Agreements and Subsequent Practice in Domestic Courts Katharina Berner, 2017-11-21 The book analyses how subsequent agreements and subsequent practice as defined in articles 31 and 32 of the 1969 Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties have been applied in interpretative reality. Based on the jurisprudence of domestic courts it elucidates the distribution of power between the parties to a treaty and other actors. To start with the book traces the origins of subsequent agreements and subsequent practice and places them in their broader legal context. Next it explores the legal status and effects of subsequent agreements and subsequent practice explains why such agreements are only rarely used and defines the relevance of non party practice in the interpretative process. In closing it critically examines how domestic courts have approached the normative heart of subsequent practice i.e. the notion of agreement. Thus this book ultimately challenges the traditional assumption that the parties are the joint masters of the treaty.

Law and Politics in Peaceful Use of Nuclear Energy Xinjun Zhang, 2024-10-28 This book analyzes the law and politics in the peaceful use of nuclear energy The inalienable right as provided for in Article IV of the Treaty on the Non proliferation of Nuclear Weapons NPT has unexpectedly been an interpretation riddle which has brought about many controversies among NPT Party States like those in the 1970s between the U S and its allies and today in the Iranian nuclear problem and in the North Korean nuclear crisis This book offers a detailed review and analysis of the lifetime of the norm on the right to the peaceful use of nuclear energy what factors give rise to a possible design of the dynamic treaty obligation how they are made in drafting the relevant treaty provisions and how subsequent practice plays a role in the interpretation The usefulness of the general rule of interpretation is also challenged in this book and an interdisciplinary perspective on interpretation is otherwise proposed to better understand the interplay of the law and politics in the nuclear nonproliferation regime
