Theology And The Boundary Discourse Of Human Rights:

Theology and the Boundary Discourse of Human Rights Ethna Regan, 2010-04-14 What are human rights Can theology acknowledge human rights discourse Is theological engagement with human rights justified What place should this discourse occupy within ethics Ethna Regan seeks to answer these questions about human rights Christian theology and philosophical ethics The main purpose of this book is to justify and explore theological engagement with human rights Regan illustrates how that engagement is both ecumenical and diverse citing the emerging engagement with human rights discourse by evangelical theologians in response to the War on Terror The book examines where the themes and concerns of key modern theologians Karl Rahner J B Metz Jon Sobrino and Ignacio Ellacur converge with the themes and concerns of those committed to the advancement of human rights Regan also critically engages with the disdain for rights discourse that is found in the postliberal critiques of John Milbank and Stanley Hauerwas This interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of systematic theology theological ethics human rights religion and politics and political theory Catholic Cosmopolitanism and Human Rights Leonard Francis Taylor, 2020-03-05 Provides a more complete account of the human rights project that factors in the contribution of cosmopolitan Catholicism Christianity and Human Rights Reconsidered Sarah Shortall, Daniel Steinmetz-Jenkins, 2020-09-24 This is the first global examination of the historical relationship between Christianity and human rights in the twentieth century Leading historians anthropologists political theorists legal scholars and scholars of religion develop fresh approaches to issues such as human dignity personalism religious freedom the role of ecumenical and transatlantic networks and the relationship between Christian and liberal rights theories In doing so they move well beyond the temporal and geographical limits of the existing scholarship exploring the connection between Christianity and human rights not only in Europe and the United States but also in Africa Latin America and China They offer alternative chronologies and bring to light overlooked aspects of this history including the role of race gender decolonization and interreligious dialogue Above all these essays foreground the complicated relationship between global rights discourses whether Christian liberal or otherwise and the local contexts in which they are developed and implemented Post-Christian Interreligious Liberation Theology Hussam S. Timani, Loye Sekihata Ashton, 2019-11-29 This book explores the ideals of liberation theology from the perspectives of major religious traditions including Islam Christianity Judaism Buddhism and the neo Vedanta and Advaita Hindu traditions The goal of this volume is not to explain the Christian liberation theology tradition and then assess whether the non Christian liberation theologies meet the Christian standards Rather authors use comparative interreligious methodologies to offer new insights on liberation theology and begin a dialogue on how to build interreligious liberation theologies The goal is to make liberation theology more inclusive of religious diversity beyond traditional Christian categories Dalit Theology, Boundary Crossings and Liberation in India Jobymon Skaria, 2022-11-03 Jobymon Skaria an Indian St Thomas Christian Scholar offers a critique of Indian Christian theology and suggests that constructive dialogues between Biblical and dissenting Dalit voices such as Chokhamela Karmamela Ravidas Kabir Nandanar and Narayana Guru could set right the imbalance within Dalit theology and could establish dialogical partnerships between Dalit Theologians non Dalit Christians and Syrian Christians Drawing on Biblical and socio historical resources this book examines a radical yet overlooked aspect of Dalit cultural and religious history which would empower the Dalits in their everyday existences Habermas and Theology Maureen Junker-Kenny,2011-04-28

Gender Violence & Human Rights Aletta Biersack,Margaret Jolly,Martha Macintyre,2016-12-14 The postcolonial states of Fiji Papua New Guinea and Vanuatu operate today in a global arena in which human rights are widely accepted As ratifiers of UN treaties such as the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and the Convention on the Rights of the Child these Pacific Island countries have committed to promoting women s and girls rights including the right to a life free of violence Yet local national and regional gender values are not always consistent with the principles of gender equality and women s rights that undergird these globalising conventions This volume critically interrogates the relation between gender violence and human rights as these three countries and their communities and citizens engage with appropriate modify and at times resist human rights principles and their implications for gender violence Grounded in extensive anthropological historical and legal research the volume should prove a crucial resource for the many scholars policymakers and activists who are concerned about the urgent and ubiquitous problem of gender violence in the western Pacific This is an important and timely collection that is central to the major and contentious issues in the contemporary Pacific of gender violence and human rights It builds upon existing literature but the contributors to this volume interrogate the connection between these two areas deeply and more critically This book should and must reach a broad audience Jacqui Leckie Associate Professor Anthropology and Archaeology University of Otago The volume addresses the tensions between human and cultural individual and collective rights as played out in the domain of gender Gender is a perfect lens for exploring these tensions because cultural rights are often claimed in defence of gender oppression and because women often have imposed upon them the burden of representing cultural traditions in attire comportment restraint or putatively cultural conservatism And Melanesia is a perfect place to consider these gendered issues because of the long history of ethnocentric representations of the region because of the extent to which these are played out between states and local cultures and because of the efforts of the vibrant women s movements in the region to develop locally workable responses to the problems of gender violence in these communities Christine Dureau Senior Lecturer Anthropology University of Auckland Human Rights in Thick and Thin Societies Seth D. Kaplan,2018-08-16 Introduces the idea of a flexible approach to the human rights movement that returns to basics in an increasingly diverse and multipolar world Human Rights Michael E. Goodhart,2016 Human Rights Politics and Practice is the most complete most topical and most student friendly introduction to human rights Bringing together a range of international experts including political scientists philosophers lawyers and policy makers the book provides students with a broad range of perspectives on the theoretical and practical issues in this constantly evolving field In addition to in depth theoretical content the book also features unrivalled coverage of human rights issues in practice with a wide range of case studies to explore concrete examples from around the world The third edition has been brought fully up to date with the most recent events and latest research developments in the area Two new chapters have been added one on religion and human rights and one on sexual orientation and gender issues and human rights introducing students to these important topics and expanding the theoretical and practical discussion of issues of universalism and relativism The new edition also features a range of carefully developed pedagogical features to aid student learning encourage critical analysis and challenge students to question their own assumptions The book is accompanied by an Online Resource Centre to enhance students learning and provide valuable support for lecturers For students Revise key terms with a flashcard glossary Take your learning further with links to key human rights documents Use carefully selected web links as a first step towards independent research For registered lecturers Enhance your seminars with a specially developed active learning exercise Use adaptable PowerPoint slides as the basis for lecture presentations or as handouts in class Save time preparing assessments with a fully updated test bank of questions

