World Class Performance The Commitment The Pursuit The Achievement:

World Class Performance Through Total Quality Paul. Spenley, 2012-12-06 TOTAL QUALITY MANAGEMENT TQM A COMPETITIVE EDGE In the context of the European and Western manufacturing challenge being set by the Far Eastern Machine it is of critical importance that manufacturing competitiveness is improved in Western companies The ability to export successfully is becoming even more critical to the economic well being of developed countries worldwide The Japanese domination of the motor cycle and domestic consumer markets has had a significant impact on the balance of payments in Western Europe and the USA All the signs are that Japanese companies are ready and able to enter other markets aggressively through takeovers acquisitions and off shore manufacturing facilities In Western Europe the creation of the Single Market in 1992 has provided major opportunities for companies to increase their market share Unfortunately many companies in the West have shown an inability to succeed even in their market when faced with tough well organized opposition such as that from the Far East There is very little time left for Western companies to catch up the challenge is becoming more fiercely competitive daily The time to improve competitive edge may be too late for many companies as the European frontiers are dismantled and the Japanese companies continue to build off shore plants in Europe For example it is a fact that companies are increasingly x PREFACE being forced to achieve world class manufacturing capability in order to compete and in many cases survive

Quality is a customer issue It arises because customers require products and services which not only meet their performance requirements but are satisfactory in terms of safety length of working life and pride of ownership In a manufacturing organization therefore the achievement of quality standards is not restricted to the production departments It extends to all parts of the business from conceptual design to marketing from order processing and distribution A quality product is not just a solidly made item dating from the days when Made in Britain distinguished goods from all the inferior products coming out of the emerging industries of the Far East It is a product which ranks high against all the criteria which sophisticated consumers now use to evaluate the things they buy If you agree with the argument that a company is much more likely to produce high quality if all departments are motivated to achieve high quality results then you already have a good understanding of the basic principles of Total Quality Management TQM But TQM is not a quick fix or a magic cure It is a management technique designed to involve all parts of the business in the pursuit of and commitment to the highest quality result By involving everyone from the Chief Executive to the most junior employee in the company s objectives in a way which means something in their particular job the company is well on the way to achieving the best results its workforce can achieve
