Petroleum Register, 1923 Proceedings of the ... Annual Meeting of the National University Extension Association National University Extension Association. Meeting, 1951 Broadcasting, Telecasting, 1953 Television and the Quality of Life Robert Kubey, Mihalyi Csikszentmihalyi, 2013-12-02 Employing a unique research methodology that enables people to report on their normal activities as they occur the authors examine how people actually use and experience television and how television viewing both contributes to and detracts from the quality of everyday life Studied within the natural context of everyday living and drawing comparisons between television viewing and a variety of other daily activities and leisure pursuits this unusual book explores whether television is a boon or a detriment to family life how people feel and think before during and after television viewing what causes television habits to develop and what causes heavy viewing and what heavy viewing causes in the short and long term Television and the Quality of Life also compares the viewing experience cross nationally using samples from the United States Italy Canada and Germany and then interprets the findings within a broad theoretical and historical framework that considers how information use and daily activity contribute to individual familial societal and cultural development Television and Children Brian R. Clifford, Barrie Gunter, Jill L. McAleer, 1995 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Billboard, 1954-04-17 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Alcohol Advertising and Young People's Drinking B. Gunter, A. Hansen, M. Touri, 2010-10-13 There is widespread and growing concern about the use of alcohol in society especially by young people Although overall volumes of alcohol consumption may be levelling off the occurrences of excessive or binge drinking especially among teenagers and young adults are increasingly commonplace Tackling irresponsible drinking which is linked to other antisocial behaviour and health problems has focused attention on the promotion of alcohol by its producers as an important causal factor This has led to calls for tougher regulation of alcohol marketing including restrictions on where it can occur and the form it is allowed to take Empirical research evidence often emanating from government funded enquiries and endorsed by health lobbies has been cited in support of an allegedly primary role played by advertising in triggering interest in and the onset of alcohol consumption among young people and in encouraging regular and heavy drinking Close examination of this evidence however reveals that the research is not always as cut and dried as it may first appear Methodological weaknesses abound in studies of the purported effects of alcohol advertising and other forms of marketing and the significance specifically of advertising as an agent that shapes young people's alcohol consumption could be weaker than often thought This book sets out a review and critique of the evidence on alcohol advertising and marketing effects on young people and considers this evidence in relation to codes of advertising and marketing practice American

Television Abroad Kerry Segrave, 2013-04-26 Once the major Hollywood studios got over their loathing of television as an entertainment medium they moved quickly to try to dominate both domestic and international programming In the United States the eight major studios controlled an overwhelming majority of all television programming by the early 1950s Their efforts in foreign markets were not quite so successful but by the 1990s U S distributors controlled about 75 percent of the international television trade Hollywood s efforts in television were often thwarted by governments that recognized the airwaves as a public resource and intervened in varying degrees to keep the studios programing off the air in their countries Still the U S industry found various ways to provide American fare to foreign viewers Even into the 1980s for example some Hollywood shows could be bought by foreign broadcasters for fees as low as 25 per segment Despite these efforts the American studios have never been able to completely dominate foreign airwaves Viewers usually prefer their own domestic fare to that offered by Hollywood This history fully documents the U S television industry s efforts in foreign markets and how it continues to look for new markets Research Paradigms, Television, and Social Behaviour Joy Keiko Asamen, Gordon L. Berry, 1998 Research Paradigms Television Social Behavior is a unique book that is designed to provide an understanding of television research from both the quantitative and qualitative perspectives The volume provides a systematic analysis of the various research paradigms used in the study of television and focuses on the integration of quantitative and qualitative methodologies as a means for understanding the complexities associated with this medium The book is useful for both undergraduate and graduate students because it presents information in a straightforward and engaging style as well as provides concrete step by step examples of how to conduct major research and evaluation projects involving this medium The book is also important for seasoned scholars and researchers as well as professionals in the media industry The Faces of Televisual Media Edward L. Palmer, Brian M. Young, 2003-10-17 This collection offers original state of the art contributions from leading authorities in children s televisual media International researchers from communication and psychology provide readers with ready access to current televisual research trends and policymaking political