Theology In Built Environments Exploring Religion Architecture And Design:

Theology in Built Environments Sigurd Bergmann, 2011-12-31 Built space is both a physical entity as well as a socially and historically constructed place. It constantly interacts with human beings affecting their behavior, thinking, and feeling. Doing religious work in a particular environment implies acknowledging the surroundings to be integral to theology itself. The contributors to this volume view buildings, scriptures, conversations, prayers, preaching, artifacts, music, and drama, and built and natural surroundings as contributors to a contextual theology. The view of the environment in which religion is practiced as integrated with theology represents not just a new theme but also a necessity if one is to understand religion's own depth. Reflections about space and place and how they reflect and affect religious experience provide a challenge and an urgent necessity for theology. This is particularly important if religious practitioners are to become aware of how theology is given expression in the existential spatiality of life. Can space set theology free? This is a challenging question one that the editor hopes can be answered at least in part in this volume. The diversity of theoretical concepts in aesthetics, cultural theory, and architecture are not regarded as a problem to be solved by constructing one overarching dominant theory. Instead, this diversity is viewed in terms of its positive potential to inspire discourse about theology and aesthetics. In this discourse, theology does not need to become fully dependent on one or another theory but should always clearly present its criteria for choosing this or that theoretical framework. This volume shows clearly how different modes of design in sacred spaces capture a sense of the religious.

Spiritus Loci Bert Daelemans, S.J., 2015-01-08

In Spiritus Loci Bert Daelemans who graduated as an architect and a theologian provides an interdisciplinary method for the theological assessment of church architecture Rather than a theory this method is based on case studies of contemporary buildings 1995 2015 which are often criticized for lacking theological depth In a threefold method the author brings to light the ways in which architecture can be theology or theotopy by focusing on topoi places rather than logoi words Churches reveal our relationship with God by engaging our body mind and community This method proves relevant not only for the way we perceive these buildings but also for the way we use them especially in our prophetic engagement for a better world

The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities Katie Day, Elise M. Edwards, 2020-12-30 Like an ecosystem cities develop change thrive adapt expand and contract through the interaction of myriad components Religion is one of those living parts shaping and being shaped by urban contexts The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities is an outstanding interdisciplinary reference source to the key topics problems and methodologies of this cutting edge subject Representing a diverse array of cities and religions the common analytical approach is ecological and spatial It is the first collection of its kind and reflects state of the art research focusing on the interaction of religions and their urban contexts Comprising 29 chapters by a team of international contributors the Handbook is divided into three parts Research methodologies Religious frameworks and ideologies in urban contexts Contemporary issues in religion and cities Within these sections emerging research and analysis of current dynamics of urban religions are examined including housing economics and gentrification sacred ritual and public space immigration and the refugee crisis political conflicts and social change ethnic and religious diversity urban policy and religion racial justice architecture and the built environment religious art and symbology religion and urban violence technology and smart cities the challenge of climate change for global cities and religious meaning making of the city The Routledge Handbook of Religion and Cities is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies and urban studies The Handbook will also be very useful for those in related fields such as sociology history architecture urban planning theology social work and cultural studies

Aesth/ethics in Environmental Change Sigurd Bergmann, Irmgard Blindow, Konrad Ott, 2013 Can aesthetics and ethics be integrated for the good of habitats places and spaces How can the arts widen our perception of nature and deepen environmental ethics Should the political meaning of a landscape be defined solely in terms of its economic and ecological values Questions like these are explored from the angles of arts environmental ethics ecology religious studies theology art history and philosophy The book prompts discussion about the aesthetic and spiritual dimension in the environmental humanities and it offers transdisciplinary insights into the challenge of sustainability and ongoing changes in society and the environment Series Studies in Religion and the Environment Studien zur Religion und Umwelt Vol 7

