Western Fictions Black Realities Meanings Of Blackness And Modernities:

Western Fictions, Black Realities Isabel Soto, Violet Showers Johnson, 2011 This anthology interrogates two salient concepts in studying the black experience. Ushered in with the age of New World encounters, modernity emerged as brutal, complex and multiple from its very definition to its manifestations. Equally challenging is blackness, which is forever dangling between the range of uplifting articulations and insidious degradation. The essays confront the conflicting confluences of these two terms. Questioning Eurocentric and mainstream American interpretations, they reveal the diverse meanings of modernities and blackness from an equally diverse set of milieus of the black experience. Interdisciplinary and wide-ranging in thematic and epochal scope, they use theoretical and empirical studies to demonstrate that indeed blackness is relevant for understanding modernities and vice versa.

The Blaxploitation Horror Film Jamil Mustafa, 2023-05-15 This book is the first to focus upon Blaxploitation horror films and the first to link these films with both mainstream horror films and classic Gothic novels and stories. This book provides readers with innovative and thought-provoking analyses of Blaxploitation horror films, conventional horror films and major works of Gothic fiction. It considers how Blaxploitation horror films of the 1970s addressed issues of deep concern to their contemporary audiences, including not only racism and the Black Power movement but also women's and gay rights, the status of the African American family, the role of religion and relations between the community and the police.

Ethnic Historians and the Mainstream Alan M. Kraut, David A. Gerber, 2013-11-06 Do historians write their biographies with the subjects they choose to address in their research? In this collection, editors Alan M. Kraut and David A. Gerber compiled eleven original essays by historians whose own ethnic backgrounds shaped the choices they have made about their own research and writing as scholars. These authors, historians of American immigration and ethnicity, revisited family and personal experiences and reflect on how their lives helped shape their later scholarly pursuits at times inspiring specific questions they asked of the nation's immigrant past. They address issues of diversity, multiculturalism and assimilation in academia, in the discipline of history and in society at large. Most have been pioneers not only in their respective fields but also in representing their ethnic group within American academia. Some of the women in the group were in the vanguard of gender diversity in the discipline of history as well as on the faculties of the institutions where they have taught. The authors in this collection represent a wide array of backgrounds spanning Europe, Africa, Asia, the Middle East and Latin America. What they have in common is their passionate engagement with the making of social and personal identities and with finding a voice to explain their personal stories in public terms.
