Two Degrees The Built Environment And Our Changing Climate:

Two Degrees, 2013 Two Degrees Alisdair McGregor, Cole Roberts, Fiona Cousins, 2013 Two Degrees reviews the current science and predictions for global warming and looks at what steps can be taken to design the built environment to mitigate the extent of global warming and to adapt to inevitable changes in climate Two Degrees: The Built Environment and Our Changing Climate Alisdair McGregor, Cole Roberts, Fiona Cousins, 2013-05-02 The Earth's temperature has been rising To limit catastrophic outcomes the international scientific community has set a challenging goal of no more than two degrees Celsius 3.6 degrees Fahrenheit average temperature rise Economists agree we will save trillions of dollars by acting early But how do we act successfully And what's the backup plan if we fall short Setting politics aside Two Degrees reviews the current science and explains how we can set practical steps to reduce the extent of warming and to adapt to the inevitable changes all while improving the bottom line beautifying our communities and increasing human health The book is a practical guide intended for a broad audience of those who occupy and shape our built environment The authors provide a clear framework for communities policy makers planners designers developers builders and operators to help manage the impacts and capture the opportunities of our changing climate Two Degrees is divided into three sections Fundamentals Mitigation and Adaptation covering a diverse array of topics ranging from climate positive communities and low carbon buildings to the psychology of choice and the cost of a low carbon economy After a foreword by Amory Lovins more than 10 contributing authors share knowledge based on direct experience in all aspects of built environment practice This book clarifies the misconceptions provides new and unique insights and shows how a better approach to the built environment can increase resilience and positively shape our future Housing, the Environment, and Our Changing Climate Christoph Sinn, John Perry, 2008 The climate is changing and this book aims to capture both ways in which this is true First the global warming which is taking place as our atmosphere is forced to absorb ever more man made carbon dioxide is now an indisputable reality It is not too late to prevent the worst effects of such climate change but in any event it will have a profound impact on the way we live and the kinds of houses we need Second the climate is changing albeit slowly in terms of the response by the housing world to the challenge of global warming Government has instigated a radical approach to environmental standards for new housing but has arguably been slower to realise the urgency of action to tackle poor environmental standards in the existing housing stock This completely new version of the earlier book Housing and the Environment A new agenda concentrates on the linked issues of climate change fuel shortages and fuel poverty Smart Building in a Changing Climate Andy van den Dobbelsteen, Machiel van Dorst, Arjen van Timmeren, 2009 Climate change and peak fuel are issues that affect society technology politics market and also our built environment Rather than just adapting to these changes a positive pro active approach is needed combining sustainable policy planning and design Smart Building in a Changing Climate presents the latest developments in the area of climate responsive energy effective policy planning and design It includes the latest visions ideas designs and technology for a sustainable future on various scales and points at possible directions for the built environment to answer the challenges of climate change in a pro active and integrative way

Publisher s description Polar Environment and Climate Damien Cardinal, Elisabeth Lipiatou, 2007 Recoge 1 IPY and environment and climate in the polar regions Past climate Present changes and observations Future climate Modelling Session on human and wildlife health Research infrastructures Natural and socio economic impacts of climate change Public outreach education and policy makers The Sixth Tripartite Presidents Meeting Among NIER, CRAES and NIES Ho-Seok Song, 2009 Economics and the Environment Eban S. Goodstein, Stephen Polasky, 2017-10-19 Climate change has morphed from an environmental problem into a challenge to civilization itself As CO2 levels have continued to rise the 8th Edition of this book is now more relevant than ever Retaining the approach of the original edition the newest iteration features global warming as the framing example for a comprehensive look at environmental economics Pedagogical clarity is ensured by the book s central focus on four highly focused questions How much pollution is too much Is the government up to the job How can we do better How can we resolve global issues The text also continues with a strong focus on natural resources economics and ecosystem services Updates to the book are included to address the very latest concerns standards and legislation related to environmental issues providing students with a comprehensive look at this important topic while maintaining an accessible approach that makes the material engaging and highly relevant Adapting Buildings and Cities for Climate Change Susan Roaf, David Crichton, Fergus Nicol, 2009 This book provides insights into how we can protect our buildings cities infra structures and lifestyles against risks associated with extreme weather and related social economic and energy events There are three new chapters present evidence of escalating rates of environmental change and the authors explore the growing urgency for mitigation and adaptation responses that deal with the resulting challenges The Built Environment in a Changing Climate Giulia Ulpiani, Michele Zinzi, 2021-12-03 The papers included in this Special Issue tackle multiple aspects of how cities districts and buildings could evolve along with climate change and how this would impact our way of conceiving and applying design criteria policies and urban plans Despite the multidisciplinary nature of the collection some transversal take home messages emerge Today s energy efficient paradigms may lose their virtuosity in the future unless accurate estimates of future scenarios are used to design modelling platforms and to inform legislative frameworks Acting at the local scale is key Future climate change adaptation will be implemented at the local level Overlooking regional and local specificities will contribute to inaccurate and inefficient action plans As such the smaller scale will become vital in predicting future urban metabolic rates and corresponding comfort driven strategies Energy poverty heat vulnerability and social injustice are emerging as critical factors for planning and acting for future proof cities on par of micro and meso climatological factors Given that the impacts of climate change will persist for many years adaptation to this phenomenon should be prioritized by removing any prominent barrier and by enabling combinations of different mitigation technologies

These topics will receive a global reach in few decades since also developing and underdeveloped countries are starting their fight against local climate change with cities at the forefront Scientific American ,1895 Index to Theses with Abstracts Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards ,2006 Engineering & Building Record and the Sanitary Engineer ,1887 The Presbyterian ,1902 The Country Gentleman ,1907 Good Housekeeping ,1893 Architectural Education and the University Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.
