The Social Contexts of Disability Ministry Albert A. Herzog, 2017-09-29 This book provides pastors seminarians and interested laity with the background necessary to understand the need for disability ministry and the contexts out of which the church s ministry among people with disabilities must emerge This is true not only for descriptions of ministries over the past sixty years but also the challenges disability poses for biblical studies church history Christian theology and ethics Insights are gained not only from mainstream secular and religious sources but from evangelical and other conservative materials The blending of items from different religious resources reveals just how ubiquitous disability is and the need for disability ministry now and for many years into the future The book s format is such that either it can serve as a text for courses on disability ministry or individual chapters can be employed in various courses on selected topics in biblical studies history theology and ethics Pastors and lay leaders will enjoy the depth of coverage for each topic This is a book about a serious subject for serious readers Its materials are designed to inform stimulate and promote disability ministry as a topic worthy of serious study

Tender to the World Carolyn Whitney-Brown, 2019-10-16 Jean Vanier's spiritual vision and sense of humour shaped L'Arche but the organization was also informed by its surprising history with the United Church of Canada In Tender to the World Carolyn Whitney Brown explores the connections between the two organizations through diverse critical insights from Julia Kristeva Doreen Massey and Mikhail Bakhtin as well as Vanier's controversial articulation of the gift of weakness Tracing the five decade relationship between L'Arche and the United Church alongside evolving disability theories Whitney Brown examines both the fundamental importance of stories and the agency of people with intellectual disabilities Inversion a transformative overturning of expectations in social interactions can be upsetting or exciting challenging or inspiring she argues This book offers a fresh look at how L'Arche and the United Church have worked to break down walls of difference illuminating how each tenders something unexpected to the other and to the world At a time when many are seeking new visions for society the long and complex relationship between Canada's largest Protestant denomination and L'Arche offers both encouragement and a deeper way to approach questions of living in diverse communities A Kind of

Upside-Downness David Ford, Deborah Ford, Ian Randall, 2019-11-21 One of the great prophetic figures of our time was Jean Vanier founder of the L'Arche communities where those with and without disabilities share life together This book tells the story of a new practical development inspired by Vanier and taking further both his thought and the practice of L'Arche Lyn's House is a small Christian house of hospitality and friendship in Cambridge set in an open community of volunteers and supporters Its story told here contains moving accounts of its origins and development and of the friendships it enables The contributors all members of the wider Lyn's House community also reflect on its meaning and explore the implications for both church and society of this creative response to Vanier's call Not only does the book convey the spirit of Lyn's House and its transformative effects on those who participate in it it also offers inspiration and a practical guide to any who wish to begin something similar

Socially Responsible Higher Education Budd L. Hall, Rajesh Tandon, 2021-05-03 Listen to the podcast Is the university contributing to our global crises or does it offer stories of hope Much recent debate about higher education has focussed upon rankings quality financing and student mobility The COVID 19 pandemic the climate crisis the calls for decolonisation the persistence of gender violence the rise of authoritarian nationalism and the challenge of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals have taken on new urgency and given rise to larger questions about the social relevance of higher education In this new era of uncertainty and perhaps opportunity higher education institutions can play a vital role in a great transition or civilisational shift to a newly imagined world Socially Responsible Higher Education International Perspectives on Knowledge Democracy shares the experiences of a broadly representative and globally dispersed set of writers on higher education and social responsibility broadening perspectives on the democratisation of knowledge The editors have deliberately sought examples and viewpoints from parts of the world that are seldom heard in the international literature Importantly they have intentionally chosen to achieve a gender and diversity balance among the contributors The stories in this book call us to take back the right to imagine and reclaim the public purposes of higher education Christ, Church and World Michael Mawson, Philip G. Ziegler, 2016-03-10 What are the pressing questions concerning Dietrich Bonhoeffer's theology What impulses and provocations does his theological legacy offer to contemporary work in Christian theology and ethics This volume draws together leading international theologians to critically engage Bonhoeffer's Christology hamartiology ecclesiology and contributions to Christian Jewish encounter Theology and the Science of Moral Action American Academy of Religion. Conference, 2012 The past decade has witnessed a renaissance in scientific approaches to the study of morality Once understood to be the domain of moral psychology the newer approach to morality is largely interdisciplinary driven in no small part by developments in behavioural economics and evolutionary biology as well as advances in neuroscientific imaging capabilities among other fields To date scientists studying moral cognition and behaviour have paid little attention to virtue theory while virtue theorists have yet to acknowledge the new research results emerging from the new science of morality Theology and the Science of Moral Action explores a new approach to ethical thinking that promotes dialogue and integration between recent research in the scientific study of moral cognition and behaviour including neuroscience moral psychology and behavioural economics and virtue theoretic approaches to ethics in both philosophy and theology More particularly the book evaluates the concept of moral exemplarity and its significance in philosophical and theological ethics as well as for ongoing research programs in the cognitive sciences

