Thinking Maps Write From The Beginning Narrative:

Meeting Standards Through Integrated Curriculum Susan M. Drake, Rebecca Crawford Burns, 2004 If you've ever thought that standards based teaching and required content prevent you from integrating subject areas then here's a book that will change the way you think and alert you to exciting new possibilities in your approach to teaching. Learn how to identify the connections in your standards that provide the basis for interdisciplinary units. Explore all types of integrated curriculum and how they bridge content standards to authentic relevant learning experiences. And understand how to create interdisciplinary units that provide data based evidence of student learning. A planning template and detailed examples of successful integrated curriculums are included to help you implement integrated curriculum in practice. Discover how you can make learning more exciting for students and rewarding for you. Student Successes With Thinking Maps® David N. Hyerle, Larry Alper, 2011-01-28 This new edition presents eight powerful visual models that boost all learners' metacognitive and critical thinking skills. HYERLE, LARRY ALPER, Dr Pat Wolfe renowned educator and expert in the practical applications of cognitive neurosciences offers this opening in her concise Forward to this book about the wide ranging uses of Thinking Maps. Neuroscientists tell us that the brain organizes information in networks and maps the Thinking Maps program takes full advantage of the natural proclivity of the brain to think visually. Student Successes with Thinking Maps presents a language of eight visual tools and framing tools based on fundamental cognitive processes of the human brain and mind that boost all learners' metacognitive and critical thinking skills. The first chapter by Thinking Maps creator David Hyerle Ed D is a comprehensive introduction to the theory, history, research and results from the systematic implementation of Thinking Maps over time. This book is rich in detail and inspiration from teachers, principals and administrators from around the world and across diverse schools and systems. The wide ranging stories and supporting data across the 19 chapters weave together to create a unified theme of Thinking Maps as a transformational language for learning. From the authors of these chapters you will learn about school wide changes in teachers' effectiveness and student performance in an inner city elementary school in Long Beach, California where 85% of the students entering classrooms speak Spanish as their first language; students with special needs in a middle school in North Carolina making performance leaps of over three years growth in mathematics; girls from a single sex independent K-12 school in New Zealand rising over four years to the top of that nation's educational ladder; and entering junior college students in Mississippi significantly shifting reading comprehension scores while those in the nursing program dramatically outperform their peers of previous years. You will also hear about the Pass Christian School District landfall for Hurricane Katrina rising over the years to become the top performing school system in Louisiana. The authors of the chapters before you bring forth insights grounded
