Theory And Method In Religious Studies Religion And Reason:

Theory and Method in Religious Studies Frank Whaling, 2012-10-25 This paperback edition contains selected articles from the original clothbound editions of Contemporary Approaches to The Study of Religion Vol I The Humanities Vol II The Social Sciences Religion and Reason 27 28 Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology Perry Schmidt-Leukel, Andreas Nehring, 2016-07-14 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced Classical Approaches to the Study of Religion Jacques Waardenburg, 2017-01-23 Waardenburg s magisterial essay traces the rise and development of the academic study of religion from the mid nineteenth to the mid twentieth century outlining the establishment of the discipline its connections with other fields religion as a subject of research and perspectives on a phenomenological study of religion Futhermore a second part comprises an anthology of texts from 41 scholars whose work was programmatic in the evolution of the academic study of religion Each chapter presents a particular approach theory and method relevant to the study of religion The pieces selected for this volume were taken from the discipline of religious studies as well as from related fields such as anthropology sociology and psychology to name a few Method and Theory in the Study of Religion: Working Papers from Hannover Steffen Führding, 2017-07-03 Since the downfall of the phenomenology of religion as the leading paradigm in the study of religion in the 1960s theoretical and methodological discussions surrounding the nature and identity of the study of religion as an academic discipline have proliferated The essays included in this volume approach these debates from a variety of angles Based on a series of talks held at the University of Hannover over the last few years the essays are intended to be understood as diagnostic works in progress and thus as working papers all of which strive to point out important problems and perspectives in the field of theories and methodology and to draw attention to the future of the discipline Using developments in Hanover as a launch pad the volume forms the basis for further insights into the direction of the study of religion as a discipline at large

Religious Studies, Theology, and the University Linell E. Cady, Delwin Brown, 2002-10-10 This collection explores the highly contested relationship of religious studies and theology and the place of each if any in secular institutions of higher education The founding narrative of religious studies with its sharp distinction between teaching religion and teaching about religion grows less compelling in the face of globalization and the erosion of modernism These essays take up the challenge of thinking through the identity and borders of religious studies and theology for our time Reflecting a broad range of positions the authors explore the religious secular conceptual landscape that has dominated the modern West and in the process address the revision of the academic study of religion and theology now underway International Handbook of

Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity

Philosophy and the Study of Religions Kevin Schilbrack, 2014-03-03 Philosophy and the Study of Religions A Manifesto advocates a radical transformation of the discipline from its current narrow focus on questions of God to a fully global form of critical reflection on religions in all their variety and dimensions Opens the discipline of philosophy of religion to the religious diversity that characterizes the world today Builds bridges between philosophy of religion and the other interpretative and explanatory approaches in the field of religious studies Provides a manifesto for a global approach to the subject that is a practice centred rather than a belief centred activity Gives attention to reflexive critical studies of religion as socially constructed and historically located The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Religion Peter Clarke, 2011-02-04 The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Religion draws on the expertise of an international team of scholars providing both an entry point into the sociological study and understanding of religion and an in depth survey into its changing forms and content in the contemporary world The role and impact of religion and spirituality on the politics culture education and health in the modern world is rigorously discussed and debated The study of the sociology of religion forges interdisciplinary links to explore aspects of continuity and change in the contemporary interface between society and religion Using a combination of theoretical methodological and content led approaches the fifty seven contributors collectively emphasise the complex relationships between religion and aspects of life from scientific research to law ecology to art music to cognitive science crime to institutional health care and more The developing character of religion irreligion and atheism and the impact of religious diversity on social cohesion are explored An overview of current scholarship in the field is provided in each themed chapter with an emphasis on encouraging new thinking and reflection on familiar and emergent themes to stimulate further debate and scholarship The resulting essay collection provides an invaluable resource for research and teaching in this diverse discipline

Mapping the Academic Debate Johannes Duschka, Christoph Kleine, Monika Wohlrab-Sahr, Florian Zemmin, 2024-12-16 This volume maps the international academic debate on secularity It places seminal contributions from within Western academia alongside less well known texts from various parts of the world in several cases this is the first time that they have been translated into English The volume demonstrates that the academic debate on secularity was and is a global debate with contributions from many regions The collected texts relate to each other either directly or indirectly by referring to similar arguments whether reinforcing or criticising them and thus create a discourse When speaking of global secularity we therefore do not insinuate a uniform world secularity resulting from the alleged global diffusion of Western norms ideas and concepts It is rather a web of relations that is constituted via various different references These references are not evenly distributed the development in the West is often the point of reference to which positions from other regions relate to which they connect or from which they distance themselves But the references are not completely unidirectional We also present texts from Europe that underline the multidirectionality of the process even early on Thereby the volume offers the reader the material with which to trace these global exchanges and references

Exploring Methods and Positions Michael Pye, 2013-03-22 These two volumes present Pye's methodological theoretical and field based interests in the study of religions Pye understands the study of religions to be an international enterprise with roots in both European and East Asian culture This relates to his active role in the International Association for the History of Religions IAHR as a former General Secretary and President The work is presented in seven sections which could be used in teaching assignments The first volume begins with a lively introduction on Methodological Strategies followed by East Asian Starting Points a radical attempt to overcome Eurocentrism and Structures and Strategies which tackles globally significant institutional and ideological questions The second volume presents selected strands in the study of religions Comparing and Contrasting is followed by Tradition and Innovation including reference to specific new religions Transplantation and Syncretism is a definitive package on syncretism and includes new materials from South East Asia