The Sacred in the City Liliana Gómez, Walter Van Herck, 2012-02-09 This book reflects the way in which the city interacts with the sacred in all its many guises with religion and the human search for meaning in life As the process of urbanization of society is accelerating thus giving an increasing importance to cities and the metropolis it is relevant to investigate the social or cultural cohesion that these urban agglomerations manifest Religion is keenly observed as witnessing a growth crucially impacting cultural and political dynamics as well as determining the emergence of new sacred symbols and their inscription in urban spaces worldwide The sacred has become an important category of a new interpretation of social and cultural transformation processes From a unique broader perspective the volume focuses on the relationship between the city and the sacred Taking a multidisciplinary approach combining the expertise of philosophers historians architects social geographers sociologists and anthropologists it draws a nuanced picture of the different layers of religion of the sacred and its diverse forms within the city with examples from Europe South America and the Caribbean and Africa Is Anyone in Charge Here? Selwyn Yeoman,2020-12-22 What are our responsibilities as human beings in the exercise of our undoubted powers over all other creatures and the earth itself The idea that human beings have dominion over the rest of creation is often regarded as the chief source of the world s current environmental crisis From the universities to talk back radio this is a commonly repeated theme but how strong is its basis Is Anyone in Charge Here is a critical conversation with the seminal Lynn White paper The Historical Roots of Our Ecologic Crisis Easter Island New Zealand and ancient Mesopotamia biblical exegesis historical theology monastic movements and current environmental challenges are all explored It examines the roots of the idea of human dominion how the idea has been understood through the centuries how people have worked it into their living and how it might be constructively applied in our current crisis All this is theologically evaluated in the light of Jesus Christ being both the true human and God s way of involvement in the world as creative Word representative image and serving Lord

Touched By This Place Valentín, Benjamín,2024-06-12 Explores the ways in which geographic places influence and are influenced by human life thought and action Practice, Practice Theory and Theology Kirstine Helboe Johansen,Ulla Schmidt,2022-05-09 How might practice theories and engagement with practice contribute to and advance theological study of religion and religious life and practices This volume explores and discusses how theological engagement with practice theoretically as well as empirically might profit from theories of practice developed in disciplines such as philosophy sociology education and organisational studies during the recent decades but so far scarcely employed within theology In part I the volume unfolds key components of practice theory especially as they have more recently been developed within sociological practice theories reflect on their significance and potential with regard to theology In part II these perspectives are employed in the study of concrete religious practices established as well as experimental religious practices and collective as well as individual ones By unfolding connections between theology and practice theories and reflecting on practice theories analytical and theoretical potential for theological study of religion the book will be of interest for any scholar in the study of contemporary religion and practical theology Public Religion and the Urban Environment Richard Bohannon,2012-04-26 Nature and the city have most often functioned as opposites within Western culture a dichotomy that has been reinforced and sometimes challenged by religious images Bohannon argues here that cities and natural environments however are both connected and continually affected by one another He shows how such connections become overt during natural disasters which disrupt the narratives people use to make sense of the world including especially religious narratives and make them more visible This book offers both a theoretical exploration of the intersection of the city nature and religion as well as a sociological analysis of the 1997 flood in Grand Forks ND USA This case study shows how religious factors have influenced how the relationship between nature and the city is perceived and in particular have helped to justify the urban control of nature The narratives found in Grand Forks also reveal a broader understanding of the nature of Western cities highlighting the potent and ethically rich intersections between religion cities and nature

Architecture of the World's Major Religions Thomas Barrie,2020-08-25 In Architecture of the World s Major Religions An Essay on Themes Differences and Similarities Thomas Barrie presents and explains religious architecture in ways that challenge predominant presumptions regarding its aesthetic formal spatial and scenographic elements Two positions frame its narrative religious architecture is an amalgam of aesthetic social political cultural economic and doctrinal elements and these elements are materialized in often very different ways in the world's principal religions. Central to the work's theoretical approaches is the communicative and discursive agency of religious architecture and the multisensory and ritual spaces it provides to create and deliver content. Subsequently, mythical and scriptural foundations and symbols of ecclesiastical and political power are of equal interest to formal organizations of thresholds, paths, courts, and centers, and celestial and geometric alignments. Moreover, it is equally concerned with the aesthetic, visual, and material cultures and the transcendent realms they were designed to evoke, as it is with the kinesthetic, the dynamic, and multisensory experience of place and the tangible experiences of the body's interactions with architecture.
