

MARGARET A. OGOLA

A young girl with dark skin and short, curly hair is shown from the chest up, looking back over her right shoulder towards the camera. She is wearing a light-colored, possibly white, tank top. The background is a serene sunset or sunrise scene over a body of water, with a soft orange glow on the horizon and a deep blue sky with scattered clouds. The overall mood is contemplative and peaceful.

Themes In The River And The Source:

A Study Guide to The River and the Source Margaret Roche, Violet Musyoka, 1998 A Comprehensive Guide to Margaret A. Ogola's The River and the Source J. O. Oloo, 1999 The Global Positioning System and GIS, Second Edition Michael Kennedy, 2002-04-18

The Global Positioning System and Geographical Information Systems working in tandem provide a powerful tool. Recent developments such as the removal of Selective Availability have not merely made these technologies more accurate but have also opened up a new seam of applications particularly in location based services. The Global Positioning System and GIS is a clear text and guide to the use and integration of these powerful technologies with each topic combining an overview with a step by step approach. This significantly revised and extended second edition now comes with a set of resources on a CD ROM including an instructor's guide, demonstration data and exercises. It is a straightforward introductory text for students and teachers on GIS/GPS courses as well as a practical and introductory field manual for mapping science professionals giving basic practical guidance particularly to the integrated use of ESRI's GIS software with Trimble's GPS hardware.

Baghdad: An Urban History through the Lens of Literature Iman Al-Attar, 2018-09-03. In recent years, Baghdad has been viewed as a battleground for political conflicts; this interpretation has heavily influenced writings on the city. This book moves away from these perspectives to present an interdisciplinary exploration into the urban history of Baghdad through the lens of literature. It argues that urban literature is an effective complementary source to conventional historiography, using in-depth analysis of texts, poems and historical narratives of non-monumental urban spaces to reveal an underexamined facet of the city's development. The book focuses on three key themes: spatial, nostalgic and reflective, to offer a new approach to the study of Baghdad's history with a view to establishing and informing further strategies for future urban developments. Beginning with the first planned city in the eighth century, it looks at the urban transformations that influenced building trends and architectural styles until the nineteenth century. It will appeal to academics and researchers in interdisciplinary fields such as architecture, urban history, Islamic studies, and Arabic literature. Comprehensive Management Plan, 1995

The Theme of Temple Christology in John's Gospel Stephen Um, 2006-08-31 This study not only carefully investigates the Jewish tradition of water and Spirit as the normative background of John 4 but also develops temple Christology by connecting these distinct traditions of water and the Spirit as eschatological life for John's use of Spirit as the source of new creational life. The aim of this thesis is to answer the following three crucial questions in order to sustain the development of the temple Christological theme in John 4: 1. What does the image of water represent? 2. What does it mean to worship in Spirit and truth? and 3. How do the disparate parts (water scene 4:6-15 and the Spirit scene 4:20-26) function as a whole?

The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 Simon Gikandi, Evan Mwangi, 2007 The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 challenges the conventional belief that the English language literary traditions of East Africa are restricted to the former British colonies of Kenya, Uganda, and Tanzania. Instead, these traditions stretch far into such neighboring countries as Somalia and Ethiopia. Simon Gikandi and Evan Mwangi assemble a truly inclusive list of major writers and trends. They begin with a chronology of key historical events and an overview of the emergence and transformation of literary culture in the region. Then they provide an alphabetical list of major writers and brief descriptions of their concerns and achievements. Some of the writers discussed include the Kenyan novelists Grace Ogot and Ngugi wa Thiong'o, Ugandan poet and essayist Taban Lo Liyong, Ethiopian playwright and poet Tsegaye Gabre Medhin, Tanzanian novelist and diplomat Peter Palangyo, Ethiopian novelist Berhane Mariam Sahle Sellassie, and the novelist M.G. Vassanji, who portrays the Indian diaspora in Africa, Europe, and North America. Separate entries within this list describe thematic concerns such as colonialism, decolonization, the black aesthetic, and the language question; the growth of genres like autobiography and popular literature; important movements like cultural nationalism and feminism; and the impact of major forces such as AIDS, HIV, Christian missions, and urbanization. Comprehensive and richly detailed, this guide offers a fresh perspective on the role of East Africa in the development of African and world literature in English and a new understanding of the historical, cultural, and geopolitical boundaries of the region. A Survey of the Potential Natural Landmarks, Biotic Themes, of the North Pacific Border Region, 1976