Finally Contextual Questions explores wider themes of identity plurality dialogue of religions religious education and peace These show how relevant the study of religions can be when it is distinctly and responsibly defined Moral Theory in Santideva's Siksasamuccaya Barbra R. Clayton,2006-04-07 This book analyses the moral theory of the seventh century Indian Mahayana master Santideva The Learned Practice of Religion in the Modern University Donald Wiebe,2019-11-14 In these essays Donald Wiebe unveils a significant problem in the academic study of religion in colleges and universities in North America and Europe that studies almost always exhibit a religious bias To explore this issue Wiebe looks at the religious and moral agendas behind the study of religion showing that the boundaries between the objective study of religion and religious education as a tool for bettering society have become blurred As a result he argues religious studies departments have fostered an environment where religion has become a learned or scholarly practice rather than the object of academic scrutiny This book provides a critical history of the failure of 20th and 21st century scholars to follow through on the 19th century ideal of an objective scientific study of religious thought and behaviour Although emancipated from direct ecclesiastical control and to some extent from sectarian theologizing Wiebe argues that research and scholarship in the academic department of religious studies has failed to break free from religious constraints He shows that an objective scientific study of religious thought and practice is not only possible but the only appropriate approach to the study of religious phenomena Reasons for Living Marisa Crawford,Graham Rossiter,2006-11-01 Reasons for Living begins by exploring the development and psychological function of meaning identity and spirituality in the lives of young people This exploration can contribute significantly to the professional background of those engaged in the education and care of youth in various contexts The book then focuses on what it means to educate young people in meaning identity and spirituality Implications are considered for three school contexts the spiritual and moral dimension to the general curriculum in public and independent schools religious education in religious schools and state based Religion Studies courses Reasons for Living makes a much needed contribution to the philosophy of education by discussing the links between education and young people s spiritual and moral development It also provides new insights and approaches to values education and religious education Areas of fundamental importance in Australian education have long been held back not only by the gap between theory and practice but also by the very complexities of young people s personal development in contemporary Western Culture Reasons for Living offers a constructive and practical way forward Jesus Imandars and Christ Bhaktas Jonas Adelin Jørgensen,2008 The massive changes of Christianity during the 20th century raise the perennial question about its identity in a new radical form The author addresses the question of identity and asks how globalisation religious pluralism and the polycentric nature of Christianity affect Christian self identification and theological reflection First religious life and theological reflection among believers in Jesus from Muslim and Hindu background in South Asia is presented in two empirical studies Secondly the findings are analysed and interpreted within a broad theoretical framework drawing on models for syncretistic processes from history of religions cultural anthropology and Christian theology Finally the study concludes with a systematic theological perspective on the interreligious hermeneutics underlying the changes of Christianity and discusses how interreligious hermeneutics might inform missiology as well as Christian theologies of religions and how this might challenge our understanding of the church's nature and mission In conclusion it is argued that a global polycentric Christianity can be interpreted as fellowship created by the Spirit and centred on Christ

Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg, 2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourse to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such

Religious Studies and the Goal of Interdisciplinarity Brent Smith, 2019-08-19 This book offers a survey of the development of interdisciplinarity in religious studies within academia and offers ways for it to continue to progress in contemporary universities It examines the use of the term interdisciplinary in the context of the academic study of religion and how it shapes the way scholarly work in this field has developed The text uses two main elements to discuss religious studies as a field Firstly it looks at the history of the development of religious studies in academia as seen through an interdisciplinary critique of the university as an epistemological project It then uses the same interdisciplinary critique to develop a foundation for a 21st century hermeneutic one which uses the classical concepts reprised by that interdisciplinary critique and retools the field for the 21st century Setting out both the objects of religious studies as a subject and the techniques used to employ the study of those objects this book offers an invaluable perspective on the progress of the field It will therefore be of great use to scholars of research methods within religious studies

Methodology in Religious Studies Arvind Sharma, 2012-02-01 Methodology in Religious Studies assesses the impact of women's studies on the various methods employed in studying religion Since its inception in the 1860s the study of religion as an academic discipline has evolved over time ranging from the classically historical to the boldly hermeneutical The women's studies movement has since the 1980s become part and parcel of the intellectual landscape of our times and the study of religion has become increasingly influenced by it What are the implications of this new development for the methodology of religious studies Leading practitioners of psychological theological sociological anthropological phenomenological historical and hermeneutic approaches examine the mutually enriching interface between religious studies and women s studies as they explore the broader issue of the interaction between method and the nature of the subject itself Strategic Place Branding Methodologies and Theory for Tourist Attraction Bayraktar, Ahmet, Uslay, Can, 2016-08-15 Drawing the attention of tourists to different destinations around the world assists in the overall economic health of the targeted region by increasing revenue and attracting investment opportunities as well as increasing cultural awareness of the area s population Strategic Place Branding Methodologies and Theory for Tourist Attraction investigates international perspectives and promotional strategies in the topic area of place branding Highlighting theoretical concepts and marketing techniques being utilized in the endorsement of various destinations regions and cities around the world this publication is a pivotal reference source for researchers practitioners policy makers students and professionals The Question of Methodological Naturalism Jason N. Blum, 2018-09-11 The traditions and institutions that we call religions abound with references to the supernatural ancestral spirits karma the afterlife miracles revelation deities etc How are students of religion to approach the behaviors doctrines and beliefs that refer to such phenomena which by their very nature are supposed to defy the methods of empirical research and the theories of historical scholarship That is the question of methodological naturalism The Question of Methodological Naturalism offers ten thoughtful engagements with that perennial question for the academic study of religion Contributors include established senior scholars and newer voices propounding a range of perspectives resulting in both surprising points of convergence and irreconcilable differences in how our shared discipline should be conceptualized and practiced
