1. Globalization introduced widespread economic, social, political, and cultural transformations -- good and bad -- in Asia. In some places, these transformations prompted cultural crises and backlash issuing from more traditional, conservative groups. Compare Lynch's "Mala's Dream" and Kang's "Surfing the Korean Wave." What caused economic upheaval in each case? What was the connection between those upheavals and crises surrounding masculinity? How and why did such crises lead to the privileging of traditional genders and sexualities against 'global' ones?
2. A notable change in contemporary Asian societies is the growing prominence of women in the public sphere, as can be seen in Joo's "Consuming Vision: The Crowds of the Korean World Cup" and Smith-Hefner's "Javanese Women and the Veil." In these cases, how did young women display their independence, gender and sexual equality, and political power through their new self-fashioned identities? How did these empowered identities differ from those of the previous generation? What did these women seek to communicate publicly through their appearance and behavior?

The Vocation of Evelyn Waugh D. Marcel DeCoste, 2016-03-09 Arguing against the critical commonplace that Evelyn Waugh's post war fiction represents a decline in his powers as a writer D Marcel DeCoste offers detailed analyses of Waugh's major works from Brideshead Revisited to Unconditional Surrender Rather than representing an ill advised departure from his true calling as an iconoclastic satirist DeCoste suggests these novels form a cohesive artful whole precisely as they explore the extent to which the writer's and the Catholic's vocations can coincide For all their generic and stylistic diversity these novels pursue a new sustained exploration of Waugh's art and faith both As DeCoste shows Waugh offers in his later works an under remarked meditation on the dangers of a too avid devotion to art in the context of modern secularism forging in the second half of his career a literary achievement that both narrates and enacts a contrary and Catholic literary vocation reality and hope Its chapters reframe the concept of gap acknowledging distances for example acknowledging old insights and theory while also honoring teacher discovery However it refuses to bow under the weight of these challenges Its contributors focus instead on how to overcome acknowledged inadequacies in learning how to teach writing as well as how to practice principled literacy instruction These contributors see gaps not as unbridgeable chasms but rather as opportunities to educate their students to use writing to understand the broader context of their education and pre service candidates to adapt curriculum creatively Contributors include new and seasoned secondary school teachers graduate students and university faculty who together remind us of old insights needing to be passed along Villanueva and show us new practices that challenge the conventions of the status quo and promote social justice To close the gaps in short they demonstrate how rhetoric and truth are intertwined In a time when too many children continue to be left behind this book should be required reading for all literacy teachers because it is in our continued willingness to learn from each other that hope resides
