Toward A Theology Of The Body:

Toward a Theology of the Body Mary Timothy Prokes, 1996 The term Body Theology is rooted in the core mysteries of the Christian faith but has only recently become familiar Prokes traces the major reasons for enduring ambivalence and misunderstanding regarding the body and probes the profound meaning and vocation of embodiment found in Christian revelation and tradition It is in this light that significant questions concerning sexuality prayer work and Christianity are explored

God, Freedom, and the Body of Christ Alexander J. D. Irving, 2020-10-13 A contribution to the end of the Church knowing itself as the body of Christ Irving articulates a theology of the Church as that which participates in all that Jesus is in his vicarious humanity by the power of the Spirit This is developed through a dialogical or covenantal frame that has its focal point in Christ in whom the faithful love of God toward creation and the faithful love of creation toward God is actualized The Church as the body of Christ participates in the mediatorial work of Jesus Christ Each chapter explores a different element of this participatory ecclesiology This book offers a constructive ecclesiology built from the ground up on the foundation of a dialogical perspective which has participation in Christ as its controlling center This foundation provides the basis upon which an exhilarating vision of the Church can be built to encourage Christians to cherish the Church as the body of Christ which participates in the triune communion through being included into the Son by the power of the Spirit and comes to reflect the triune God in its own structures

Toward Afrodiasporic and Afrofuturist Philosophies of Religion Jon Ivan Gill, 2022-04-14 Based on the categories of mainstream philosophy of religion we must ask the question if said categories are adequate to describe the conceptual frameworks of traditions not philosophically dependent on Western theistic understandings such as religious traditions and philosophies of life emerging from the continent of Africa and appearing in the United States the Caribbean North Central and South America and Europe This book host students from Pomona College and Pitzer College Claremont Colleges Claremont California who have analyzed the field of philosophy of religion as it stands to determine which of its insights can be applied to Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist notions of religion and which ones cannot Their reflections in these chapters will ask how do we define Afro diasporic religion what would a robust philosophy of religion of Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist religions draw from what categories would should it contain how would we construct such a non Western methodology of philosophy of religion and what sources would we use to construct such a philosophy of religion In an attempt to aesthetically experience what Afro diasporic and Afrofuturist philosophies of religion are could be the text will rely heavily on fiction novels poetry music movies and texts written by Afro diasporic people from various social locations and perspectives on some African notions of religion among other centers of reflection

Body and Identity Angela Franks, 2025-08-15 Angela Franks provides a sweeping intellectual history of identity particularly in terms of how identity relates to the body with an emphasis on the importance of Christianity to this understanding Modern questions about our bodies and how we see ourselves are often complex and problematic To better answer these contemporary questions and navigate identity politics Angela Franks seeks to provide a better understanding of identity She begins by giving three basic meanings of the term identity through time the true or authentic self and our awareness of ourselves She engages with thinkers from antiquity to present day and investigates the decisive developments that Christianity provided Within Christianity came a new awareness of the distinctive individuality of each person the true self called by God in a way that often breaks away from the solid or fixed structures of identity formation such as family class and nation This more liquid idea of identity continues to evolve in modern times though without its theistic emphasis on God's call The result is a purely liquid self that consists of consciousness and activity but without a grounded self that is either the object or the subject of consciousness This is the empty self we have today one that is given much more to do and less to be A comprehensive history of identity Body and Identity brings the theological history of the self to the forefront in order to address the empty self and how identity is defined today Towards an Adventist Version of Communion Ecclesiology Tihomir Lazić, 2019-11-13 This book explores how Seventh day Adventists like other Christians can benefit from generating their own version of communion ecclesiology It starts by offering a critical analysis of the status quo of the existing Adventist portrayal of church as remnant and suggests potential ways of moving this tradition forward To articulate a more rounded and comprehensive vision of the church's rich and multifaceted relational nature this book draws on the mainstream Christian koinonia based framework Consequently it provides possible solutions to some of the most divisive ecclesial issues that Christian communities face today regarding church structure ministry mission communal interpretation and reform As it sets on a new footing the conversation between Adventism and other mainstream Christian traditions the methodology of this book serves as a pathway for any Christian community to use when revisiting and enhancing its own current theologies of the church Toward a Theology of Healing II James N. Studer, 1986 Toward a Micro-Political Theology Yin-An Chen, 2022-09-14 Has liberation theology reached a dead end Has the time come to propose another strategy of political resistance one that considers and takes account of the complexity of power relationships in daily life How can we explore the deeper meaning of freedom and liberation This book begins with a reflection on the failure of social movements and revolutions and a review of the methodologies of liberation theologies Offering a brand new micro political theology it attempts to demonstrate how Michel Foucault can help us recognize the limitations of our standard definitions of liberation Continuing Foucault's critical engagement with desire sexuality and the body this book opens a fresh dialogue between Althusser's indecent theology Latin American liberation theology and radical orthodoxy leading to an exploration of how that dialogue can remind us that spirituality and the transformative practice of the self can themselves be fully political It also urges prayer as both the radical root of political resistance and its action The Mystery of Marriage: A Theology of the Body and the Sacrament Perry J. Cahall, 2014-12-01 This remarkable study offers a comprehensive explanation of the Catholic Church's teaching on the sacrament of marriage Incorporating the rich insights found in St John Paul II's Theology of the Body Dr Cahall presents a theology of marriage that incorporates the biblical systematic pastoral and historical traditions which have shaped our understanding of this sacrament Controversies in Body Theology Marcella Althaus-Reid, Lisa Isherwood, 2008 Examines some of the most extreme approaches to the body that our society engages with This book embraces the difficult and challenging areas of the body and society as an embodied resource for the ever expanding task of considering the nature of incarnation through the lens of body theology Woman as Prophet in the Home and the World R. Mary Hayden Lemmons, 2016-09-15 This first ever interdisciplinary study of woman as prophet shows that in these troubling times ordinary women especially Christian women need to function as prophets by proclaiming in word and deed the indispensability of lovingly seeking the welfare of others More specifically social science shows that the person centered love prophesied by women prophets is able to meet interpersonal challenges within the home and world while philosophy and theology establish that women are able to excel as prophets due to the virtuous dispositions inculcated by femininity the choice to be caring a God centered spirituality and a pro life humanitarian personalist feminism that welcomes male collaborators Facilitating the ability of Christian women to prophesy love are Baptismal graces Thomistic virtues and a much needed prophetic Marian ecclesiology based on what John Paul II calls the prophetism of femininity These interdisciplinary findings provide an essential resource for educators and students of humanity the theology of women and evangelization These findings emerge first from an investigation into the cognitive and ontological underpinnings of what John Paul II called the feminine genius A second set of findings emerges from exploring the prophetic dimensions of the feminine genius secular feminism s need to adopt the insights of Christianity and the ability of femininity s prophetism to recast both femininity and feminism as Marian prophecies A third set of findings arises from analyzing the spirituality of women prophets within the Christian tradition by considering the conditions necessary for prophesying explicating requisite Thomistic virtues and delving into the spirituality of Hildegard Catherine of Siena Julian of Norwich and Teresa of Avila A fourth set of findings arises from innovative studies of polarization secularization lust romantic love the conditions whereby mothers with careers can flourish and the ability of nuns to combat racism in a small Midwestern town Overall these interdisciplinary investigations explicate the theology of women and show that women who prophesy love either in the order of grace or nature can help heal lives families and culture
