Thinking Architecture 3rd Edition:

Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 1998 Featuring four essays by Peter Zumthor this volume exhibits the essence of Zumthor's architectural ideas

Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 1999-01-01 In order to design a building with a sensuous connection to life one must think in a way that goes far beyond form and construction In these essays Peter Zumthor expresses his motivation in designing buildings which speak to our emotions and understanding in so many ways and possess a powerful and unmistakable presence and personality This book whose first edition has been out of print for years has been expanded to include three new essays Does Beauty Have a Form The Magic of the Real and Light in the Landscape It has been freshly illustrated throughout with new color photographs of Zumthor's new home and studio in Haldenstein taken specially for this edition by Laura Padgett and received a new typography by Hannele Grönlund

Thinking Architecture Peter Zumthor, 2006 The Pritzker winning architect offers insight into what motivates his design process explaining how he creates environments that appeal to a visitor's heart and mind in different ways while instilling a sense of presence in a third edition that has two additional essays including Architecture and Landscape and The Leis Houses

An Architecture of Place Randall S. Lindstrom, 2024-06-25 Challenging mainstream architecture's understandings of place this book offers an illuminating clarification that allows the idea's centrality in all aspects of everyday design thinking to be rediscovered or considered for the first time Rigorous but not dense practical but not trivialising the book unfolds on three fronts First it clearly frames the pertinent aspects of topology the philosophy of place importantly differentiating two concepts that architecture regularly conflates place and space Second it rejects the ubiquitous notion that architecture makes place and instead reasons that place is what makes architecture and the built environment possible that place calls for and to architecture and that architecture is thus invited to listen and respond Finally it turns to the matter of designing responses that result not just in more places of architecture demanding little of design nor merely in architecture with some sense of place demanding little more but rising above those responses that constitute an architecture of place demanding the greatest vigilance but offering the utmost freedom Opening up a term regarded as so common that its meaning is seldom considered the author reveals the actual depth and richness of place its innateness to architecture and its essentiality to practitioners clients educators and students including those in all spatial disciplines

Service Design and Service Thinking in Healthcare and Hospital Management Mario A. Pfannstiel, Christoph Rasche, 2018-12-28 This book examines the nature of service design and service thinking in healthcare and hospital management By adopting both a service based provider perspective and a consumer oriented perspective the book highlights various healthcare services methods and tools that are desirable for customers and effective for healthcare providers In addition readers will learn about new research directions as well as strategies and innovations to develop service solutions that are affordable sustainable and consumer oriented Lastly the book discusses policy options to improve the service delivery process and customer satisfaction in the healthcare and hospital sector The contributors cover various aspects and fields of application of service design and service thinking including service design processes tools and methods service blueprints and service delivery creation and implementation of services interaction design and user experience design of service touchpoints and service interfaces service excellence and service innovation The book will appeal to all scholars and practitioners in the hospital and healthcare sector who are interested in organizational development service business model innovation customer involvement and perceptions and service experience
