Wang in Love and Bondage Wang Xiaobo, 2008-06-05 The first English translation of work by Wang Xiaobo one of the most important writers of twentieth century China Wang in Love and Bondage Wang Xiaobo, 2007-03-08 The first English translation of work by Wang Xiaobo one of the most important writers of twentieth century China A Novel Approach to China Gengsong Gao, 2022-01-03 This book explores Chinese novelists distinctive contributions to the China debate in terms of the key issues of Chinese language power dynamics and Confucian tradition As China is rising Chinese scholars and policymakers are debating heatedly over China's past present and future Who are the major debaters How do they analyze China's problems and figure out solutions What are the main achievements and weaknesses of the Chinese intellectual debate and discourse Chinese novelists also get involved in the China debate However their voices are rarely heard This book argues that by dramatizing the diversities of ordinary social actors everyday languages active discursive practices and enchanted local traditions Chinese novelists do not merely illustrate the dominant liberal the New Left and the New Confucian ideologies but enrich the China debate and provide a novel approach to our understanding of modern China

Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities Vivienne Lo, Chris Berry, Guo Liping, 2019-12-06 Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities is the first book to reflect on the power of film in representing medical and health discourse in China in both the past and the present as well as in shaping its future Drawing on both feature and documentary films from mainland China the chapters each engage with the field of medicine through the visual arts They cover themes such as the history of doctors and their concepts of disease and therapies understanding the patient experience of illness and death and establishing empathy and compassion in medical practice as well as the HIV AIDs epidemic during the 1980s and 90s and changing attitudes towards disability Inherently interdisciplinary in nature the contributors therefore provide different perspectives from the fields of history psychiatry film studies anthropology linguistics public health and occupational therapy as they relate to China and people who identify as Chinese Their combined approaches are united by a passion for improving the cross cultural understanding of the body and ultimately healthcare itself A key resource for educators in the Medical Humanities this book will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese Studies and Film Studies as well as global health medical anthropology and medical history From Ah Q to Lei Feng Wendy Larson, 2008-10-16 When Freudian sexual theory hit China in the early 20th century it ran up against competing models of the mind from both Chinese tradition and the new revolutionary culture Chinese theorists of the mind both traditional intellectuals and revolutionary psychologists steadily put forward the anti Freud a mind shaped not by deep interiority that must be excavated by professionals but shaped instead by social and cultural interactions Chinese novelists and film directors understood this focus and its relationship to Mao's revolutionary ethos and much of the literature of twentieth century China reflects the spiritual qualities of the revolutionary mind From Ah Q to Lei Feng investigates the continual clash of these contrasting models of the mind provided by Freud and revolutionary Chinese culture and explores how writers and filmmakers negotiated with the implications of each model

Memory, Fluid Identity, and the Politics of Remembering Li Li, 2016-06-21 The Chinese Cultural Revolution is the single most important internal social event in contemporary Chinese history The plethora of history literary and artistic representations inspired by this event are critical to our understanding of the diversified often contested interpretations of contemporary China Li Li's critical examination of autobiographic filmic and fictional presentations in Memory Fluid Identity and the Politics of Remembering The Representations of the Chinese Cultural Revolution in English speaking Countries demonstrates that memory works not only reflect memories of those who lived through that period but memories about their past and more importantly about their identity remapping and artistic negotiation in a cross cultural environment
