Transforming Traditional Agriculture Theodore William Schultz, 1964 Transforming traditional agriculture Theodore William Schultz, 1967 Asian Development William E. James, Seiji Naya, Gerald M. Meier, 1989 While the world's attention has been focused on the spectacular economic success of Japan and Korea the less developed countries of Asia have often been neglected Asian Development closes the gap In nontechnical style and with minimal mathematics it presents an in depth perspective on the economic development of fourteen countries in East Southeast and South Asia Asian Development is mainly a story of success Though some problems remain Asian countries have shown remarkable resilience in responding to sharp changes in the international economy oil shocks world recession and inflation exchange rate and interest rate fluctuations and rapid technological change The authors conclude that their ability to adjust to changing external conditions is closely related to intelligent governmental policies Looking back they comment In the past growth of the United States and Japan pulled up the growth rates of the smaller economies in the region Looking forward they predict In the future increasingly it will be the growth of the Asian developing countries that acts as a catalyst to growth in the more advanced economies Investing in People Theodore W. Schultz, Theodore William Schultz, 1982-01-01 Argues that healthy educated people are the world's most important resource and that the world's poor have not been adequately helped by foreign aid because of the misunderstandings of donor governments Technological Transformation of Agriculture: A Study of Assam M. P. Bezbaruah, 1994 The Process of Economic Development James M. Cypher, James L. Dietz, 2004 This textbook includes discussions of such topics as the environment the debt case export led industrialization import substitution industrialization growth theory and technological capability Economic Transformation in Theory and Practice: What are the Messages for Africa? Clemens Breisinger and Xinshen Diao, 2008 The Oxford Handbook of Structural Transformation Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2019 This Oxford Handbook provides a critical assessment of the history patterns and strategies of economic transformation It deals with major themes including policy issues illuminating country experiences and important debates on the respective roles of the market and the state Chinese Economic Development Yinxing Hong, Ninghua Sun, 2021-07-08 The book provides a meticulous analysis of economic development and concomitant problems in China since the late 1970s and advances suggestions on further economic modernisation and transition from both theoretical and practical angles Based on theories from development economics and solid empirical studies the authors two renowned Chinese economists provide a perceptive analysis of the Chinese development model in the post Mao era They shed light on questions that have perplexed many How can China sustain the rapid growth of the past 40 years Is there a unique China path to economic progress They argue compellingly that China's development model has to switch from a manufacturing driven one to a brand new approach centring on scientific and technical innovation and the integration of its existing economic structure into an increasingly complex global economy Such transformation will help overcome the middle income trap while addressing other institutional and economic challenges The book will appeal to students scholars and policymakers interested in the Chinese and global economies as well as transnational studies in the post COVID 19 world General readers willing to obtain a grasp of Chinese economic development from the insider s perspective will also find it useful
