The Wrong House The Architecture Of Alfred Hitchcock:

The Wrong House Steven Jacobs, 2007 Architecture plays an important role In the films of Alfred Hitchcock Steven Jacobs devotes lengthy discussion to a series of domestic buildings with the help of a number of reconstructed floor plans made specially for this book Cinematic Starchitecture Merrill Schleier, Paul Newland, 2025-11-03 Cinematic Starchitecture explores how examples of famous architecture have circulated throughout cinema history across diverse genres Building on the term starchitecture coined in 1997 for dramatic monumental structures designed to gain international attention and economic advantage the authors demonstrate that a crucial part of an architectural structure's iconic star status emerges through its engagement with and codification by the media and with cinema in particular This book explores how iconic architectural structures have performed a myriad of roles and functions that exceed buildings everyday uses or identities as aesthetic objects location markers or spatial settings to show that countless films globally have featured famous buildings as inimitable components of narrative exposition character development and or identity construction This volume will appeal to students scholars and researchers of film studies media studies and architecture and architectural history as well as those in the areas of media and cultural studies history popular culture and urban geography □□□□□, 1971

Spectacle of Property John David Rhodes, 2017-12-15 Much of our time at the movies is spent in other people's homes Cinema is after all often about everyday life Spectacle of Property is the first book to address the question of the ubiquitous conjuncture of the moving image and its domestic architecture Arguing that in cinema we pay to occupy spaces we cannot occupy John David Rhodes explores how the house in cinema both structures and criticizes fantasies of property and ownership Rhodes tells the story of the ambivalent but powerful pleasure we take in looking at private property onscreen analyzing the security and ease the house promises along with the horrible anxieties it produces He begins by laying out a theory of film spectatorship that proposes the concept of the spectator tenant with reference to films such as Gone with the Wind and The Magnificent Ambersons The book continues with three chapters that are each occupied with a different architectural style and the films that make use of it the bungalow the modernist house and the shingle style house Rhodes considers a variety of canonical films rarely analyzed side by side such as Psycho in relation to Grey Gardens and Meet Me in St Louis Among the other films discussed are Meshes of the Afternoon Mildred Pierce A Star Is Born Killer of Sheep and A Single Man Bringing together film history film theory and architectural history as no book has to date Spectacle of Property marks a new milestone in examining cinema's relationship to realism while leaving us vastly more informed about if less at home inside the houses we occupy at the movies Architect, 2008-04 Flanders Architectural Yearbook 06-07 Gideon Boie, 2008 Blueprint, 2008 The Architecture of Suspense Christine Madrid French, 2022-09-08 The inimitable haunting films of Alfred Hitchcock took place in settings both exterior and interior that deeply impacted our experiences of his most unforgettable works From the enclosed spaces of Rope and Rear Window to the wide open expanses of North by Northwest the physical worlds inhabited by desperate characters are a crucial element in our perception of the Hitchcockian universe As Christine Madrid French reveals in this original and indispensable book Hitchcock's relation to the built world was informed by an intense engagement with location and architectural form in an era marked by modernism's advance fueled by some of the most creative midcentury designers in film Hitchcock saw elements of the built world not just as scenic devices but as interactive areas to frame narrative exchanges In his films building forms also serve a sentient purpose to capture and convey feelings sensations and moments that generate an emotive response from the viewer Visualizing the contemporary built landscape allowed the director to illuminate Americans everyday experiences as well as their own uncertain relationship with their environment and with each other French shares several untold stories such as the real life suicide outside the Hotel Empire in Vertigo which foreshadowed uncannily that film's tragic finale and takes us to the actual buildings that served as the inspiration for Psycho's infamous Bates Motel Her analysis of North by Northwest uncovers the Frank Lloyd Wright underpinnings for Robert Boyle's design of the modernist house from the film's celebrated Mount Rushmore sequence and ingeniously establishes the Vandamm House as the prototype of the cinematic trope of the villain's lair She also shows how the widespread unemployment of the 1930s resulted in a surge of gifted architects transplanting their careers into the film industry These practitioners created sets that drew from contemporary design schools of thought and referenced real structures both modern and historic The Architecture of Suspense is the first book to document how these great architectural minds found expression in Hitchcock's films and how the director used their talents and his own unique vision to create an enduring and evocative cinematic world Publication of this volume was assisted by a grant from Furthermore a program of the J M Kaplan Fund Western Motel Kunsthalle Wien, 2008 ID, 2007