Standing under the Cross Michael Mawson, 2023-09-07 Standing Under the Cross focuses on Bonhoeffer's rich theological and ethical thinking It places Bonhoeffer in conversation with a wide range of modern theologians including Karl Barth Franz Rosenzweig Jürgen Moltmann and James Cone The book gives particular attention to hermeneutics the body and Bonhoeffer's rich reflections on community and discipleship Mawson attends to the complex ways in which these aspects of Bonhoeffer's thinking work together and shows how they can assist us in responding to some of the challenges confronting us today Child by Child Susan Richardson, 2011-10-01 A how to guide to integrate children and youth with special needs into church programs and activities including worship Integrating children and teens with learning differences into church programs is a growing priority for nearly all congregations large and small yet many feel ill equipped to manage those with special needs in their classrooms programs and worship This guidebook for churches is designed to help integrate children and teens with learning differences and their families into the fabric of everyday church life A useable on the ground resource for church leaders with specific suggestions samples and processes for adapting curricula training volunteers and supporting parents and caregivers this guide is grounded in theological principles for the inclusion of people with disabilities in the life of a congregation Begins by focusing on human relationships instead of programs Expanding the church's awareness and understanding of inclusion is done with respect and achieved by extending the gospel of welcome to all An extensive annotated bibliography of support materials included Includes how to train volunteers and staff for hands on work with children and youth who have special needs Provides a theological grounding for the inclusion of people with learning differences and disabilities in the life of a congregation From 'Mission-Shaped' to 'Jesus-Shaped' Church Susan Beverley Cross,2025-03-10 Hospitality is often invoked without question in Church of England discourse but the importance of the practice to contemporary mission has not been subject to detailed analysis This book provides otherwise elusive in depth theological examination of the scope of Christian understandings of hospitality From feasting in the Hebrew Scriptures and foot washing in the New Testament to online Communion during the COVID 19 pandemic hospitality is more than welcome or the evangelistic hospitality of the Alpha Course or Messy Church So this book encompasses racism ageing poverty tragedy storytelling minds bodies and belonging as well as the implications of allying food to Christian formation It shows that Christian hospitality has relevance not only to mission but also to ecclesiology eschatology disability theology and social and ecological justice Kinship in the Household of God Cynthia Tam,2021-10-07 This unique volume contributes a profound autism perspective to the ongoing discussion of belonging in the church By taking readers into two church communities the author explores the issues of belonging from those least welcomed by the church and consider what the church should do differently Adopting a we approach she emphasizes the unity of different members in Christ As one body in Christ all believers share Christ s sonship and become children of God The household concept invites readers to reconceptualize Christian relationships as covenantal kinship The kinship relationship is established by God s covenantal commitment fulfilled in Christ With or without autism any person who obeys God s summons is incorporated into Christ s body by the Spirit to become God s child Believers are thus siblings to one another Viewing each person this way enables us to see beyond human differences and welcome one another as God s gifts and indispensable members of the community

The Paradox of Disability Hans S. Reinders, 2010-07-15 The village of Trosly Breuil in northern France is home to one of the world's thirty-four L'Arche communities where people with and without intellectual disabilities live and work together In 2007 the impressive group of social scientists and theologians who contribute to this book gathered there to respond to a question posed by the worldwide community's cofounder Jean Vanier What have people with disabilities taught me Editor Hans Reinders emphasizes that the purpose of these analyses and reflections is not to set those with disabilities apart He explains that it is not their being disabled that makes them special but rather that sharing their experience enables us to see things that we otherwise readily ignore and to understand the fullness of what it means to be human Balm for the Wound? Narratives and Spiritual Practice from L'Arche Catherine Mary Anderson, 2016 Building on previous research on people living with an intellectual disability this study mainly focuses on practices employed in L'Arche communities In particular it investigates the manner in which the community provides a balm for the metaphorical wound experienced by persons living with intellectual disability The study employs a practical narrative theological methodology in which pastoral theology pastoral care and spirituality are considered central components Together with this Lee's appropriation of Aristotle's three ways of knowing is essential parts of the methodology praxis represents an important aspect of L'Arche Further the author introduces an expression of praxis techn as artwork for this thesis Theology of disability is part of the methodology However this is not of primary concern Rather than concentrate on for example a history of disability this author considers life experience and how persons living with a disability contribute to and enrich the lives of other persons The Christian theme of death and new life flows through the thesis This is a hallmark of L'Arche yet the author justifies how this crosses the boundaries of religions and cultures in L'Arche A focal point considers the profound grief of a woman living with an intellectual disability and her journey from an institution to L'Arche Daybreak Toronto Further the reader is introduced to a seven-step Christopraxis welcome response by Daybreak L'Arche community to this grieving woman A second major study in the thesis is the attention to the artwork of persons living with an intellectual disability which thematically is in sharp contrast to the study of grief The research findings are Christopraxis is a way of knowing or understanding the identity of L'Arche Daybreak The artwork of persons living with an intellectual disability represents a way of knowing or understanding differently This articulates with the viewer of this art who knows understands differently through contemplating this art Encounter with Mystery Frances Margaret Young, 1997
