Saints, Cure-seekers and Miraculous Healing in Twelfth-century England Ruth J. account of the peoples occupying the island of Britain between 400 and 1100 AD whose ideas continue to set the political agenda today Forty years of new archaeological research has laid bare a hive of diverse and disputatious communities of Picts Scots Welsh Cumbrian and Cornish Britons Northumbrians Angles and Saxons who expressed their views of this world and the next in a thousand sites and monuments This highly illustrated volume is the first book that attempts to describe the experience of all levels of society over the whole island using archaeology alone The story is drawn from the clothes faces and biology of men and women the images that survive in their poetry the places they lived the work they did the ingenious celebrations of their graves and burial grounds their decorated stone monuments and their diverse messages This ground breaking account is aimed at students and archaeological researchers at all levels in the academic and commercial sectors It will also inform relevant stakeholders and general readers alike of how the islands of Britain developed in the early medieval period Many of the ideas forged in Britain's formative years underpin those of today as the UK seeks to find a consensus programme for its future Health and Architecture Mohammad Gharipour, 2021-05-06 Health and Architecture offers a uniquely global overview of the healthcare facility in the pre modern era engaging in a cross cultural analysis of the architectural response to medical developments and the formation of specialized hospitals as an independent building typology Whether constructed as part of Chinese palaces in the 15th century or the religious complexes in 16th century Ottoman Istanbul the healthcare facility throughout history is a built environment intended to promote healing and caring The essays in this volume address how the relationships between architectural forms associated with healthcare and other buildings in the pre modern era such as bathhouses almshouses schools and places of worship reflect changing attitudes towards healing They explore the impact of medical advances on the design of hospitals across various times and geographies and examine the historic construction processes and the stylistic connections between places of care and other building types and their development in urban context Deploying new methodological interdisciplinary and comparative approaches to the analysis of healthcare facilities Health and Architecture demonstrates how the spaces of healthcare themselves offer some of the most powerful and practical articulations of therapy Material Change Jan De Maeyer, Peter Jan Margry, 2021-12-17 The long nineteenth century c 1780 c 1920 in Western Europe saw an unprecedented rise in the production and possession of material goods The material culture diversified and led to a rich variety of expressions Dovetailing with a process of confessionalisation that manifested itself quite simultaneously material religion witnessed its heyday in this period from church buildings to small devotional objects The present volume analyses how various types of reform state societal and ecclesiastical that were part of the process of modernisation affected the material devotional culture within Protestantism Anglicanism and Roman Catholicism Although the contributions in this book start from a comparative European perspective the case studies mostly focus on individual countries in North West Europe namely Germany Belgium the Netherlands the United Kingdom Ireland Norway Sweden and Denmark The concept of material religion is approached in a very inclusive way The volume discusses amongst others parish infrastructures and religious buildings that are part of land and cityscapes but also looks into interior design and decorations of chapels churches monasteries cemeteries and educational charitable and health institutions It comprises the fine arts of religious painting and sculpture the applied arts and iconographic designs As far as private material culture is concerned this volume examines and presents objects related to private devotion at home including a great variety of popular devotional and everyday life objects such as booklets cards photographs and posters

Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Johnathan Djabarouti, 2024-01-23 Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Evolving Perspectives supports an alternative point of departure for engaging with the historic built environment by critically questioning the legitimacy of dominant conservation concepts and methods that are often taken for granted within building conservation architecture and adaptive reuse The meaning of heritage is changing From pastness to presentness from preservation to participation and from tangible to intangible heritage is increasingly understood as a dynamic social and intangible process across many disciplines Consequently the role and remit of the built heritage practitioner and in particular the architectural conservationist is becoming progressively complex and in need of a critical gaze Is restoration really a falsehood from beginning to end Should the condition of existing materials determine the conservation method Is authenticity really an inherent quality within old buildings By engaging with a critical interpretation of heritage this book makes space for practitioners to consider the evolution of their own role within a rapidly changing context of built heritage practice Reinforced by a shift in emphasis from materials to meanings a socio material outlook is proposed which champions an enhanced focus on intangible heritage within the built heritage sector whilst still acknowledging the physical condition of old buildings is a priority for many stakeholders This book has been written with practitioners students and educators of architectural conservation in mind although will also be of relevance to the broader built heritage industry as well as academics researchers and heritage students with a passion for contemporary dialogues in heritage studies