Amidst Mass Atrocity and the Rubble of Theology Peter Admirand, 2012-03-16 It is hubris to claim answers to unanswerable questions Such questions however as part of their burden and worth must still be asked investigated and contemplated How there can be a loving all powerful God and a world stymied by suffering and evil is one of the unanswerable questions we must all struggle to answer even as our responses are closer to gasps silences and further questions More importantly how and whether one articulates a response will have deep lasting repercussions for any belief in God and in our judgments upon one another Throughout this wide ranging interdisciplinary work Peter Admirand draws upon his extensive research and background in theology and testimonial literature trauma and genocide studies cultural studies philosophy of religion interreligious studies and systematic theology As David Burrell writes in the Foreword The work s intricate structure organization and development will lead us to appreciate that the best one can settle for is a fractured faith built on a fractured theodicy expressed in a language explicitly fragmented pluralist and broken

Beholden Susan R. Holman, 2015-01-28 Highlighting religion as a factor that can either help or hinder global health and health equity today Susan R Holman explores the intersections of human rights and religion in order to address issues of social justice health economics humanitarian aid human rights theological education and public policy

The Sacredness of Human Life David P. Gushee, 2013-01-14 A comprehensive examination of the sacredness of human life encompassing biblical roots theological elaborations historical cases and contemporary ethical perspectives Gushee argues that viewing human life as sacred is one of the most precious legacies of biblical faith albeit one that the church has too often failed to uphold

Human dignity and fundamental rights in South Africa and Ireland Anne Hughes, 2014-04-11 Post apartheid South Africa has yielded enlightened judicial decisions in contrast to the limited interpretation of human rights in Ireland The value of human dignity with its central position in international law underpins both countries Constitutions but has left a more striking mark in South Africa There it has impacted significantly on punishment for crimes family life children s rights defamation sexual violence investigations substantive equality and socio economic rights Practical guidance can be gleaned from South Africa to revitalise Irish jurisprudence While its focus is on South Africa and Ireland this book draws on the experience of many countries and regions

Orthodox Christians and the Rights Revolution in America A. G. Roeber, 2024-01-02 A distinctive and unrivaled examination of North American Eastern Orthodox Christians and their encounter with the rights revolution in a pluralistic American society From the civil rights movement of the 1950s to the culture wars of North America commentators have identified the partisans bent on pursuing different rights claims When religious identity surfaces as a key determinant in how the pursuit of rights occurs both the religious right and liberal believers remain the focus of how each contributes to making rights demands How Orthodox Christians in North America have navigated the rights revolution however remains largely unknown From the disagreements over the rights of the First Peoples of Alaska to arguments about the rights of transgender persons Orthodox Christians have engaged an anglo American legal and constitutional rights tradition But they see rights claims through the lens of an inherited focus on the dignity of the human person In a pluralistic society and culture Orthodox Christians both converts and those with family roots in Orthodox countries share with non Orthodox fellow citizens the challenge of reconciling conflicting rights claims Those claims do pit religious liberty rights claims against perceived dangers from outside the Orthodox Church But internal disagreements about the rights of clergy and people within the Church accompany the Orthodox Christian engagement with debates over gender sex and marriage as well as expanding political legal and human rights claims Despite their small numbers North American Orthodox remain highly visible and their struggles influential among the more than 280 million Orthodox worldwide Orthodox Christians and the Rights Revolution in America offers an historical analysis of this unfolding story

