Songs John Blacking, 1967. Children Dancing in Bali Jonathan McIntosh, 2025-05-01. The question of power and agency between children and adults within the context of traditional Balinese dance remains multilayered. While adults exercise authority over children in formal settings, an alternative dynamic exists outside the confines of traditional performance contexts where children operate as artistic agents. In this illuminating ethnographic study of Balinese dance traditions, Jonathan McIntosh examines how children navigate the nexus of practice, performance, and power through the medium of Balinese culture. From structured dance classes to gatherings that embrace popular music, Children Dancing in Bali spotlights the creative potential of Balinese performance practices to negotiate identity and society. Catalogue of (printed) music. Music. Accessions, pt.[1]-94 British Museum Dept. of Pr. Books, 1884. The Study of Ethnomusicology Bruno Nettl, 1983. The first edition of this book, The Study of Twenty-Nine Issues and Concepts, has become a classic in the field. This revised edition, written twenty-two years after the original, continues the tradition of providing engagingly written analysis that offers the most comprehensive discussion of the field available anywhere. This book looks at the field of ethnomusicology defined as the study of the world's musics from a comparative perspective and the study of all music from an anthropological perspective as a field of research. Nettl selects thirty-one concepts and issues that have been the subjects of continuing debate by ethnomusicologists and he adds four entirely new chapters and thoroughly updates the text to reflect new developments and concerns in the field. Each chapter looks at its subject historically and goes on to make its points with case studies many taken from Nettl's own field experience. Drawing extensively on his field research in the Middle East, Western urban settings and North American Indian societies as well as on a critical survey of the available literature, Nettl advances our understanding of both the diversity and universality of the world's music. This revised edition's four new chapters deal with the doing and writing of musical ethnography, the scholarly study of instruments, aspects of women's music and women in music and the ethnomusicologist's study of his or her own culture.

Female Song Tradition and the Akan of Ghana Kwasi Ampene, 2005

Nnwonkoro is a genre of women's song found among the Akan-speaking peoples of Ghana. It has become a hybrid musical form incorporating songs and dance movements based on traditional practices alongside others reflecting Christian influence. Nnwonkoro groups perform regularly at funerals, on state occasions for entertainment and even in church. In common with other Akan musical traditions, nnwonkoro is transmitted orally and aurally. Based on extensive fieldwork in the Asante and Bono Ahafo regions and featuring many transcriptions of songs, this book investigates the nature of composition in oral culture together with issues such as the scope of the poetic imagination and the transformation processes that accompany modernization. This study illuminates the musical style of nnwonkoro in a way which it is hoped will facilitate future comparative study of African songs. A CD recording is included.
