Professional Journal of the United States Army, 2013 Cheating Justice Elizabeth Holtzman, Cynthia Cooper, 2012-02-07 President George W Bush and Vice President Cheney deceived Congress and the people to drive us into a war in Iraq they claimed the right to wiretap illegally and to eavesdrop on citizens and they authorized torture unilaterally upending laws and violating international treaty obligations Yet both Bush and Cheney are audaciously unapologetic about their crimes In his recent memoir President Bush makes no apologies for his decision to start a war in Iraq though no weapons of mass destruction the ostensible reason for the war were found there Regarding his approval of the waterboarding form of torture he proudly said Damn right Time and again throughout his term President Bush proclaimed sternly we do not torture However the 2009 release of secret torture documents revealed otherwise The documents paint a bleak picture of the involvement of President Bush Vice President Cheney and top administration officials in unleashing sanctioning and conspiring in the infliction of torture Holtzman and Cooper cite unlawful torture as only one of the many ways that the Bush Cheney administration transgressed the law trampled the Constitution and harmed the image of the United States around the world Bush and Cheney the authors argue authorized and condoned behavior and practices that starkly violate human rights principles and the rights of American citizens Congress chose not to pursue impeachment despite multitudes of citizens advocating for it Holtzman and Cooper among them New revelations however about the extent and depth of their crimes make the need for accountability imperative Holtzman posits that the failure to indict prosecute or hold accountable officials at the highest level makes a mockery of U S law and sets frightening precedents With Holtzman s legal expertise and Cooper s bold journalism Cheating Justice explains why the nation needs to address the Bush Cheney administration s abuse of power and manipulation of the law As a member of Congress and part of the committee that investigated and held hearings on the conduct of President Richard Nixon in the Watergate scandal Elizabeth Holtzman balks at Bush s echo of Nixon s claim that he was acting in the interest of national security Using Watergate era reforms as a model Holtzman details the steps necessary to undo the damage that the Bush Cheney administration inflicted and explains

how we can establish new protections that will block future presidents from similarly abusing the law Cheating Justice is a call to empower the American people and a firm insistence that the nation's leaders are not above the law

A New Vision of GOD J. Roland Grubb, 2009-10 Human Rights, Suffering, and Aesthetics in Political Prison Literature Yenna Wu, Simona Livescu, 2011-06-16 This interdisciplinary volume of essays studies human rights in political prison literature while probing the intersections of suffering politics and aesthetics in an interliterary and intercultural context As the first book to explore the concept of global aesthetics in political prison narratives it demonstrates how literary insight enhances the study of human rights Covering varied geographical and geopolitical regions this collection encourages comparative analyses and cross cultural understanding Seeking to interrogate linguistic structural and cultural constructions of the political prison experience it highlights the literary aspects without losing sight of the political and the theoretical. The contributors cross various disciplinary boundaries and adopt different interpretive perspectives in analyzing prison narratives especially memoirs from such diverse countries as China, Egypt, Morocco, Syria, Romania, Russia, Uruguay and the U.S. The volume emphasizes the literary works produced since the second half of the twentieth century particularly since the political seismic shift in 1989. The authors treated range from the canonical to the less well known: Nawal El Saadawi, Varlam Shalamov, Zhang Xianliang, Cong Weixi, Wumingshi, Carlos Liscano, Fatna El Bouih, Nabil Sulayman, Faraj Bayraqdar, Hasiba Abdalrahman, Tahar Ben Jelloun, Nicolae Steinhardt, Irina Ratushinskaya etc. Critical issues investigated include how the writers represent their sufferings, experiences and emotions during incarceration, their strategies of survival and how political prison literature can reveal hidden violations of human rights while resisting official discourse and serving other functions in society. Examining the commonalities and differences in global experiences of imprisonment, the eight chapters engage with the aesthetics of self-making and resistance, individual and collective memory, denial and conversion, catharsis and redemption and the experiencing and witnessing of trauma. Topics also include the politics of remembering and the politics of representation such as the problematic relationship between narrative language and representations of torture. Similarly under discussion are prison aesthetics of happiness, the role of spectacle in the criminal justice system and the intersection of prison, gender and silences. At a juncture when more and more people all over the world actively defy repressive regimes and demand political reform, this book makes a timely contribution to the advocacy and discourse of universal human rights.

Why Not Torture Terrorists? Yuval Ginbar, 2008-03-27. The book addresses a dilemma at the heart of the War on Terror: is it ever justifiable to torture terrorists in order to save the lives of innocent civilians, the so-called ticking bomb scenario? The book first analyzes the ticking bomb dilemma as a pure moral one: facing the individual would be the torturer. A never-say-never utilitarian position is pitted against a minimal absolutist view that some acts are never justifiable and that torture is one such act. It then looks at the issues that arise once a state has decided to sanction torture in extreme situations: when, how and whom to torture; the institutionalization of torture; its effects on society; and its efficacy in combatting terrorism in the shorter and longer runs. Four models of legalized torture are next examined, including current ones in Israel and the USA and the idea of torture warrants. Finally, related legal issues are analyzed: among them, the lawfulness of coercive interrogation under international law and attempts to allow torture only after the fact, for instance by applying the criminal law defence of necessity. A minimal absolutist view under which torture, whether by private individuals or by state officials, must be prohibited absolutely in law, policy and practice and allowing no exceptions for ticking bomb situations is defended throughout.
