The World Trade Organization David Collins, 2015-09-03 One of the most important yet least understood organizations in the world the WTO is a lynchpin of globalization allowing us to enjoy products and services from around the globe However it also lays bare the frailty of many industries leading some to claim that it stokes unemployment and harms the developing world In this engaging introduction David Collins examines the goals of the WTO and the difficulties experienced by member countries struggling to adapt to the pressures of globalization Refuting the argument that the WTO should expand its mandate to cover wider social issues Collins demonstrates how this would confuse the organization's primary objective to liberalize international trade With case studies straight from the headlines and clear explanations of complex issues like regional trade agreements and currency manipulation this lucid exposition is an essential insight into what the WTO does and how it fits into the world we know

The Interaction between World Trade Organisation (WTO) Law and External International Law Ronnie R.F. Yearwood, 2012-05-23 International legal scholarship is concerned with the fragmentation of international law into specialised legal systems such as trade environment and human rights Fragmentation raises questions about the inter systemic interaction between the various specialised systems of international law This study conceptually focuses on the interaction between World Trade Organisation WTO law and external international law It introduces a legal theory of WTO law constrained openness as a way to understand that interaction The idea is that WTO law from its own internal point of view constructs its own law The effect is that external international law is not incorporated into WTO law wholesale but is re constructed as WTO law It follows that legal systems do not directly communicate with each other Therefore to influence WTO law an indirect strategic approach is required which recognises the functional nature of the differentiated systems of the fragmented international legal system
