brisk a tall man strode along the edge of the pavement with a lady on his arm Angry glances struck upon their backs The small agitated figures for in comparison with this couple most people looked small decorated with fountain pens and burdened with despatch boxes had appointments to keep and drew a weekly salary so that there was some reason for the unfriendly stare which was bestowed upon Mr Ambrose s height and upon Mrs Ambrose s cloak But some enchantment had put both man and woman beyond the reach of malice and unpopularity In his guess one might guess from the moving lips that it was thought and in hers from the eyes fixed stonily straight in front of her at a level above the eyes of most that it was sorrow It was only by scorning all she met that she kept herself from tears and the friction of people brushing past her was evidently painful After watching the traffic on the Embankment for a minute or two with a stoical gaze she twitched her husband s sleeve and they crossed between the swift discharge of motor cars When they were safe on the further side she gently withdrew her arm from his allowing her mouth at the same time to relax to tremble then tears rolled down and leaning her elbows on the balustrade she shielded her face from the curious Mr Ambrose attempted consolation he patted her shoulder but she showed no signs of admitting him and feeling it awkward to stand beside a grief that was greater than his he crossed his arms behind him and took a turn along the pavement
