Degrowth and Tourism C. Michael Hall,Linda Lundmark,Jundan Jasmine Zhang,2020-12-29 The sustainability of tourism is increasingly under question given the challenges of overtourism COVID 19 and the contribution of tourism to climate and environmental change Degrowth and Tourism provides an original response to the central problem of growth in tourism an imperative that has been intrinsic within tourism practice and directs the reader to rethink the impacts of tourism and possible alternatives beyond the sustainable growth discourse Using a multi scaled approach to investigate degrowth s macro effects and micro indications in tourism this book frames degrowth in tourism in terms of business destination and policy initiatives It uses a combination of empirical research case studies and theory to offer new perspectives and approaches to analyse issues related to overtourism COVID 19 small scale tourism operations and entrepreneurship mobility and climate change in tourism Interdisciplinary chapters provide studies on animal based tourism nature based tourism domestic tourism developing community centric tourism and many other areas within the paradigm of degrowth This book offers significant insight on both the implications of degrowth paradigm in tourism studies and practices as well as tourism s potential contributions to the degrowth paradigm and will be essential reading for all those interested in sustainable tourism and transformations through tourism

New Research Paradigms in Tourism Geography Alan A. Lew, 2017-10-02 This collection of papers from Tourism Geographies emphasizes new and emerging research paradigms in the geographic study of tourism The papers included in this collection follow one of two threads explicitly supporting specific research frameworks or implicitly presenting new and emerging theoretical perspectives through empirical research on the geographical topics These begin with three overview papers from themes that emerged from recent annual meetings of the Association of American Geographers including evolutionary economic geography EEG political ecology and community resilience Each of these theoretical and conceptual frameworks is leading to new explorations and insights in a wide variety of geographical and social science research including tourism studies These are followed by a series of papers that extend our knowledge and thinking on a range of key geographical topics including development and underdevelopment by Saarinen Rogerson sustainable tourism planning by Torres Delgado Saarinen encounters with the natural environment by Hill and the geography of place names by Light as well as economic geography and new technologies and their applications to spatial behavior research The papers in this special issue are especially relevant to tourism scholars and very much represent the types of perspectives that Tourism Geographies seek to promote This book was published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies
