Vostok Amphibia Review:

Corridors to Extinction and the Australian Megafauna Steve Webb, 2013-02-27 Extinctions have always occurred and always will so what is so surprising about the megafauna extinctions They were caused by humans and were the first of many extinctions that eventually led to the extinction of the Moa Steller's Sea Cow the Dodo Great Auk and countless other species great and small all attributed to human agency Therefore the megafauna were humans first great impact on the planet There is now an increasing realization that the blitzkrieg view of these extinctions may have been wrong A growing body of evidence and long term field work is beginning to show that at least Australia's megafauna did not succumb to human agency not because humans probably did not hunt the odd animal but because the an infinitely more logical reason lies in the climatic conditions of the Quaternary Ice Ages and the affect they had on continental geography environment climate and most importantly the biogeography of the megafauna This book presents the evidence of this theory demonstrating the biogeographic approach to Australia's megafauna extinction Written clearly to benefit a diverse level of readers from those with a passing interest to professionals in the field Examines future climate change and its effects on the planet by looking at examples buried in the past Presents new evidence from extensive field research Palaeozoic Climate Cycles A. Gąsiewicz, M. Słowakiewicz, 2014-02-03 This volume presents results of a variety of case studies documenting the Late Palaeozoic climate changes and cyclicity of deposition The collected papers cover many aspects related to palaeoenvironmental analysis with sedimentological stratigraphic palaeobiological geochemical and palaeomagnetic studies of the fossil record around the Late Palaeozoic Ice Age and soon after They span a stratigraphic interval from Carboniferous to Permian Triassic transition around the world This book comprising results for a range of disciplines is a valuable source for not only researchers who are actively working on specific aspects of the Late Palaeozoic and looking for an up to date reference on this inhospitable time in the Earth's history It is also of interest to climate modellers and the wider scientific community with an interest in the latest research on the decline of the Palaeozoic World Monthly Index of Russian Accessions Library of Congress.
