The State of Food and Agriculture 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2020-11-26 Intensifying water constraints threaten food security and nutrition Thus urgent action is needed to make water use in agriculture more sustainable and equitable Irrigated agriculture remains by far the largest user of freshwater but scarcity of freshwater is a growing problem owing to increasing demand and competition for freshwater resources At the same time rainfed agriculture is facing increasing precipitation variability driven by climate change These trends will exacerbate disputes among water users and inequality in access to water especially for small scale farmers the rural poor and other vulnerable populations The State of Food and Agriculture 2020 presents new estimates on the pervasiveness of water scarcity in irrigated agriculture and of water shortages in rainfed agriculture as well as on the number of people affected It finds major differences across countries and also substantial spatial variation within countries This evidence informs a discussion of how countries may determine appropriate policies and interventions depending on the nature and magnitude of the problem but also on other factors such as the type of agricultural production system and countries level of development
