s casework is nearly novelistic bringing to life the clinical setting and the struggles in both patient and therapist The only mystery in this clinical exposition as it explores several cases over a number of years is what will happen next In the depth of his examples and in continual self reflexive analysis of flaws in past treatments Chefetz is both a generous guide and an expert storyteller Intensive Psychotherapy for Persistent Dissociative Processes is unique in its ability to place readers in the consultation room of psychodynamic therapy With an evidence focused approach based in neurobiology and a bold clinical scope it will be indispensable to new and experienced therapists alike as they grapple with the most intractable clinical obstacles
