Acharya, Sucharita Sen, Milap Punia, Sunita Reddy, 2016-10-21 This book analyses how developmental projects in a globalizing Delhi have brought about neglect exclusion and alienation of certain sections of population while benefiting others It discusses the physical economic and social displacement of people in the city in recent times which has deprived them of their lands livelihoods and access to health care In Delhi and the National Capital Region beyond the obvious and apparent image of wide roads flyovers the metro rail network high rises and glittering malls globalization has brought about skewed and uneven development A growing middle class and a significant group of an extremely rich section of population steer the ways in which development strategies are planned and implemented Furthermore with government control reducing as is inevitable and consistent with a neoliberal policy framework private players have entered not only the consumer goods sector but also basic goods and services such as agriculture health and education This book explores the effects of such processes with a specific focus on equity on the marginalized sections of population in a globalizing megacity It addresses the themes of land livelihoods and health as overarching drawing upon their interlinkages It traces the changes in the growth of the city in context of these themes and draws inferences from their interconnectedness to examine the current situation of development in Delhi Local Government Quarterly, 2001
Master Plan 2000-2021 Srinagar (Jammu and Kashmir, India). Srinagar Development Authority, 2003 Sustainable Regional Development Vinita Yadav, 2020-03-18 Region encompasses of inter dependent urban and rural areas The rural areas supply perishable items to urban areas and from urban areas migrants send remittances back to their homes in rural areas In India where 68.85 percent of the population resided in rural area in 2011 the balanced regional development is required to achieve uniform and equitable distribution of resources Of late most of the Government's planning related efforts and associated development are more in cities being largest contributor to Gross Domestic Product GDP than rural areas Higher investment in cities as compared to rural areas contradicts the basic premise of a balanced regional development

Though region received recognition through 73 and 74 Constitutional Amendment Act yet regional planning is still amiss As the population is increasing at a faster rate one has to design the space in a sustainable manner The development by means of infrastructure or governance shall have the futuristic approach The book intends to create knowledge about the significance of regional planning Using case study approach thirteen chapters by contributing authors provides an in depth understanding of both theoretical and practical aspects related to the concepts of regionalization agglomeration economies contract farming industrialization corridor development and heritage based development In the book highly acclaimed professionals presents microscopic view of planning of varied type of regions and suggest ways to avoid the excess and misuse of resources which will dwindle the quintessence of future development The book provides a one stop answer to the quest of university students government officials researchers officials from non Government and private organisations to comprehend the concept of region contextualize its importance as a viable unit of planning to resolve prevalent issues keeping in mind futuristic outlook of regional development The editor establishes the importance of region as a viable unit of planning emphasizes upon the need for contextualising the issues existing in the region and accentuates that Government s effort at national and state levels should be towards holistic planning of a region India Infrastructure Report ,2002
