What American Women Did, 1789-1920 Linda Miles Coppens, 2007-10-15 This reference book chronicles what American women did from the emergence of the republic through the end of World War I and the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment A broad spectrum of activities are depicted showing their many accomplishments and how their activities affected the world around them It was an era of great transition for all women A who's who of American women and some men those who showed great support or ironically great opposition to women's reform are described one year at a time beginning with 1789 and ending with 1920. Each year's activities are organized into seven possible categories: domesticity, work, education, religion, the arts, the law, and politics, and joining forces. The book is thoroughly indexed. Emma Spaulding Bryant Emma Frances Spaulding Bryant, 2004. In this collection of letters, Emma's writings reveal a woman of determination, faith, and integrity who embraced her own causes of women's rights and temperance while maintaining full support for her husband's controversial agenda. Covering her life in Buckfield, Maine, from her marriage to a captain in the Eighth Maine Infantry to her move to Georgia as the wife of one of the prominent figures in Reconstruction politics, the letters open a window on what life was like for an intelligent, independent woman during three of America's most turbulent decades.
