Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Gowanlock, Theresa Delaney, University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 1999 In Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear the accounts of Theresa Delaney and Theresa Gowanlock were made to conform to the literary convention of the Indian captivity narrative Sarah Carter's scholarly introduction provokes a careful reconsideration of the text Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Delaney, 2018 Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear by Theresa Delaney is a rare manuscript the original residing in some of the great libraries of the world This book is a reproduction of that original typed out and formatted to perfection allowing new generations to enjoy the work Publishers of the Valley's mission is to bring long out of print manuscripts back to life Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Gowanlock, 2008-09-01 Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear the Life and Adventures of Theresa Gowanlock and Theresa Delaney Theresa Gowanlock, 2012-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Gowanlock, 2003-01-01

Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Gowanlock, 1976 Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear; The life and adventures of Theresa Gowanlock and Theresa Delaney Theresa Delaney, Theresa Gowanlock, 2025-08-15 Reproduction of the original The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear (Esprios Classics) Theresa Gowanlock, 2021-05-25 It is not the desire of the author of this work to publish the incidents which drenched a peaceful and prosperous settlement in blood and subjected the survivors to untold suffering and privations at the hands of savages in order to gratify a morbid craving for notoriety During all my perils and wanderings amid the snow and ice of that trackless prairie the hope that nerved me to struggle on was that if rescued I might within the sacred precincts of the paternal hearth seek seclusion where loving hands would help me to bear the burden of my sorrow and try to make me forget at times if they could not completely efface from my memory the frightful scenes enacted around that prairie hamlet which bereft me of my loved one leaving my heart and fireside desolate for ever Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear Theresa Delaney, Theresa Gowanlock, 2019-12-05 Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear offers an intimate glimpse into the rich tapestry of experiences within the infamous Northwest Rebellion of 1885 With a striking blend of narrative journalism personal anecdotes and cultural reflections this collection captures the diverse voices and stories surrounding the indigenous led resistance against colonial forces in Canada Each piece in the anthology sheds light on the complexities of identity conflict and survival painting a vivid picture of a moment in history that resonates with contemporary discussions on indigenous rights and colonial legacies Curated by Theresa Delaney and Theresa Gowanlock the anthology brings together an array of perspectives drawing from historical documents personal letters and oral traditions Delaney and Gowanlock s work is emblematic of the late 19th century movement to document and share the often overlooked narratives of indigenous communities Their contributions alongside those of other authors weave a compelling narrative that slowly uncovers the interconnectedness of disparate voices from indigenous leaders to settlers creating a dialogue that is as timely as it is enlightening Recommended for scholars and lay readers alike Two Months in the Camp of Big Bear serves as a pivotal educational resource It invites reflection on a historical period that is still relevant today fostering a dialogue among its varied narratives This collection is not only a documentation but a vital engagement with the past providing invaluable insights into the dynamics of cultural exchange and resistance making it a must read for those interested in history culture and the enduring impact of colonialism

Lens of Power Kerstin Knopf,2008 This is the first book that comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers two films that contextualize the oral tradition three short films and four dramatic films The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism Indigenous studies and film studies As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self controlled images of Indigenous cultures The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking adapt to it or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction to Western ethnographic filmmaking and to classical narrative filmmaking and its epitome the Hollywood narrative cinema The films analyzed are The Road Allowance People by Maria Campbell Itam Hakim Hopiit by Victor Masayesva Talker by Lloyd Martell Tenacity and Smoke Signals by Chris Eyre Overweight With Crooked Teeth and Honey Moccasin by Shelley Niro Big Bear by Gil Cardinal and Atanarjuat The Fast Runner by Zacharias Kunuk
