The ROV HandBook Giancarlo Icolari, 2018-01-01 It is innate in human being to discover and explore what they do not know and the ocean is one of those The sea covers 71% of the earth s surface We know the five great oceans are Pacific Atlantic Indian Arctic and Antarctic but we know only the 10% of the deep sea and we know less than 10% of the creatures that live there Definitely one of the factors that has played as an antagonist in the knowledge of the sea was the absence of technologies to explore the depths Fortunately in 60 years man has made great strides managing to get to touch even the deepest point of the abyss the Mariana Trench and this is thanks to modern technology as ROV The ROVs are used in scientific research in the Oil Gas defense research for humanitarian purposes in the construction and maintenance of marine culture such as support to renewable energy nuclear in archeology in the hunt for treasures and openings of sea mines Many people are wondering what ROVs are and what they are used for others are wondering how to become a ROV Operator The purpose of this manual is not only to give an answer to these questions but also to teach future ROV pilots how to become professionals marine robotics

Information and communication technologies for small-scale fisheries (ICT4SSF) - A handbook for fisheries stakeholders Tilley, A. and Roscher, M. (Ed.), The aim of this report is to present evidence towards how Information and Communication Technologies for Small scale Fisheries ICT4SSF might enable and support the implementation of the FAO s Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines We present case studies of ICT4SSF initiatives in different use areas to identify key themes and reflect on successes and failures There are very few baselines against which to compare fisher wellbeing and access before and after ICT initiatives and this gap is an important finding in this report Thus far success has only been assessed qualitatively and relatively in terms of uptake sustainability and local legitimacy Still some ICT4SSF initiatives presented in this document are closely aligned with the Principles for Digital Development and the objectives of the SSF Guidelines These initiatives highlighted that when ICTs are locally led or developed or co designed with end users and marginalised groups or strengthened already existing networks and technologies the potential for positive impact is much higher However there is much less evidence of proactive confrontation of inequality through data ownership Further there are very few examples of developing mechanisms for fishers and fish workers to hold access or own their data or legal mechanisms to recognise their ownership or protect them against misuse or manipulation
