What Do Patients Want Psychoanalytic Perspectives From The Couch:

What do Patients Want? Christine A. S. Hill, 2018-04-17 This book allows patients to speak for themselves about their psychoanalytic experiences It challenges the preconceived perception that the analytic practitioner knows best when it comes to treatment and responds to the growing sophistication of those seeking the treatment Psychoanalysis and the Birth of the Self Mark Leffert, 2018-05-23 This book draws psychoanalysis out of unsubstantiated hermeneutic speculation and into the science and philosophy of the Self Mark Leffert offers a survey of where we as human beings come from going back into prehistory and our development as individuals Psychoanalysis and the Birth of the Self is written to provide psychoanalysts with interdisciplinary information drawn from fields that they may have had little access to Leffert undertakes a novel integration of topics not frequently discussed together resulting in a radical critique of the theorization of psychoanalysis The book begins by setting the story with a short analysis of the history of psychoanalysis A new science has been founded on the recognition of the impossibility of separating evolution from development it is called Evo Devo Applied to the human condition it integrates development with palaeoanthropology and forms the basis for exploring such topics as the neurophilosophy of consciousness the birth of the Self and its neurodevelopment It includes epigenetics in the conversation Leffert then takes a radical turn integrating the biological Evo Devo of the Self with the study of its Existence that is Existentialism and Phenomenology The integration of these two threads Evo Devo and Existentialism offers a powerful and unique tool for exploring the Self The author offers an innovative way of understanding an individual that pulls together their biology their development and the way they choose to exist in the world It steps outside of the traditional ways of clinically understanding an individual not by abandoning them but rather by powerfully supplementing them Psychoanalysis and the Birth of the Self offers a novel interdisciplinary braiding of disparate strands of knowledge that will be of interest to psychoanalysts as well as those in the disciplines of neuroscience existentialism and phenomenology and anthropology

From Id to Intersubjectivity Dianna T. Kenny, 2018-05-01 Psychoanalysis has moved a long way from the techniques of classical psychoanalysis but these changes have not been understood or disseminated to the wider community Even university scholars and students of psychology have an archetypal view of the original form of psychoanalysis and do not appreciate that major changes have occurred This book commences with a detailed outline of the origins of psychoanalysis and an explanation of key terms which are often misinterpreted The second chapter examines the changes that have occurred in theorising and practice over the past 120 years and explores key developments The following chapters contain an interview with a practitioner working in one of each of the four major branches of modern psychoanalysis object relations attachment informed psychotherapy intensive short term dynamic psychotherapy and relational and intersubjective theory There follows textual content conceptual and thematic analyses of the transcripts of interviews and commentaries on a therapy excerpt exploring commonalities and differences among these theoretical approaches The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 19 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis turns to the ever intriguing relationship between Psychoanalysis and Art This introductory section begins with Donald Kuspit's scholarly reflections on the role of analysis in visual art and art criticism and then proceeds to a series of topical studies on Freud and art introduced by Harry Trosman Egyptologist Lorelei Corcoran explores the Egypt of Freud's imagination thereby illuminating our understanding of the archaeological metaphor Marion Tolpin offers new insights into Freud's analysis of the American writer Hilda Doolittle by focusing on the meaning of the Goddess Athene whose statue rested on Freud's desk to both analyst and analysand Stephen Toulmin examines Freud's artistic sensibility and places the historical significance of Freud's art collection in bold relief by looking at the many contemporary art objects Freud chose not to collect Danielle Knafo identifies key events in the early life of Austrian Expressionist Egon Schiele that were primary determinants of the content and form of his self portraits And Barbara Almond examines the spontaneous healing process depicted in Margaret Drabble's novel The Needle's Eye as an analogue to the kind of growth and development mobilized by the psychoanalytic process Section II Psychoanalysis and Development begins with Barbara Fajardo's appreciation of the contribution of biology to analyzability she reviews findings from both infant research and biogenetic research that tend toward an understanding of constitution as resilience in development and subsequently in treatment Benjamin Garber adds to the psychoanalytic understanding of childhood learning disabilities by presenting the three and a half year analysis of a learning disabled child In a fascinating two part contribution Bridging the Chasm Between Developmental Theory and Clinical Theory Joseph Palombo sheds light on some of the knottiest problems in contemporary analysis including the relationship between childhood events and the reconstruction of those events in treatment In Section III Psychoanalysis and Empathy Mary Newsome presents case material in support of her claim that the analyst's empathic understanding catalyzes the coalescence of the patient's affect and aim that is the patient's capacity to believe in and then realize his ambitions The acquisition of the capacity she contends not only betokens a specific kind of structure formation but is the bedrock of emerging self cohesion Her challenging paper is thoughtfully discussed by David Terman and Jerome Winer Section IV of The Annual offers Jerome Kavka's appreciation of the work of N Lionel Blitzsten 1893 1952 Blitzsten the first Chicago psychoanalyst and one of America's most gifted clinicians and teachers anticipated modern concepts of narcissism in identifying narcissistic neuroses with special treatment requirements Morris Sklansky furthers our understanding of Blitzsten in his discussion of Kavka's essay Ranging across the analytic canvas with presentations as edifying as they are provocative volume 19 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis challenges readers to wrestle with issues at the cutting edge of the discipline It takes a well deserved place in the preeminent continuing series in the field

Psychoanalytic Practice Helmut Thomä, Horst Kächele, 1988 We are pleased to present the second volume of our study on Psychoanalytic Practice which we entitle Clinical Studies Together the two volumes fulfill the functions usually expected of a textbook on theory and technique In fact some reviewers have asked why such a title was not chosen One of the reasons for our narrower choice was that our primary concern is focused on those aspects of psychoanalytic theory that are relevant to treatment. The first volume entitled Principles has evoked much interest within and outside the professional community creating high expectations to ward its clinical counterpart. After all psychoanalytic principles must demonstrate their value and efficacy in treatment i.e. in achieving changes in symptoms and their underlying structures. This is apparent in the clinical studies contained in this book and in the process of compiling them the senior author has had the opportunity to take stock of his long professional career.