climate issues pertaining to children This second edition provides a current summary of studies on content viewing patterns comprehension effects and individual differences in instructional and educational programming televisual entertainment and violence programming and televisual advertising to children Editors Edward L Palmer and Brian M Young have structured the volume into three sections examining the faces of television the Teaching instructional educational Face the Violent Face and the Selling advertising Face Chapters within each section identify and focus recurrent themes while integrating them topically into a coherent whole Each area incorporates new technologies and considers their potentials effects and future Subjects featured in the various chapters include cross cultural and historical comparisons with an in depth perspective on the BBC and other European Asian televisual media roots as well as America s formative televisual media roots an examination of key differences between developed and developing countries implications of emerging instructional educational media for children's education addressing both cognitive and multi ethnic aspects and prominent informed challenge to the prevailing popular view that children are unaffected and unharmed by exposure to media violence This volume informs ongoing debates across a broad spectrum of current critical issues and suggests avenues for future research It is pertinent and provocative for the most sophisticated scholar in the field as well as for students in areas of developmental or social psychology communication education sociology marketing broadcasting and film public policy advertising and medicine pediatrics It is also appropriate for courses in children media and society Research in Media Promotion Susan Tyler Eastman,2000-08 This collection presents current research and theory in media promotion and explores future directions For students scholars and researchers in media promotion media marketing media advertising theory and broadcasting Broadcasting, Combined with Broadcast Advertising ,1959-02 The Psychology of Television John Condry,2017-10-03 This volume addresses the content of television both programs and advertisements and the psychological effects of the content on the audience The author not only reports new research but explains its practical applications without jargon Issues are discussed and described in terms of psychological mechanisms and causal routes of influence While primarily referring to the American television industry and American governmental regulations the psychological principles discussed are applicable to television viewers world wide Television George Comstock, Erica Scharrer,1999-04-15 Television What's On Who's Watching and What It Means presents a comprehensive examination of the role of television in one's life The emphasis is on data collected over the past two decades pointing to an increasing and in some instances a surprising influence of the medium Television is not only watched but its messages are attended to and well understood There is no shame in spending hours in front of the set in fact people over estimate the time they spend viewing Television advertising no longer persuades it sells by creating a burst of emotional liking for the commercial The emphases of television news determine not only what voters think about but also the presidential candidate they expect to support on election day Children and teenagers who watch a great deal of television perform poorly on standardized achievement tests and among the reasons are the usurpation of time spent learning to read and the discouragement of book reading Television violence frightens some children and excites others but its foremost effect is to increase aggressive behavior that sometimes spills over into seriously harmful antisocial behavior Incorporates social psychology political science sociology child development and the growing field of communications Presents tables and graphs clarifying theories and linking sets of data Paints concise portraits of the role of television in entertainment politics and child rearing Contains background for dozens of lectures and articles Contains a comprehensive bibliography of more than 1000 citations many recent Proceedings of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers ,1927 Vols for 1887 1946 include the preprint pages of the institute's Transactions Journal of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers American Institute of Electrical Engineers,1927 Includes preprints of Transactions of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers ISSN 0096 3860 Digital

Discussions Natalie Jomini Stroud, Shannon McGregor, 2018-11-09 Big data raise major research possibilities for political communication scholars who are interested in how citizens elites and journalists interact With the availability of social media data academics can observe on a large scale how people talk about politics The opportunity to study political discussions is also available to media organizations and political elites examining how they make use of big data represents another fruitful scholarly trajectory The scholars involved in Digital Discussions represent forward thinkers who aim to inform the study of political communication by analyzing the behavior of and messages left by citizens elites and journalists in digital spaces By using a variety of methodological approaches and bringing together diverse theoretical perspectives this group sheds light on how big data can inform political communication research It is critical reading for those studying and working in communication studies with a focus on big data
