Almost Totally compelling Children's Books of the Year Also in this series Worry Warts Puppy Fat Morris Gleitzman's Worry Warts Eva Di Cesare, Daniel Evans, Morris Gleitzman, 2010-01-01 Worry warts is an adaptation for the Monkey Baa Theatre for Young People Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation locale or country are constructed in translated children's literature with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study Issues examined include the selection of books for translation the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry the packaging of translations and the importance of titles blurbs and covers the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children intertextual references the function of the translation in the target culture didactic and pedagogical aims euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback the antipodes the exotic the wild the unknown the void the end of the world the young and innocent nation and the Far West Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban multicultural Aboriginal worldly and inharmonious are seriously under represented The study also shows that French translations are conventional conservative and didactic showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean rural exoticism The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu especially through translated children's literature Fabulating Beauty Andreas Gaile, 2005 Peter Carey is one of Australia's finest creative writers much admired by both literary critics and a worldwide reading public While academia has been quick to see his fictions as exemplars of postcolonial and postmodern writing strategies his general readership has been captivated by his deadpan sense of humour his quirky characters the outlandish settings and the grotesqueries of his intricate plots After three decades of prolific writing and multiple award winning Carey stands out in the world of Australian letters as designated heir to Patrick White Fabulating Beauty pays tribute to Carey's literary achievement. It brings together the voices of many of the most renowned Carey critics in twenty essays, sixteen commissioned especially for this volume, an interview with the author as well as the most extensive bibliography of Carey criticism to date. The studies represent a wide range of current perspectives on the writer's fictions. Something about the Author Alan Hedblad, Anne Commire, 1997

Misery Guts and Worry Warts Morris Gleitzman, The Other Facts of Life Morris Gleitzman, 2004-03-08 Ben stared at the TV. He had never seen anything like it. Fascinating. Incredible. Awful. He had to do something. There are some things Ben doesn't understand, so his dad is sent in to explain the facts of life. But it's the other facts that are worrying Ben, and he decides to find his own answers. He's deadly serious, and the results are very, very funny. On a quest to understand the big issues in life and determined to make those around him listen, Ben navigates his way through the distractions and self-obsessions of those closest to him. This clever and emotional story tackles a relevant issue and will challenge kids' thoughts and perspectives while keeping them thoroughly entertained with its blend of humour and heart. Don't miss out on this insightful and unforgettable tale. PRAISE FOR MORRIS GLEITZMAN Readers can't get enough of him. The Independent A brilliantly funny writer. Sunday Telegraph A virtuoso demonstration of how you can make comedy out of the most unlikely subject. Sunday Times He is one of the finest examples of a writer who can make humour stem from the things that really matter in life. The Guardian Australian Children's Books, 1980-2000 Marcie Muir, Kerry White, 2004 All Australian children's books published from 1989 to 2000 are listed in this essential reference for those who appreciate the richness of Australian writing for children. Following the same format as volumes 1 and 2 in this series, chronicling books published as early as 1774, entries include publishing details, the number of illustrations, and the awards received for each book. This third volume follows the continuing careers of authors such as Mem Fox, Bob Graham, Robin Klein, and Paul Jennings, and traces changes in the popularity of Australian themes and settings to identify publishing trends. Varied cultural aspects of modern-day life are shown, from globalization, commercialism, and the rise of the middle class in Asia to desktop publishing, outcome-based school curricula, and the modern obsession with celebrities, all of which are reflected in the type and quantity of books produced by Australian writers and publishers. The wealth of included material will extend researchers' understanding of the range of Australian children's books. Teacher's Pet Morris Gleitzman, 2003-05-05 Another example of Gleitzman's real talent in writing honest stories that hit home with kids. Kids Book Review LONGLISTED FOR THE 2003 CHILDREN'S PEACE LIT AWARD Ginger is allergic to cats. And possibly to her family as well. She's also not keen on the cat food in her breakfast bowl or the school principal trying to kill her best friend. The question on everyone's lips is: will Ginger snap? Join Ginger as she navigates through her worst week ever, complete with sneezing, allergies, evil Vice Principals, and the feeling of not fitting in. The cast of characters and series of events will have you in stitches, but underneath the hilarity lies a deeper issue of a girl struggling to find her place in the world.
