Underwood, Frances L.L. Dailey, 2016-03-31 This is a text that is long overdue I am excited to see such talented and experienced counselors come together to write such an informative updated text on counseling today s adolescents Jennifer Jordan Winthrop University Counseling Adolescents Competently is a comprehensive text for students and professionals compiling foundational and emerging skills in the counseling field Authors Lee Underwood and Frances Dailey review extensive interventions ranging from assessment to diagnosis as well as fresh perspectives on working with this often challenging group Employing clinical case scenarios and profiles that demonstrate key issues this book helps the counselor in training to understand the relevant theories and research around adolescents to better engage in culturally relevant interventions and treatment planning Handbook of Adolescent Psychology, Volume 1 Richard M. Lerner, Laurence Steinberg, 2009-04-06 The study of and interest in adolescence in the field of psychology and related fields continues to grow necessitating an expanded revision of this seminal work This multidisciplinary handbook edited by the premier scholars in the field Richard Lerner and Laurence Steinberg and with contributions from the leading researchers reflects the latest empirical work and growth in the field Writing/Disciplinarity Paul Prior, 2013-11-05 Over the past century the explosive growth of scientific technical and cultural disciplines has profoundly affected our daily lives However processes of enculturation in sites such as graduate education that have helped to form these disciplines have received very limited research attention In those sites graduate students write diverse documents including course papers departmental examinations theses and dissertations grant and fellowship applications and disciplinary publications Thus writing is one of the central domains of enculturation an activity through which graduate students and professors display and negotiate disciplinary knowledge genres identities and institutional contexts This volume explores this intersection of writing and disciplinary enculturation through a series of ethnographic case studies These case studies provide the most thorough descriptions available today of the lived experience of graduate seminars combining analysis of classroom talk students texts and professor s written responses institutional contexts students representations of their writing and its contexts and professors representations of their tasks and their students Given the complexities that the ethnographic data displayed the author found that conventional notions of writing as a process of transcription and of disciplines as unified discourse communities were inadequate As such this book also offers an in depth exploration of sociohistoric theory in relation to writing and disciplinary enculturation Specific case studies introduce apply and further elaborate notions of writing as literate activity authorship as mediated by other people and artifacts classroom tasks as speech genres enculturation as the interplay of authoritative and internally persuasive discourses and disciplinarity as a deeply heterogeneous laminated and dialogic process This blend of research and theory should be of interest to scholars and students in such fields as writing studies rhetoric writing across the curriculum applied linguistics English for academic purposes science and technology studies higher education and the ethnography of communication
