Usdave Your City How To Get Businesses To Help Cut Your Taxes:

HM Revenue & Customs accounts 2010-11 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2011-12-20 The Commons Public Accounts Committee publishes its 61st Report of the Session which on the basis of evidence from the Cabinet Office and HM Revenue and Customs HMRC examined tax disputes At 31 March 2011 HM Revenue Customs was seeking to resolve tax issues valued at over 25 billion with large companies some of which included disputes over outstanding tax In this report the Committee expresses concern about how the Department handled some cases involving large settlements and that there needs to be proper separation between the negotiation of tax settlements and the authorization of such settlements The Committee also states that HMRC made matters worse by trying to avoid scrutiny of these settlements keeping confidential the details of specific settlements with large companies This effects Parliament s ability to establish value for money compounded further by imprecise inconsistent and potentially misleading answers given by senior departmental officials including the Permanent Secretary for Tax in particular over his evidence on his relationship with Goldman Sachs in facilitating a settlement with the company over their tax dispute HMRC governance processes in these matters were inconsistent and it has now appointed two new Commissioners with tax expertise and plans to introduce a new assessor role to permit independent review of large settlements before they are finalised The Committee further states that it saw little evidence of personal accountability within the Department and that a perception has developed that large companies are treated more favourably receiving preferential treatment compared to small businesses and individuals

Southern Agriculturist , 1929 HM Revenue & Customs Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2011-12-20 HM Revenue Customs faces a huge challenge to resolve long standing problems with the administration of PAYE and tax credits while making substantial reductions to its running costs The Department needs to stabilise its administration of PAYE following the problems encountered after a new processing system was introduced in 2009 It also needs to recover a significant amount of outstanding tax credit debt while minimising the amount of new debt being accumulated While 900 million extra has been allocated to tackle tax avoidance at the same time following the 2010 Spending Review the Department is required to reduce its running costs by 1.6 billion over the next four years The Department has made progress in improving PAYE administration since the Committee s last examination of this area in 2010 However as a consequence of the Department s handling of the 2009 transition to the new PAYE Service it has had to forgo up to 1.2 billion of income tax underpaid from 2004-05 to 2009-10 Under current plans it will take until 2013 before all processing backlogs are cleared and the new PAYE Service is operating as intended The Department needs to focus on improving data quality in particular to sustain progress in PAYE administration Without a clear plan for reducing tax credit debt the level of uncollected debt will continue to rise to an estimated 7.4 billion by 2014-15 The Department has been forced to acknowledge that much of this debt will never be recovered from tax credit claimants and recently wrote off some 1.1
