Theatre and Globalization Patrick Lonergan, 2009-01-15 WINNER OF THE 2008 THEATRE BOOK PRIZE Globalization is transforming theatre everywhere As writers seek to exploit new opportunities to produce their work internationally audiences are seeing the world and the stage differently And as national borders became more fluid the barriers between economics and culture are also becoming weaker In this groundbreaking study Patrick Lonergan explores these developments placing them in the context of the transformation of Ireland the most globalized country in the world since the early 1990s Drawing on archival material that has never before been published this study sheds new light on the culture of Celtic Tiger Ireland focusing on such writers as Brian Friel Sean O'Casey Marie Jones Martin McDonagh Marina Carr and Conor McPherson In doing so it shows how globalization poses difficult questions for authors and audiences and reveals how we can begin to come to terms with these new developments

Theatre, Globalization and the Cold War Christopher B. Balme, Berenika Szymanski-Düll, 2017-06-05 This book examines how the Cold War had a far reaching impact on theatre by presenting a range of current scholarship on the topic from scholars from a dozen countries They represent in turn a variety of perspectives methodologies and theatrical genres including not only Bertolt Brecht Jerzy Grotowski and Peter Brook but also Polish folk dancing documentary theatre and opera production The contributions demonstrate that there was much more at stake and a much larger investment of ideological and economic capital than a simple dichotomy between East versus West or socialism versus capitalism might suggest Culture and theatrical culture in particular with its high degree of representational power was recognized as an important medium in the ideological struggles that characterize this epoch Most importantly the volume explores how theatre can be reconceptualized in terms of transnational or even global processes which it will be argued were an integral part of Cold War rivalries

Greig's theatre works by undoing cracking or breaking apart myriad elements to reveal the holed porous nature of all things. Solomon, 2010-02 Globalization History Historiography The Making of a Modern Indian Theatre analyzes the cultural impact of globalization's economic historical and political processes on the making of the modern Indian theatre In so doing the book wrestles with such matters as imperialism and Orientalism colonial knowledge and historiography metropolitan elite and regional folk popular cultures Hindu and Islamic fundamentalisms transnational flows of ideologies of liberal democracy and modernity historiographies of nation formation and nationalist and nativist movements The Methuen Drama Guide to Contemporary Irish Playwrights Martin Middeke, Peter Paul

Schnierer, 2010-05-28 A thorough and insightful study of the work of twenty five important Irish playwrights The Local Meets the Global in Performance Pirkko Koski, Melissa Sihra, 2010-02-19 This anthology explores the ways in which theatre and performance functions at the interstices of contemporary local and global networks Theatre and performance occurs in time and space and exists between the audience and performer as a communicative event This local world of experience and human interactivity is not easily subsumed by global networks or commercial systems and remains a potent force of expression and at times resistance The volume offers a range of critical viewpoints from which to evaluate the interrelationality of the local and the global such as philosophical cosmopolitanism post colonialism feminism class ethnicity gender and the experience of the diasporic or exilic artist The anthology concludes with a reflection between Janelle Reinelt and Marvin Carlson upon the ideas put forth in the book and the broader connectivities of the local and the global Reinelt and Carlson reveal that these concepts should not be regarded in opposition but rather as entangled something which is reflected in this volume as a whole A number of international productions and performance practices are discussed from diverse geographical and cultural perspectives illuminating the complexity of the local and the global As Reinelt suggests The global local category as a hyphenated concept has become a slogan now a cliché even It first arose because the local was supposed to save the global from totalisation but in fact the global local concept became in reality so complex that this opposition was not useful anymore Carlson's and Reinelt's engagement with the essays and with the broader issues of the global and the local marks an important intervention into how we process experience through theatre and performance in the world today Contributors include Marvin Carlson Shams Eldin Lynette Hunter Pirkko Koski Yana Meerzon Yasushi Nagata Janelle Reinelt Heike Roms Nehad Selaiha Melissa Sihra Juha Sihvola Joanne Tompkins Denise Varney and Farah Yeganeh
