VERSUS: Heritage for Tomorrow Correia, Mariana,Dipasquale, Letizia,Mecca, Saverio,2014

Vernacular architecture represents a great resource that has considerable potential to define principles for sustainable design and contemporary architecture. This publication is the result of an overall aim to produce a valuable tool for analysis regarding vernacular heritage through different assessments in order to define principles to consider for sustainable development. This was possible through a comprehensive reflection on the principles established and the strategies to recognise in different world contexts. The present publication was the result of an in depth approach by 46 authors from 12 countries concerned with the analysis and critical assessment of vernacular heritage and its sustainable perspective. The book presents 8 chapters addressing operational definitions and synopses, advances regarding the main areas of vernacular heritage contribution to sustainable architecture. It also presents 15 chapters and 53 case studies of vernacular and contemporary approaches in all the 5 continents regarding urban architectural technical and constructive strategies and solutions.

VERSUS HERITAGE FOR TOMORROW: Vernacular Knowledge for Sustainable Architecture is the result of a common effort undertaken by the partners: ESG Escola Superior Gallaecia Portugal as Project leader; CRATERre cole Nationale Sup rieure d Architecture de Grenoble France; DIDA Universit degli Studi di Firenze Italy; DICAAR Universit degli Studi di Cagliari Italy; and UPV Universitat Polit cnica de Val ncia Spain. This is the final outcome of VerSus, an European project developed from 2012 to 2014 in the framework of the Culture 2007-2013 programme.

Heat, a History On Barak, 2024-08-27 With an unrelenting barrage of record breaking temperatures dominating the headlines, an enigma arises: despite the flames licking at our feet, most people fail to fully grasp the gravity of environmental overheating. What acquired habits and mechanisms grant us the capacity to turn a blind eye with an air of detachment? Heat: A History shows how scientific methods of accounting for heat and modern forms of acclimatization have desensitized us to climate change. Ubiquitous air conditioning, shifts in urban planning and changes in mobility all served as temporary remedies for escaping the heat in hotspots such as the twentieth century Middle East. However, all these measures have ultimately fuelled not only greenhouse gas emissions but also a collective myopia regarding the impact of rising temperatures. Identifying the scientific abstractions and economic and cultural forces that have numbed our responses, this book charts a way forward out of short term thinking and towards meaningful action.

Sustainable Vernacular Architecture Ali Sayigh, 2019-03-29 This book discusses applying vernacular strategies to modern architectural design to adhere to basic green principles of energy efficiency and materials utilization. Written from an international perspective, chapters present the perspectives and experiences of architects and engineers from across the globe. Historically successful approaches are integrated with modern design concepts to create novel, sustainable and resource conscious solutions. The scope of topics covered includes natural ventilation, cooling and heating, daylight and shading devices and green micro climate and functional facades, making this a useful reference for a wide range of researchers and workers in the built environment. Covers the most up to date research, developments, best practices and innovations from countries all over the globe. Presents the latest research in vernacular
