Peter S Pall Robert Lockwood,2017-05-12 The story balanced two major issues the Museum of Restituted Art and the Hampton Classic Accordingly information was liberally secured from the related sources those pertaining to the equestrian world and to the immense amounts of literature and numbers of organizations seeking resolutions of ownership of looted art The Hampton Classic this having been its forty first year continues to involve founding members who modestly revere its evolution as if ones own favored child and who shrink only from promoting and individually acknowledging themselves over the hundreds of other committed equestrians that have elevated the horse show to such international prominence No such anonymity attaches to the individuals institutions and organizations struggling for justice regarding Nazi looted art Theirs is to make known to all potential claimants that they stand ready to storm the gates to rightful recovery of their legacies Regrettably the United States of America home to many such claimants has not been able to properly reconfigure the mosaic of conflicting interests that hinder justice Despite well meaning conferences laws and even institutionalized governmental efforts America stands well behind modern Germany for example as an inviting beacon Even the early Washington Conference of 1998 would plead but neither demand nor ever enforce laws rules and regulations compelling museums to provide a fair and just solution to Nazi era claimants The 1970 UNESCO baseline principles find no receptivity here The FBI's own National Stolen Art File NSAF is largely ignored by holders of Nazi assets Vacuous files such as that of the Nazi Era Provenance Internet Portal NEPIP intended to be the sine qua non registry gives the viewer a feeling of entertainment without a punch line The ethical guidelines of the American Association of Museums AAM reads more like a childish time out lecture than a serious behavioral code What then is there to acknowledge In a word failure