Keeping Faith with Human Rights Linda Hogan, 2015-09-15 The human rights regime is one of modernity s great civilizing triumphs From the formal promulgation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948 to the subsequent embrace of this declaration by the newly independent states of Africa human rights have emerged as the primary discourse of global politics and as an increasingly prominent category in the international and domestic legal system But throughout their history human rights have endured sustained attempts at disenfranchisement In this provocative study Linda Hogan defends human rights language while simultaneously reenvisioning its future Avoiding problematic claims about shared universal values Hogan draws on the constructivist strand of political philosophy to argue for a three pronged conception of human rights as requirements for human flourishing as necessary standards of human community and as the basis for emancipatory politics In the process she shows that it is theoretically possible and politically necessary for theologians to keep faith with human rights Indeed the Christian tradition the wellspring of many of the ethical commitments considered central to human rights must embrace its vital role in the project

Faith in Rights Amélie Barras, 2024-09-24 Faith in Rights explores why and how Christian nongovernmental organizations conduct human rights work at the United Nations The book interrogates the idea that the secular and the religious are distinct categories and more specifically that human rights understood as secular can be neatly distinguished from religion It argues that Christianity is deeply entangled in the texture of the United Nations and shapes the methods and areas of work of Christian NGOs To capture these entanglements Amélie Barras analyzes through interviews ethnography and document and archive analysis the everyday human rights work of Christian NGOs at the United Nations Human Rights Council She documents how these NGOs are involved in a constant work of double translation they translate their human rights work into a religious language to make it relevant to their on the ground membership but they also reframe the concerns of their membership in human rights terms to make them audible to UN actors Faith in Rights is a crucial new evaluation of how religion informs Christian nongovernmental organizations understandings of human rights and their methods of work as well as how being engaged in human rights work influences these organizations own religious identity and practice

Landscapes of Liberation Noah Oehri, 2023-07-20 Catholic mission from the mid 20th century onwards was complicated by geopolitical upheaval church reform and the emergent critique of the colonial power matrix to which the Church belonged Missionary movements to Latin America coincided with visions for a progressive radically transformative church Landscapes of Liberation expands scholarship into liberation theology's reception in Andean America and critically examines the interplay of the Catholic Church as a global institution with parishes as local actors Through source material from both sides of the Atlantic this book charts how a transnational network of pastoral agents and laypeople in Peru's southern highlands claimed mission and development as intertwined tenets of spiritual and social life throughout three decades of agrarian reform activism and social conflict Ultimately this book reveals how transformative theories for rural development yield contingent transformations concrete change yet contested liberation

Elemental Encounters in the Contemporary Irish Novel Claire McGrail Johnston, 2019-12-19 The underlying premise of this book is that reading is touching Words leap out of their beds and pierce flesh like a knife Storytelling breathes within the dynamic of encounters with air fire earth and water permeated by emotion imagination and touch These ideas are contextualized within ancient community rituals social justice gatherings pedagogical practices and map making The four elements are retrieved from exile as imaginative corporeal and generative substances that operate within stories like medicine bundles Reading becomes a Deleuzian enterprise of health a challenging experience that grasps Paulo Freire's generative themes and is simultaneously thought provoking and valuable The capacious literary space capable of housing this sensual ferment is the novel More verb than noun the novel is an elemental bundle that engages with flesh in all its manifestations This book spotlights Irish novels by John Banville and Mary Morrissy exploring how they revitalise the elements with sensual social and tactile textures

Christian Mind in the Emerging World Peter Tze Ming Ng, Wing Tai Leung, Vaughan King Tong Mak, 2018-10-31 In response to challenges from the emerging world this book brings together essays that discuss and exemplify various related approaches to academic faith integration and explore how Christian faith should underpin scaffold and frame our understanding of academic disciplines leading to practical implications for work or action in modern society and culture Written by Christian scholars and practitioners from diverse backgrounds including the USA the UK Australia China Hong Kong South Korea and the Philippines the contributions here all contribute a global perspective while addressing some specific issue or case in the context of Asia They represent ingenious endeavors that illustrate the workings of a faith integrated approach in domains as wide as higher education business science psychology and counseling politics environment media social services leadership research and technology This volume will inform and inspire the reader into cross cultural and inter disciplinary studies particularly of religion education culture society and worldview Renewing the Self Benjamin J. Wood, 2017-05-11 Over the last decade the UK has witnessed a stunning resurgence of religious engagement in both politics and civil society From the social pluralism of New Labour to the rise of post liberalism the recovery of religious sensibilities in areas like education and welfare continues to have a significant effect on the content of political debate on both the Right and Left What unites these diverse projects is an effort to recover a neglected form of selfhood Less acquisitive more relational this vision of human identity has led politicians and policy makers to reject avaricious and atomist accounts of the self in favour of richer accounts of citizenship and common life What do these latter models mean for citizens and communities This book analyses the roots significance and future of these developments through the lens of contemporary Christian communities By drawing on disciplines as diverse as philosophy theology history economics and political theory Renewing the Self reflects on the prospects and challenges of this rich self in a globalised and rapidly changing world
